U. S. MARTS DELUGED BY ORDERS

Stocks, Commodities Resume Forward Race

NEW YORK, May 1.—(AP.)—Heavy buying and voluminous profit-taking swamped security and commodity markets today.

Speculative pulses in Wall street and other financial centers of the country again lifted their beats as the dollar took a fresh tumble against foreign currencies.

Stocks, racing higher at a strenuous opening, reacted later when traders rushed to take profits, pushed upward anew around noon as strong support was put behind rail shares and then met further realizing, which roughly halved extreme advances of $1 to $4.

Cotton's rise of around $2 a bale was likewise cut in two, while wheat, which had been up as much as a cent a bushel, reduced its gains substantially. Trading in all markets was at a furious pace. Rubber, sugar and silver, among other commodities, were strong.

On the Stock Exchange, United States Steel common climbed to $49.50, where it was up $2.87, then dropped to about $48. Santa Fe Railway spurted to $54, up $4.25, before reducing its gain. Southern Pacific, very active, advanced more than $2 to nearly $22 a share, while Union Pacific jumped $4 to $80. American Telephone's hovered around $102 for a rise of about $2.

Stocks in the so-called commodity groups, such as sugars and metals, were somewhat less exuberant than last Saturday when the entire market surged upward.

Half-Billion Relief Voted By Senate

WASHINGTON, May 1.—(AP.)—The $500,000,000 bill for direct relief grants to states was passed today by the Senate and now returns to the House for action on minor amendments.

Senators Wagner (Dem.), of New York, La Follette (Rep.), of Wisconsin, and Costigan (Dem.), of Colorado, had appealed to senators to speed the bill as relief funds were almost exhausted.

Before final passage, the Senate agreed to an amendment that, subject to regulations prescribed by the President, the federal relief agency could assume administration of relief in a state to permit more efficient operation.

Walker, Bride Give Toys to Orphans

VICHY, France, May 1.—(AP.)—Former Mayor James J. Walker, of New York, and Mrs. Walker, formerly Betty Compton, have made a hit with the orphans in Vichy Hospital.

On their second visit with the orphans yesterday, the honeymooning couple distributed toys.

Davis Trial Set June 12 Despite Plea He May Die

NEW YORK, May 1.—(AP.)—Trial of Senator James J. Davis, of Pennsylvania, on an indictment charging he caused interstate shipment of lottery tickets in connection with a Loyal Order of Moose prize distribution, was set down for June 12 by Federal Judge Henry W. Goddard today.

The cases against Theodore G. Miller and Raymond Walsh, also under similar indictments, was set down for the same date.

Charles H. Tuttle and Joseph E. Davies, of Washington, urged a longer postponement of the trial. Tuttle presented affidavits from Dr. John W. Shirer, of Pittsburgh, and Dr. W. G. Klugh, of Hot Springs, Ark., certifying that Davis was suffering from a complication of chronic ailments and had not yet recovered from the attack of appendicitis which resulted in an operation some weeks ago.

Davies made a personal plea for his client. He said:

"Senator Davis is a very sick man. We have his physicians' word for it that if he had not been operated on within an hour following discovery that he was suffering from appendicitis his death would have resulted from septic poisoning. Then he has diabetes, inflammation of the kidneys, gall stones, asthma, ulcers, heart trouble and has lost 20 pounds within the last few weeks. The doctors say that there is danger of his dropping dead if unduly excited."

Judge Goddard remarked that there was nothing in the affidavits to indicate the Senator's condition would be better two months from now, than at the end of one month.

PINCHOT SEEKS OMNIBUS BILL

BULLETIN.

HARRISBURG, May 1.—Senator William D. Mansfield today will propose a beer tax of $2.48 per barrel, instead of $1.24, as carried in a bill now on passage in the Senate, to relieve bank depositors of the necessity of paying the four-mill tax on interest bearing accounts.

HARRISBURG, May 1.—Gov. Gifford Pinchot today will confer with legislative leaders in an effort to compel substitution of an omnibus hospital appropriation bill for the individual measures so far passed.

Senator Harry B. Scott and Representative Joseph G. Steedle, chairman of the Appropriations Committees of Senate and House, will have the final say in this situation. They are to be asked to get behind the omnibus bill already introduced by Steedle, but held back while separate measures were run through both branches, thus giving members the opportunity to demonstrate

MAUG BREAK OUSTS PEN GUARDS

2 'Fooled' by Dummies Suspended; Fugitives Hunted in Panhandle

Two guards at Western Penitentiary have been indefinitely suspended as result of the escape of four convicts, two of whom are still at large, Warden Stanley P. Ashe, announced today.

In counting four dummies as prisoners, the guards made possible the break, Ashe said. He refused to reveal the names of the suspended men. Ashe said:

"The situation at the present time in regard to the escape of four individuals from Western State Penitentiary is as follows:

"The escape was made possible due to the fact that persons responsible for making the count in the cells at 4 p. m., 9 p. m. and 5 a. m. counted four dummies as human beings. Without this error taking place, this particular escape would not have been possible.

"At this time two individuals have been indefinitely suspended. What further action may be taken is not known at this time."

Ashe revealed that a month ago an attempted break by prisoners, not the Maug gang, had been frustrated.

The hunt for the two gangster-killers at liberty, John Maug and Edward Turpack, today reached to Washington, Pa., and Wheeling, W. Va. County detectives learned two men answering the description of the two fugitives had been seen on a Panhandle railroad freight train.

Freddie Prince and Theodore Geisler, the other two convicts in the break, captured 18 hours after their escape early last Thursday, were jailed today. They were charged with escaping from a penal institution and theft of an automobile. The car, belonging to Lawrence Devlin, of 131 Arlington avenue, Mt. Oliver, had been stolen by the bandits to flee the city.

Placed together in a range isolated from the other prisoners, the two spent their first hour playing checkers.

Maug and Turpack escaped police late Saturday when their hideout at Brighton road and North Jackson street was raided. Police said they missed them by two hours.

Fiance's Auto Hits Pole, Girl Injured

Nearing her wedding day, Miss Lillian Guibert, 25, of 223 Gilliland place, Bellevue, was in a serious condition at Suburban General Hospital from injuries suffered when the automobile of her fiance, L. K. McMilan, 24, of 1144 Portland street, struck a pole in Ohio River boulevard yesterday.

'DEVIL SLAYING' TRIAL OPENS

LINDEN, Tex., May 1.—(AP.)—Hundreds of persons filled the Cass County courtroom and overflowed on to the lawn outside today at the opening of the trial of Paul Oakley, itinerant preacher, for the "devil slaying" of Bernice Clayton, 3-year-old invalid.

Elmer L. Lincoln, district attorney, in questioning the first few veniremen, indicated he would seek the death penalty. Defense counsel announced a plea of insanity would be entered for their client.

Oakley entered the courtroom smiling and during the preliminary proceedings sat near his attorneys, gesticulating with his hands and rolling his eyes. With his brother, Coy Oakley, he had been in jail here since Bernice was choked to death in weird rites at her home designed to "drive the devil from her."

Both brothers and Sherman Clayton, the child's father, are charged with murder.

Million in Russ May Day March; Germany Quiet

Associated Press.

May Day, traditionally the occasion for radical demonstrations, was most widely celebrated today in two great dissimilar nations—in Russia, where the communists are all-powerful, and in Germany, where the communists are most hated.

For the most part the United States was quiet.

A million persons, including between 35,000 and 50,000 troops, paraded through Moscow's Red Square, where they were reviewed by the highest officials of the government and of the communist party from the customary reviewing position on the top of the venerated tomb of Lenin.

Foreign observers noted with interest the heaviest military tanks they ever had seen in Russia. After the troops came hundreds of thousands of proletarians and peasants who swarmed through the square singing and shouting.

Chancellor Adolf Hitler changed the German May Day from a radical festival to a great celebration honoring the German workingman and the part he is playing in building up the strongly nationalist state.

In Madrid police fired into the air several times to break up a demonstration by 1,000 communists.

Vienna saw a great military show of strength by the new dictatorial Dollfuss regime. Streets were strung with barbed wire and machine guns were mounted at strategic points.

In Paris extremists for the first time since the war were allowed to hold an open-air May Day assembly.

In Tokio a split in the ranks of labor resulted in a double celebration.

Vote Fraud Jury Headed by Pastor

The Rev. R. W. Doty, of Grace Lutheran Church, Butler, Pa., was made foreman of the federal grand jury today when it convened for the May term of court.

District Attorney Louis E. Graham said the alleged election frauds in the Thirtieth and Thirty-first Congressional Districts will be started after Wednesday.

PERU MOURNS SLAIN CHIEF

LIMA, Peru, May 1.—(AP.)—Peru was under a state of siege today as national mourning was decreed for President Luis M. Sanchez Cerro, who was assassinated by a revolutionary yesterday as he was accepting the plaudits of the public at an army review.

Gen. Oscar Benavides assumed his duties as head of the state, having been chosen as permanent President by the Constituent Assembly.

President Sanchez Cerro was killed by Abelardo Hurtado de Mendoza, who was immediately slain by guards. Two soldiers were killed and six soldiers and two civilians—one of them a woman—injured in a riotous outbreak immediately after the assassination.

100 Communists March in Capital

WASHINGTON, May 1.—(AP.)—May Day was marked in Washington by a Communist-organized parade in which 100 men, women and children took part.

The paraders shouted demands for unemployment relief, race equality and liberation of the Scottsboro case defendants, marched a mile under heavy police escort, without untoward incident. Thirty-five of the marchers were women and almost as many children.

CHICAGO, May 1.—(AP.) bombs of terrific force, fire most simultaneously, blast the 1933 May Day in Chicag day with a crescendo of f masonry and shattering gla five huge industrial establishme in or near the Loop.

Police set out to round up ever known Communist, direct actionis and anarchist in the city. Th arrested five youths within a hours.

The bombs roared forth as pre-arrangement, shortly a 2:30 a. m. Damage was estimat at $150,000. Thousands of wi dows were shattered and gues in downtown hotels were startle from their beds.

WINDOWS SHATTERED

Plate glass windows were shattered as far as five blocks fro the building of the Illinois B Telephone Company, where th most damage, estimated at $50,000, was caused.

City officers generally believe radicals set off the bombs, Lieut. Mike Mills, investigato radicalism for the police dep ment, was not of that belief, said:

"From my close contac radicals, I do not believ were responsible. I believ was another motive."

Officials of Sprague, Grocery Company, also dam said they believed organizat protesting the food supplied the firm for unemployment reli might have been responsible.

UNDERWORLD WARFARE

Authorities also considered reports of underworld warfare over control of labor unions as a possible cause. One of the other places damaged was the Willett Bus and Teaming Company, where hundreds of teamsters are employed.

The other two establishments damaged were the Hibbard-Spencer-Bartlett Hardware Company and the Stratford Building, three floors of which are occupied by shops of Marshall Field & Co. as a factory. A watchman was injured.

The Mayor, the State's Attorney and police officials pledged immediate action and the matter was placed on the docket of the County grand jury convening today.

Denny Asks 15 More Sleuths

Public Safety Director Harmar D. Denny, Jr., today sent to Council an ordinance for 15 additional detectives, making a total of 45.

Denny, in a letter accompanying the measure, said the work of the detective bureau was so great he had been compelled to take uniformed patrolmen from beats and put them in plain clothes.

No payroll increase would be entailed, he stated, indicating the detectives, if authorized, would be taken from police ranks.

Schwabs, Wed 50 Years, Celebrate in New York

NEW YORK, May 1.—(AP.)—Charles M. Schwab, 71-year-old steel magnate, and Mrs. Schwab observed today their golden wedding anniversary. They were married May 1, 1883, in Braddock, Pa.

They plan a reception in their Riverside drive mansion tonight. Schwab, chairman of the Bethlehem Steel Corporation, expected to go to his office as usual, as he did on his seventy-first birthday, February 18.

Mrs. Schwab was formerly Miss Emma E. Dinkey, daughter of Reuben Dinkey, the first steel works chemist in the United States. At the time of their marriage, Schwab was connected with the Braddock works of the Carnegie Steel Company, and established a laboratory in his home to experiment in the chemistry of steel. Mrs. Schwab, it is said, often helped him during his work in the evenings.

Schwab said in an interview:

"Those days were real and splendid."

Last night at an organ recital in the Schwab home, specially chosen numbers were played in honor of the couple.

CRESSON, Pa., May 1.—(AP.)—Charles M. Schwab's home town joined with him and Mrs. Schwab today in observance of the couple's wedding anniversary, recalling that he started his career driving a stage coach between Cresson and Loretto, Pa.

Gov. Pinchot was called upon to investigate reports of sweat shops and child labor conditions in a resolution adopted today by the Pittsburgh Preachers' Meeting of the Methodist Episcopal Church.

These conditions were also criticized by several labor and social organizations in messages to the Legislature.

The League for Social Justice, the Central Labor Union, the Women's Legislative Council and the Pennsylvania Security League joined in the demands. The messages urged that the minimum wage, the 44-hour week for women and the old age bills be reported out of committee.

'Zero Hour' Nearing For Gold Hoarders

Treasury Lists New Regulations for Industrial Use

WASHINGTON, May 1.—(AP.) —Regulations governing the distribution of gold to industries having legitimate uses for it were issued today by the Treasury a few hours before the expiration of the time set for all gold other than small individual sums to be turned in to the government.

Persons needing gold for legitimate purposes may file an application to purchase such quantities as required.

The application must be filed with a Federal Reserve Bank in duplicate, executed under oath and verified before an officer duly authorized to administer oaths.

It must contain the name and address of the applicant, his business, the amount of gold required usually over a period of 90 days, the amount sold or used during the preceding calendar year, the amount and description of all gold on hand, the amount applied for and a statement that the applicant will use such gold as he may be permitted to purchase only for legitimate and customary requirements of his business.

$6,500,000 Worth Of Metal Turned In Here

A total of $6,500,000 of hoarded gold has been returned to the Pittsburgh Branch, Federal Reserve Bank of Cleveland, according to officials. After today, gold hoarders may be prosecuted under the new law prohibiting the possession of more than $100 in gold coin.

Following the first heavy returns in response to President Roosevelt's proclamation, gold returns here dwindled to about $30,000 a day. Officials here believe that almost all hoarded coin in this district has been brought in.

All banks are required to send a list of all persons who withdrew gold before March 27 to the Treasury Department. The Federal Reserve Bank here sent a list of 82 names to Washington, but most of these have since been scratched off as the owners of the gold re-deposited their holdings. Any prosecution for gold hoarding will be directed from Washington.

SNELL DELAYS HOUSE VOTE ON INFLATION

Democrats to Force Ballot Tomorrow On Issue

WASHINGTON, May 1.—(AP.) —Democratic leaders abandoned their efforts to force a vote today in the House on the inflation amendment to the farm relief bill after failing to obtain unanimous consent for a ballot.

Their original plans upset by objections by Representative Snell, of New York, the Republican leader, they turned to preparation of a rule to force a vote tomorrow.

They had expected to instruct the committee of Senators and Representatives that will be named to harmonize differences between the measures passed by the two houses to approve the currency expansion measure and leave only the other amendments to be agreed upon in conference.

Snell demanded that two days of debate be granted on the bill and that the House consider it under the five-minute rule, which would permit amendments. Snell said:

"I can't grant unanimous consent to this far-reaching proposal that changes the fundamental financial structure of the country."

Representative Byrns, of Tennessee, the Democratic leader, reminded Snell that a vote on the inflation amendment could be forced tomorrow under a rule. Snell replied:

"Go get your rule and jam it down our throats."

Byrns said that the House members were informed as to the Senate debate on the inflation proposal. Snell answered:

"Yes, but there is a certain responsibility on every member of this House."

Byrns then sought permission of the House for the Rules Committee to have until 12 o'clock tonight to file a report on a resolution under which the Democrats plan to compel the inflation vote and send the bill to conference.

After several minutes of debate over Byrns' request, Snell finally agreed to it. This will force a vote on inflation in the House tomorrow.

U. S. SEES QUICK WORLD TRUCE ON TARIFFS

Expects Agreement Before Conference In London

WASHINGTON, May 1.—(AP.) —Undersecretary William Phillips, of the State Department, said today the American government is hopeful of agreement on a tariff truce in the period before the World Economic Conference June 12 in London.

The question has not been settled because representatives who met at London Saturday as the organizing committee for the conference lacked authority to commit their governments.

As yet, he said, no official word had been heard from Paris or London as to the attitude of those governments, although press dispatches reported France as agreeable provided imposition of a surtax on imports was allowed in case the dollar should fail.

TARIFF TRUCE

The organizing committee has agreed to send out with the formal invitations to the conference another American proposal which contemplates a tariff truce during the conference itself.

The object is to prevent new obstacles to trade which might hamper the conference in clearing away these obstructions and reviving commerce.

Meanwhile, the arrival today of Argentina's special representative, Thomas Le Breton, marks the opening of the second series of President Roosevelt's world-wide negotiations for an international prosperity.

The Italian envoy, Guido Jung, minister of finance, will reach Washington tomorrow, and before the week is over representatives from Germany and Mexico will be here to take up the conversations so optimistically conducted by the British and Canadian prime ministers and the former Premier of France.

The questions involved will be similar to those world problems explored last week—war debts, exchange restrictions, stable currencies and tariffs, as well as the subject of peace and disarmament.

TARIFF AGREEMENTS

Le Breton, Argentina's ambassador to France, will join Felipe Espil, Argentine envoy here, in conducting the conversations with Mr. Roosevelt and American experts. The possibilities of reciprocal tariff agreements, the betterment of world wheat prices through agreements by the major producing nations and the American quarantine against Argentine meat are some of the special topics to be taken up.

War debts will come to the front again when Jung arrives, the visitor already having given notice he intends to seek revision of Italy's $2,000,000,000 debt to the United States. Jung also has power to negotiate reciprocal trade treaties.

Dr. Hjalmar Schacht, president of the Reichbank, reaches New York from Germany on Friday, with Mexico's minister of finance, Albert J. Pani, arriving here soon afterward. T. V. Soong, Chinese minister of finance, lands in Seattle Tuesday. Also preparing to come before the month of May is over are representatives from Japan, Brazil and Chile.

PRICES REMAIN LOW HERE

The gold embargo and the inflationary powers given President Roosevelt by Congress has had little or no effect on retail prices in the Pittsburgh district as yet.

A slight rise in butter and a few scattered other foods are attributed to seasonal price changes.

Large chain store sales managers claimed their stores were still giving the public the benefit of prices for goods contracted for at lower prices weeks ago. Several independent merchants saw no change in existing price levels, either wholesale or retail.

A report from the United States Department of Agriculture on Pittsburgh produce prices indicated a "soft" market with demand poor and prices unchanged or lower.

Morgan Faces Senate Stock Inquiry

WASHINGTON, May 1.—(AP.) —Ferdinand Pecora, counsel for the Senate Banking Committee, announced today that J. P. Morgan and all other members of the banking firm bearing his name, will be supenaed for resumption of the Senate stock market investigation tentatively fixed for May 23.

After a conference with Chairman Fletcher, Pecora said the committee would begin its open investigation of private banking with the internationally famous house of Morgan and follow with inquiries into Kuhn, Loeb & Co., and Dillon-Read & Co.

He has notified John W. Davis, counsel for the Morgan firm, that Morgan, Thomas W. Lamont, and other partners should be ready to answer subpenas.

SIR JOHN SIMON SERIOUSLY ILL

LONDON, May 1.—(AP.)—Sir John Simon, British Foreign Secretary, was seriously ill today.

He cancelled an engagement to confer with Norman H. Davis, American ambassador-at-large, who last Saturday presented a proposal for a world economic truce, and he was unable to go to the foreign office to be present for the signing of the new Anglo-Argentine trade agreement.

Sir John was suffering from a bad chill. He was in a thoroughly rundown condition, it was said, and had been in bed since Saturday night.

An announcement saying he had cancelled all his engagements today explained that "Sir John is suffering from fatigue."

F. R. TO SUBMIT RAIL VIEWS

WASHINGTON, May 1.—(AP.) —President Roosevelt's message to Congress asking for railroad legislation is expected by Democratic leaders to be submitted tomorrow.

It was disclosed at the White House today, however, that the President has returned the tentative bill to advisors to work out details still in dispute.

The unofficial railroad committee of the President has agreed on the general principles providing for a federal co-ordinator to guide the roads through reorganization in the interests of economy.

Railroad Engineers Favor Six-Hour Day

PHILADELPHIA, May 1.—(AP.) —Eastern representatives of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Firemen and Enginemen favor the principle of the six-hour day for railroad employes—with no reduction in pay.

A resolution endorsing it under such conditions was presented at an executive conference here, followed by an open meeting at Camden, N. J., yesterday.

Machado Troops Set To Combat Invasion

By CLIFFORD GALLOWAY,
International News Service.

HAVANA, May .—President Machado today pressed forward wit mobilization of Federal defens forces to prevent possible invasion of Cuba by revolutionary forces financed in the United States.

Following outbreak of uprisings in Oriente and Camaguey provinces, he cancelled all leaves of army and navy officers an strengthened north coast garrisons against possible expedition from Florida, where rebel element are reported to have been gathering for weeks.

It was feared revolutionary leaders would try to take advantage of possible May Day disorders for attacks, and consequently all labor assemblages were forbidden.

New estimates showed that at least a score of government troops and revolutionists were killed in the fighting in Oriente and Camaguey provinces.

R. I. BALLOTING ON REPEAL

PROVIDENCE, R. I., May 1 The question of repeal of t Eighteenth Amendment came b fore Rhode Island voters toda with repeal advocates a little wary of the results of an intensive campaign by the prohibition group.

The voters were also called upo to decide the fate of a propose $3,000,000 bond issue for fundin unemployment relief costs.

Anti-prohibition leaders were bit superstitious about predicting too sweeping a victory for repeal They said they feared over-confidence and looked askance for the moment on the boast that Rhode Island is the "wettest state in the country."

Others high up in repeal ranks were not so reticent. They expressed confidence that tonigh would find repealists in possession of a good majority of the 31 seats in the convention, May 8.

By AL GOUGH

ALLEGHENY NATIONAL FOREST, Pa., May 1.—A new kind of army, a new kind of conservator—this Citizens Conservation Corps, Pittsburgh's own Forest Army encamped at four strategic points in this vast timberland.

Viewed from the eyes of an A. E. F. sergeant and veteran of bonus, jobless and hunger armies these new recruits might appear a pretty hopeless lot. They don't know "squads east" from "about face," and they care less. But they are sheltered, clothed and eating regularly.

Eight hundred young men left Pittsburgh a few weeks ago for training at Fortress Monroe, Va. They were divided into four companies of approximately 215 men each and sent into the forest with Regular Army officers, who now being replaced with rese officers. Great Garbo Speaks 9 Words to Reporter

Grants 'Interview' On Her Arrival In Hollywood

HOLLYWOOD, Cal., May 1.—(AP.)—Great Garbo has spoken.

For the first time in her enigmatic career, during which she has fashioned about herself the skein of an unfathomable secret, the famous Swedish actress has given a statement to the press.

It was just nine words in length!

"One never knows what time will bring, does one?"

There it was—the voice for which millions had waited years to hear without paying for the musical sound. She spoke in reply to a reporter's question as to how long she would remain in America.

Miss Garbo granted her interview yesterday when she returned from a visit to Europe. The actress appeared nervous when she greeted reporters. She had sought to evade them, for she had asked for the privileges of the port to escape customs and quarantine, but her request was denied.

T. H. Gourley, immigration inspector, said he asked Miss Garbo the usual questions, one of which was whether she planned to become an American citizen. Gourley replied:

"She avoided a direct answer. She said she was unable to say whether she would seek citizenship. She would not say that she did not intend to apply for citizenship."

Miss Garbo was just like any other passenger on the trip, according to Capt. C. O. Holmberg. He said:

"She was the only passenger who was not seasick at all. She wore dungarees, just like any sailor."

On the long trip from Sweden on the Annie Johnson, combination freight and passenger vessel, the actress amused herself by playing shuffleboard with Ture Steen, wealthy 24-year-old Swede, of Paris, who, with his mother, Mrs. Elizabeth Steen, boarded the ship at Antwerp for San Francisco.

Miss Garbo was met at the dock by Mrs. Salka Viertel, wife of a film director, with whom she motored to Hollywood. The actress will begin work in a new picture this month.

LIST OF GIRLS DEATH CLUE

NORRISTOWN, Pa., May 1.—(INS.)—Police today were confronted with conflicting theories in the death of Thomas Merkel, Jr., 19, in whose room they found a notebook with the names and addresses of almost 100 girls.

Merkel was found slumped over the steering wheel of his automobile with a bullet through his right temple and a revolver on the floor of the car.

Police and Coroner R. Ronald Dettre said they believed Merkel committed suicide. Mrs. Harriet Merkel, his mother, insisting her son did not end his life, declared she had learned from friends the boy had been threatened recently.

FLOOD PERILS FORD DAMS

DETROIT, May 1.—(INS.)—Swollen by a storm that did severe damage in upstate counties, the River Rogue was thundering at its dams today, threatening destruction of three Ford Motor Company power plants.

The Ford company called upon the Wayne County Road Commission for help to prevent the river from breaking through Phoenix Lake Dam near Plymouth.

If this dam should yield, Ford officials said, two smaller dams would probably go out with it, wrecking the power units.

7 KNOWN DEAD IN TORNADO

YAZOO CITY, Miss., May 1.—(AP.)—Seven known dead, scores of injured and the ruins of hundreds of homes today marked the path of a week-end tornado which blew up around Lake Village in Southeast Arkansas and leaped the Mississippi River to strike at Yazoo City and Greenville in West Mississippi.

The storm struck first in the plantation country southwest of Lake Village, late Saturday night. D. D. Boyd, 69, was killed as the blast carried his home nearly 200 feet and flattened it. Others of the family were injured and two Negroes were killed in the same vicinity.

It struck again near Jonestown, and then moved on to the edge of Yazoo City, killing three Negroes and injuring many Negroes and whites.

Near Greenville, a Negro woman was killed. National Guardsmen were rushed to supplement relief forces.

Illinois Tornado Razes High School

CHICAGO, May 1.—(INS.)—Wreckage of a tornado's fury fringed Chicago to the westward today after fierce winds battered a high school to pieces, leveled barns and unroofed several buildings. Three persons were injured.

While showers drenched the city the tornado hit Plato Center, wrecking the $70,000 high school there and cutting a swath 300 feet wide.

JACKIE COOPER ON HONEYMOON

Mrs. Mabel Cooper, Jackie's mother, was married to Charles Bigelow, Chicago film executive, Saturday at Yuma's Gretna Green. And Jackie was there, too, for he thinks his new father is a "great guy."

Mr. and Mrs. Bigelow are honeymooning at Palm Springs. They will establish their residence in a new home recently built for them in Beverly Hills.

Mrs. Cooper, Jackie and Bigelow motored to Yuma last Saturday morning for the ceremony. Mrs. Ida Koverman, executive secretary to Louis B. Mayer, was matron of honor. Robert Vignola, director, and several other friends of the couple attended the ceremony.

LOVE ONLY CLUE IN GIRL SLAYING

NORTH ADAMS, Mass., May 1.—(AP.)—State police today joined local forces in an effort to solve the mystery surrounding the slaying of Leah Lloyd Johnston, 18-year-old domestic, but a definite motive still is lacking.

The girl's body, stabbed three times, garroted and with a gag thrust down the throat, was found Saturday in lonely underbrush not far from the highway.

Authorities were working on one theory that a love triangle was responsible. They said the girl had intended to elope with a North Adams man. Another man, whose name police said they did not know, also was injected into the case.

Police said the second man had been paying the girl attention during the last few months. The possibility that the girl met her death after attempting to sever relations with one of the men was under consideration.

A score of young men and women friends of the slain girl have been questioned.

Kidnaper Foiled, Hunted As Strangler of Child

Abduction of Wife, 16, Balked Near Scene Of Girl's Murder

BONNER SPRINGS, Kan., May 1.—(AP.)—The attempted abduction of a 16-year-old girl 12 hours after the body of 6-year-old Nadine Vogel Love had been found, spurred farmers and officers to an intensive hunt of wooded areas near here today.

Searchers expressed the opinion the man who seized Mrs. Nellie Black near a farm home Sunday night might be the kidnaper and slayer of the Kansas City (Kan.) school girl, who disappeared April 20.

The body, with the child's jumping rope knotted about the neck, was in a desolate wood about half a mile from the scene of the attempted abduction of Mrs. Black.

ATTACK INDICATED

A cursory examination by the Wyandotte County Coroner indicated the child had been attacked.

Mrs. Black reported the man seemed to "rise right up beside me." He seized her and ran. Her husband saw her plight and ran to her aid, as did others at the time. The man fled into dense woods.

Three mushroom hunters found the body of the child. Intensive search had been made in and near the girl's home by Boy Scouts, citizens and officers, but no systematic hunt had been carried on in the area north of Bonner Spirngs.

NO CLUES FOUND

Officers, called to the scene, searched minutely for clues, but made no announcement they had discovered any particularly promising lead. William Stone, chief of Kansas City, Kan., police, said search would be renewed for a man reported on the street near the child's home at the time she last was seen, as she came home from school.

At Omaha, Adolph Vogel, father of the child, announced he would demand an exhaustive investigation. Then he left to aid in the search. The child's mother, now Mrs. Carl Love, and Vogel were divorced in 1931.

GIRL VANISHES, LEAVES NOTE

A North Side high school girl, a leader in theatricals and an accomplished gymnast, was missinb today after writing her parents that she was going to New York with friends, according to a report to police.

The girl, Dorothy Hay, 16, of 1800 Meadville street, disappeared Thursday, her parents told the Missing Persons Bureau, after leaving for school.

The letter received by the parents said:

SEARCH VAULT OF BEER BARON

PHILADELPHIA, May 1—(INS.)—Federal Internal Revenue agents today obtained an order from Federal Judge George A. Welsh in United States District Court allowing them to open a safe deposit box in the Farmers National Bank and Trust Company at Reading which Max Hassel, the millionaire beer baron, rented on April 12, the day he and Max Greenberg were slain in a hotel at Elizabeth, N. J.

Immediately after obtaining the order, federal agents left for Reading in a high-powered car to inspect the box and seven others which they have permission to open under another court writ.

Application for the court order today brought to light the fact that Hassel had rented a box on the day he was killed. Because of legal qualifications, Wellington M. Bertolet, conservator for the bank, had refused the agents permission to open the box without a court order.

In the Hassel safe deposit boxes agents hope to find a part of the beer king's missing fortune, possible clues to the killers and clues to the identities of politicians and officials who may have helped Hessel build his beer dynasty.

U.S. RACKET WAR PLANS BEFORE CUMMINGS

By LOUIS SEIBOLD
Universal Service.

WASHINGTON, May 1.—Two plans for putting an end to "invisible government" through racketeering are engaging the attention of Attorney General Cummings and leaders in Congress.

The first plan contemplated would give the Department of Justice authority to negotiate with state governments an agreement to adopt laws modeled to conform to a federal statute.

The objective of the federal government is to close all the local rat holes which now protect racketeers and their killers.

The second plan favors a joint commission composed of three executive officials, including one from the Army, three members of the Senate and House, and legal officials from each of the 48 states.

Features of the new program will include:

1—Limitation of state rights in approaching the racketeer problem.

2—Co-ordination between the federal and state governments in the nature of uniform laws.

3—Putting an end to alliances between corrupt state officials and politicians on the one hand and racketeers on the other.

4—Arousing public sentiment to the full realization that there should be no state rights in the treatment of racketeering.

Treat 'Em Rough! Says Judge in Racket War

NEW YORK, May 1.—(Universal.)—Treat 'em rough!

There is no more excuse for the existence of the racketeer in our social structure than there is for yellow fever, smallpox and other plagues.

Supreme Court Justice Harry E. Lewis, former district attorney, made this statement to Universal Service today. Continuing, he said:

"What patronage is to the life of the political henchman, tribute is to the racketeer. As long as the underworld can form combinations for the purpose of exacting revenue, so long the underworld will continue to flourish."

GERMAN POLICE ADDED TO ARMY

GENEVA, May 1.—(INS.)—By a vote of 12 to 3, the Committee of Effectives of the Disarmament Conference today decided to include in Germany's Army 34,000 armed policeman assigned to barracks, as well as 5,000 cadets in training.

Exclusion of 30,000 other German policemen living at home was voted 11 to 5.

Col. Strong, American expert, voted against inclusion of the cadets as well as policemen living outside barracks, declaring a similar situation exists with regard to state police in the United States.

The committee's action will cause Germany's army tabulated in the draft disarmament convention to be listed at 139,000 men instead of the 100,000 mentioned in the British Arms plan.

Fall in Basement Kills Rankin Man

Nicholas Konich, 41, of Rankin, died yesterday of a fractured skull suffered earlier when he tripped on a rug and fell into a basement, according to a Coroner's report.

CAR AND TRUCK CRASH, 1 DEAD

EATON, O., May 1.—(AP.)—Arthur E. Stephens, 20, son of County Recorder Eugene Stephens, was fatally injured yesterday when an automobile sideswiped a parked truck at West Alexander, near here.

Richard S. Small, another occupant of the automobile, was injured seriously and James Coffman, the driver, suffered minor injuries. The youths were returning to Eaton from Dayton.

The town marshal said the truck was parked without lights and Carl Axson, of Indianapolis, the driver, and Larry Randolph, of Leon, Ia., a companion, were held for a grand jury investigation.

Graf Makes Flight Over German Cities

FRIEDRICHSHAFEN, Germany, May 1.—(AP.)—The dirigible Graf Zeppelin, with 30 passengers aboard and Dr. Hugo Eckener commanding, left for a May Day flight around Germany today. The itinerary includes Berlin.

Crash Ruins Milk, Driver Arreste

See It Today! The New FRIGIDAIRE

That Uses No More Current Than a Lamp Bulb

If you think all electric refrigerators are much alike, you ought to see this new Frigidaire and learn why it's different from any other made.

For one thing, it's more economical. It uses no more current than one ordinary lamp bulb. It saves room in the kitchen, because it has ¼ more food space with smaller outside cabinet dimensions. Other features are automatic defrosting—automatic ice tray releasing—frozen storage space—extra room for tall bottles.

Inside the cabinet is porcelain finished. Outside, sparkling porcelain and artistic chromium hardware give the distinctive style that so many electric refrigerators lack.

It's a real General Motors value—a quality built refrigerator you'll be proud to own and proud to show your friends. Yet it costs only $199. Come in and see it—and learn how easy it is to own one under our easy payment plan.

GIMBELS ANNIVERSARY SALE

It Took Us 19 Years to Prepa This Gimbel Sale!

ST TO SING HER'S MASS

n requiem mass will be ed for Mrs. Ellen J. who died Thursday, by Rev. John O'Reilly, hurch

It couldn't have been done last year. Because prices, low as they were, were higher by a small percentage than in 1914. Even today, few stores in America could duplicate this Anniversary Sale we're holding. For the reason that only a handful have a comparable organization and buying power.

We promised to prove that prices are lower than in 1914, when the store was opened. Thousands of sales checks since the sale began say that we have done it. But the sale is only begun. It lasts all May. More evidence like this below will be presented every day.

Will there be further inflation? Frankly, we think so, and 19 years is a long time to wait for bargains like these to come again!

Gimbels SPOTLIGHT NO. 1

In 1914 we wore high, stiff collars that practically choked us to death—and we "shot" our bulky, starched cuffs—when shirts with cuffs attached were new—remember?

had done something for the hospitals in their communities.

Prior to the conference with the Governor, Scott and Steedle met with State Chairman Edward Martin, Speaker Grover Talbot and other Republican leaders to adopt suggestions for procedure during the week.

BIG APPROPRIATION

The omnibus bill carries an appropriation of $7,151,500.

Behind this plan is a design to influence passage next November of a constitutional amendment for $25,000,000 "to defray the expenses of the state government."

Already Scott has before the Legislature a bill appropriating $20,000,000 of this sum for unemployment relief, provided the amendment is adopted. But there will be an additional stipulation, either as a separate bill or as a rider on the omnibus bill, to the effect that the remaining $5,000,000 shall be used for hospital purposes.

If the bond issue should not pass, the hospitals would be deprived of the $5,000,000 and the allocation to each hospital would be abated five-sevenths of the mount set aside for its use during e next biennium. Meanwhile, 000,000 is being taken from the eral fund for hospital purposes, be returned without loss to the hospitals if the bond issue is approved. Otherwise, the abatement ill be become effective.

Hospital authorities, to protect emselves against abatements ey suffered after passage of the rst Talbot $10,000,000 relief in ecial session of 1931, are ex- cted to aid in the drive for the nd issue, if they agree to the oject under discussion by the vernor and the Legislative lead-

ASSEMBLY HIT ON POLL TAX

HARRISBURG, May 1.—(INS.)—The Pennsylvania Security League today charged the General Assembly with disenfranchising 1,300,000 voters. The League said:

"It did so by vote of the House last week refusing to lower the poll tax to one cent. The unemployed will be unable to vote.

"To save up the necessary 65 cents means between five and seven days' starvation at the present rate of relief distribution. 'Starve a week in order to vote' is what this Legislature has, in effect, said to the unemployed of the commonwealth."

The message was addressed to all state senators by the League through Dr. Ralph E. Turner, Pittsburgh, chairman of the state executive committee.

Dr. Turner also demanded Senate action on the women's minimum wage bill and warned that steps will be taken to discharge the committee holding the legislation.

TAXI DEATH SUIT REVERSED

The State Supreme Court, at Philadelphia, today reversed the Allegheny County Court which quashed a suit brought by Catherine Gibson against the Pittsburgh Transportation Company, operators of the Parmelee Cabs, in the death of her father, May 7, 1931. The lower court had held the case was outlawed by the statute of limitations. The Supreme Court held the suit was brought within the time required.

The high court upheld the local courts in dismissing a bill in equity filed by William A. Fierst and Wilkins Township against the William Penn Memorial Corporation and W. H. Virgin seeking to restrain them from using land for cemetery purposes.

ARMY AMATEUR STATIONS AID

The first radio contact with Pittsburgh's boys in the Civilian Conservation Corps work camps in Allegheny Forest will be made today when the short wave stations of the 176th Field Artillery in Logan Armory inaugurates the nation's first daily radio message service between camp and parents of the recruits.

Co-ordinating 20 amateur radio stations in the Army Amateur Radio Net in Western Pennsylvania, stations W8HEE and W8BEU, operated by members of the National Guard, will communicate with the various work units scattered through the forest, according to Lieut. H. A. Evans.

Messages, restricted to 30 words, will be relayed from the camps through stations W8CGA at Warren, Pa., and W8CPE at Springdale, Pa., to the Pittsburgh key stations and in turn will be telephoned to the families or sent by postcard, Lieut. Evans said.

Messages from families to recruits will be handled over the same network of stations.

The program has been instituted to facilitate communication with the camps and to provide training for the National Guard radio units in co-operation with the amateur stations organized to act with the Army in emergencies, Evans explained.

Evans will be assisted at the local stations by Carol Lingenfelder, Walter R. Gloss, William Young and D. Wargo, of the National Guard.

SOVIET FLIERS REPULSE JAP AIR RAID

PEIPING, May 1.—(INS.)—Japanese planes bombed tracks of the Chinese Eastern Railway, object of a bitter dispute between Manchukuo and Russia, on Saturday, according to official advices from Harbin revealed here today.

The message stated the bombing took place with a view to preventing transportation of further rolling stock into Soviet territory. The tracks were damaged by the planes, which dropped the bombs near Pogranichnial.

The message added the Soviet planes took to the air and "forced the Japanese planes to withdraw."

TOKIO, May 1.—(AP.)—The Japan Foreign Office disclosed today that Chinese leaders were seeking through American and British ministries in Peiping to negotiate a Sino-Japanese armistice.

Official reports were received that certain Chinese approached both Nelson T. Johnson, the United States minister, and Sir Miles Lampson, the British minister, proposing that they assist in opening negotiations.

The report admitted that these Chinese are not conencted with Marshal Chang Kai-Shek, the virtual dictator of the Nationalist Government at Nanking, or his Peiping representative, Gen. Ho Ying-Ching.

5 Priests Rebel Again Exclusion From Synod

ISTANBUL, May 1.—(AP.)—What authorities called a burst of Bolshevism shattered the ancient calm of the Patriarchate, situated on the Golden Horn. Five Greek priests broke into a meeting of the Holy Synod, consisting of the Patriarch Photius and archbishops, and demanded that the priests be able to share the archbishops' right of attending the synod.

The patriarch condemned one priest to a year's imprisonment at Mount Athos. Another was unfrocked and three were forgiven.

WATERS SWORN AS TREASURER

PHILADELPHIA, May 1.—(AP.)—Charles A. Waters, Auditor General for the last four years, today was sworn in as State Treasurer. As he took his new office, Waters said:

"I have been in Harrisburg for the past 12 years holding office, and for the sake of my family and my own future, I hope the next four years will be my last in public life."

This statement was looked upon with some importance by observers, for Waters has often been mentioned as a possible candidate for governor.

11 A. M. and 2:30 P. M.

Aladdin and his magical lamp fade into insignificance before the modern miracles of Dr. Ellis L. Manning and Lyle H. B. Peer, two engineers from the Research Laboratories of the General Electric Company, who are revealing to the public, for the first time, results of countless experiments in chemical and electrical science.

These demonstrations are of genuine public interest for the insight which they give into the progress which is being made to lighten the burdens of humanity through discoveries which will tremendously influence the future.

The "electric eye" which sees 100,000 times as quickly as the human eye, cooking with ice, photographing the human voice, dissecting the atom—these are just a few of the marvels revealed. Dr. Manning interestingly translates these achievements into the language and experience of the layman. Come tomorrow, as the crowds are certain to increase with every perfomance.

Globe-Trotter's Schedule Changes

Louis L. Kaufman, Globe-Trotter of the Sun-Telegraph and Hearst Metrotone News, sets forth on a new schedule today, broadcasting his morning news flashes at 9:30 a. m.—25 minutes later than heretofore. His afternoon and evening periods—12:15 p. m., 2:15 p. m. and 6:30 p. m.—remain unchanged.

A varied program for children, bringing to the microphone Grandpa and Lillian, in a perusal of today's Sun-Telegraph comic pages, and a group of talented Pittsburgh kiddies in their "very own" acts, is offered on WCAE at 4:45.

Globe-Trotting

With the Globe-Trotter of the Sun-Telegraph and Hearst Metrotone News

—By LOUIS L. KAUFMAN—

Hello, ladies and gentlemen:

Whoever it was who carried the sick lady from her home on Hamilton avenue, when the place caught fire, has earned her undying gratitude. She hopes he sees this.

Clifford A. Wright's name hasn't been mentioned in the news with the capture of the recently escaped convicts; but we are informed that he is the gentleman who placed the handcuffs on Freddie Prince while the officer held him at bay with the riot gun.

* * *

The Boy Scout commissioner, of Washington County, James J. Reardon, of Millsboro, brings to our attention that when Harmar Denny, Jr., was taking the oath of office as public safety director he was using the Scout sign. The photographs show it.

* * *

Bruce Gray, 2½-year-old pride and joy of Mr. and Mrs. B. E. Gray, of McKees Rocks, doesn't like baby talk. When one of the adult admirers chucks him under the chin and mutters infant expressions, his snappy comeback is:

"You make me nervous."

Deanie and Trio, Brushton—Courtrooms, unless already overcrowded, are usually open to every one. If you want to visit the jail, contact Warden McNeill. He's very courteous.

* * *

H. S. Huber, Pricedale—It must be printed and then sent to the copyright office at Washington.

* * *

J. Auld, Oakmont—Nice poem—no space.

In style with everything else that changes schedules with daylight saving, the Globe Trotter starts his morning sleep walk at 9:30 now.

You are not forgetting the boys at the reforestation army? Several more letters this week asking for news from home. They want their friends to write to them. It's a great feeling, when in camp, to hear the man in charge of mails announce your name.

Junior, Pals Of Patrol Go on Air

By AIRCASTER.

From the ranks of the Sun-Telegraph's Junior Patrol—20,000 strong—is to be drawn the talent for one of the most promising children's programs ever launched on the air.

The Patrol is to take to the microphone en force for the first time from the studios of WCAE Wednesday at 4:45 p. m. Junior and Snuggins and The Chief—Quin Hall in person—will be there, as will the first corps of embryo radio artists to broadcast under the Patrol banner.

Any child who can sing, recite or play a musical instrument, and who is a member of the Junior Patrol, is eligible to appear on the programs, to be broadcast each Wednesday at the same hour.

Flash! Ted Husing is taking flying lessons; so is Maestro Fred Waring. "Swanee" Taylor, famed airman, is tutor for both.

George Burns revealed it when the pair arrived in New York, Gracie traveling in the baggage car to which, according to George, she'd been consigned after talking about her adventure all the way to Chicago.)

It all dates back to the earthquake and their filming of the hotel lobby scene in the talkie, "International House."

When the temblor rumbled past, everyone except Gracie rushed off the set. Her royal highness, remembering that you should get under something in cyclones, jumped into the elevator and looked on assuredly as cameras toppled. Her refuge, it seems, was only make believe—a part of the setting—and hovered under a couple tons of arc lights. Sez George:

"And she thinks ostriches are silly!"

Busy chap, this Medbury... He not only writes his own two-a-week Columbia Revue, but produces a part of the material for Burns and Allen, and George (the Grik) Givot and Mandy Lou in Fred Waring's show. In addition, there are his movie laugh-o-logs and a daily newspaper column.

Gertrude Niesen, who writes and speaks fluent Spanish, French and Italian, is branching out in her linguistic studies. The proud recipient of a Chinese fan letter the other day, she puzzled and pondered and finally decided to consult her laundryman to find out where her voice had been heard in the Orient... She got the address, all right—Pell street, New York.

Gassy Stomach Torture Ends

"I am glad to say that ACIDINE helped me quicker than anything else I ever tried," says W. Rontz, Windgap, Pa. "I will tell you there are a good many people killed with this gas in the stomach. If you have a weak heart it is dangerous."

End gas, sourness, heartburn, dizziness, sleeplessness, headache resulting from acidity. Maker guarantees ACIDINE ends your stomach trouble or money back. All druggists have ACIDINE, or for a free sample send your name and address to Acidine Sales Co., Dept. 85-A, 365 E. Illinois St., Chicago.

Two Churches Here Mark Centennials

Two Pittsburgh churches yesterday celebrated their one hundredth anniversaries. They were the St. John's Episcopal, Main street, Lawrenceville, and Pilgrim Evangelical Church, East Ohio street.

The Rev. Dr. Robert N. Meade, rector of the Church of the Redeemer, spoke at the morning service in St. John's Church, and Bishop Alexander Mann, of the Episcopal Diocese of Pittsburgh, at the evening service.

Erie Gasoline Car Suplanted by Bus

FRANKKLIN, Pa., May 1.—Buses of the Welsh Transportation Company yesterday replaced the familiar gasoline car on Erie Railroad. Three hours are consumed in making trip from Franklin to Erie with stops at Utica, Cochranton, Meadville and Cambridge Springs. A baggage truck will be operated twice daily.

GANDHI BEGINS NEW FAST ON FRIDAY

POONA, India, May 1.—(AP.)—The aged and frail Mahatma Gandhi announced from Yeroda jail yesterday that on May 8 he will begin another fast, this time a "three-week unconditional, irrevocable fast" in connection with his campaign against untouchability and the caste system.

The political and religious leader of thousands summoned his son Devidas to the jail and broke the news to him. For two hours the son tried to dissuade his father, but unsuccessfully. Thereafter the news was sent to various friends in India and abroad.

In an interview the Mahatma denied the fast was a part of a deep political move. He said:

"It is a process of self-purification."

WITHHOLDS REASONS

Mr. Gandhi, who has been serving an indefinite term since his arrest on January 4, 1932, under a regulation permitting arrest merely for "good and sufficient reasons" in connection with his passive resistance campaign, refused to give any definite reason for the decision today. He said:

"As I look back on the immediate past I see many reasons too sacred to mention that must have precipitated a fast.

"They are all connected with the great Harijan (untouchables) cause. I have no desire to die. I want to live for the cause, although I hope I am equally prepared to die for it.

"I want workers of unassailable purity. Cases of shocking impurity may have come under my notice. I want my fast to be an urgent appeal to such people to leave the cause alone."

UPHOLDS OUTCASTS

Observers here who saw the Mathatma after his one-week fast last September fear the three-week fast will mean certain death for him.

They interpret the decision as an expression of the Mahatma's dissatisfaction with the progress of efforts of high caste Hindus to remove untouchability and his conviction that the untouchables (the lower classes) themselves are not yet confident high class Hindus will "play the game."

KNIFE VICTIM'S FAMILY AIDED

The wife and 5 children of William Suppers, 37, of 2409 Ridgeway street, who was stabbed to death Saturday in an argument over a meat bill were today being cared for by neighbors.

The family is destitute and there are no near relatives.

Suppers was an auto mechanic and had worked for 11 years for the Excelsior Express Company. He has been out of work for the past two years. Suppers had obtained employment at the Entress Brick Company last week and had worked two days, his wife said.

Dave Fishman, 29, owner of the store at 2219 Bedford avenue where the killing occurred, surrendered to police. According to police he claimed Suppers had attacked him and he acted in self defense. He is being held for homicide squad detectives.

'GHOST' FREES 'SLAYER'

PHILADELPHIA, May 1.—(Universal.)—For five years John Woodruff, 34, hid from the law, fearing the electric chair.

Then a relative became angry at him and told police he had shot and killed William Greenhow, 34, in an argument in November, 1928.

Police investigated, then they brought Woodruff into a police station and said:

"Is this the man you murdered?"

Woodruff keeled over. Finally Greenhow convinced him he was no ghost, explaining:

"You only nicked my leg that time."

French Speed Pilots Set for New Flight

PARIS, May 1.—(AP.)—Paul Codos and Aime Rossi, French speed pilots, plan to start Saturday on a non-stop flight to South America in an attempt to break the world's straight-line distance record.

The British officers O. R. Gayford and G. E. Nicholetts set the record of 5,340 miles on an England-South Africa flight ending February 8.

PAY PUPILS TO STEAL PETS

CHICAGO, May 1.—(Universal.)—A reward of $50 was out today for the arrest and conviction of anyone hiring school children to steal pet dogs and cats for sale to vivisection laboratories.

The offer was made in a letter dispatched to President Orville J. Taylor, of the Board of Eduction, by the Illinois Anti-Vivisection Society.

The letter pointed out that the children not only stole the pets, but, lured by easy money, played hookey from school to do it. The letter said:

"Having thus tasted the pleasures of easy money, these boys are likely to continue on the path which may take them to the electric chair."

PRIEST TO SING MOTHER'S MASS

Solemn requiem mass will be celebrated for Mrs. Ellen J. O'Reilly, who died Thursday, by her son, the Rev. John P. O'Reilly, in St. John the Evangelist Church tomorrow morning. Funeral services will be at her home, 2101 Pauline avenue.

rs. O'Reilly leaves three sons, Reilly, James J. and daughter, Mrs. John five grandchildren.

THEIR WELL POISONED?

MR. AND MRS. EDWARD HEID . . . ASKING AN ANALYSIS

The Heids, who have asked the county chemist for an alalysis of their water in their Perrysville well because three of their dogs have died, apparently poisoned. This is a Sun-Telegraph picture.

'POISON PLOTS' PROBED

Suspicions of poison in a water well and also in a pound of butter led to investigations by county authorities today.

Mr. and Mrs. Edward Heid, of Schars lane, Perrysville, reported that they had been ill and three of their dogs died. They asked that water in a well adjoining their home be analyzed.

Attorney J. T. Bell turned over to County Detective Chief George W. Murran a roll of butter he said Tony Grenetta, of Swissvale, had given him, fearing it had been poisoned. It contained a foreign substance, detectives said, and County Chemist F. C. Buckmaster declared this substance smelled like phosphorus, a poison.

Grenetta, according to Attorney Bell, said the butter was sent to him by a "friend," with a note saying it was from a welfare organization.

The Heids said their collie dog and two puppies had died, and that they themselves recovered from their illness only after they quit drinking the water.

Reports of the chemist were awaited by county detectives engaged in both investigations.

FLENDER ART EXHIBIT OPENS

Thirty-four canvases by John Flender are placed on exhibition at Wunderly's art galleries today.

Flender is one of the many native painters who have subscribed to the setting down of the gentler aspects of the American countryside. His exhibition includes reminiscences of the sea coast around Gloucester, Mass., the old canal at Lambertville, N. J., and the terrain dominated by Redfield, Garber and the other painters who have specialized in Eastern Pennsylvania landscape.

Returning to the vicinity of Pittsburgh, one finds a group of paintings done at old Harmony Village. These are characterized by spaciousness and energy, even though small canvases. Flender also shows a series based on the seasonal changes of that fascinating valley along Pine Creek, where cliff-like walls hem in delightful natural plantings of sycamore, hemlock and laurel. The Flender show will be on view at Wunderly's through the fortnight.

Cast of 90 to Give 'May Day Masque'

A "May Day Masque" in three scenes will be presented in the recital room of the Pittsburgh Institute at 8:30 o'clock tonight.

Ninety singers, dancers and players are in the cast of the play which features early 17th Century music.

GOOD SHEPHERD FOUNDER IS BEATIFIED

VATICAN CITY, May 1.—(AP.)—Many cardinals and high prelates, together with thousands of the faithful, attended the beatification in St. Peter's yesterday of venerable Mary Euphrasia Pelletier, founder of the Sisters of the Good Shepherd.

This order has branches in 41 cities of the United States devoted to caring for and protecting young girls.

Yesterday afternoon Pope Pius went to St. Peter's with the cardinals to venerate the new blessed. He knelt for some minutes before a large portrait of the French religious worker and prayed. Then he assisted at the benediction of the Sacrement and finally imparted the apostolic blessing.

PORTRAIT PRESENTED

The beatification today placed the church's solemn approval on a life which had its stormy moments.

Mary Pelletier, born in 1796 at Noirmoutier, France, joined the order of "Our Lady of Charity of the Refuge" at the age of 18.

Some years later she was superior of the house at Tours and founded the chapter of Angers. She then felt that the Angers chapter should be the mother house of the whole order and petitioned the Pope to this effect.

UPHELD BY POPE

She was immediately accused of disobedience, ambition and making innovations. However, the Pope upheld her. Although she was forced to found a new order, this prospered until it became more numerous than her former order. It spread its branches throuhhout the world. It was first introduced into the United States in 1843.

The biography of blessed Mary Pelletier, beautifully bound, was presented to the Pope and the Cardinals. Pamphlets containing the same information were distributed to all the faithful attending the beatification.

POLICE AT ODDS ON CABARET

Public Safety Director Harmar D. Denny, Jr., and Police Supt. Franklin T. McQuaide seemed in disagreement today over the reopening of a Hill district black-and-tan cabaret.

The Harlem Club was closed by the authorities last week, but Saturday night it was reopened as, presto, chango, the Madrid Club. A prominent Hill politician was credited with the maneuver.

McQuaide admitetd approving the new permit, but added:

"I sent it to Mr. Denny, who as the last say on it."

Said Denny:

"As yet I have not seen such permit, and naturally I did ot approve it."

Steel Orders Bring Recall of 100 Men

BEAVER FALLS, Pa., May 1.—An order for 12 carloads of cold drawn steel by Moltrup Steel Products Company, will give work to more than 100 employes who were called back to the plant today. Ingram-Richardson Manufacturing Company, employers of 400 men and women, is working to full capacity on enamel advertising signs for oil and gasoline concerns.

TITLED POETESS DIES IN PARIS

PARIS, May 1.—(AP.)—Countess Anna Elizabeth de Noailles, celebrated poetess, died at her home yesterday at the age of 56.

Her husband, Count Mathieu de Noailles, who, like the countess, was a chevalier of the Legion of Honor, and their son were at the bedside.

The poetess, who had been ill several weeks, was the daughter of Prince Bibesco and a descendant of the famous De Brancovan family.

She was noted for following the languid tradition of Mme. Recamier in that she usually received her friends at night reclining on a couch under subdued lights.

Among her best known works are lyrical verses treating of love and nature. Her last volume, Poems of Childhood, was published in 1930.

Fleet Celebrates Dewey's Victory

SAN PEDRO, Cal., May 1.—(AP.)—One hundred ships and 300 aircraft of the United States fleet began tactical exercises off shore today in tests of the latest developments in every phase of naval warfare, afloat and aloft.

500 Steel Workers Recalled in W. Va.

WEIRTON, W. Va., May 1.—Five hundred men have been recalled to work in the Weirton Steel Company, a subsidiary of the National Steel Corporation. Additional men will be put to work during the next two weeks.

Couple Flees Blaze, Hoarded Cash Lost

GREENSBURG, Pa., May 1.—Elmer Shaulis and his wife escaped in their nightclothing when fire starting from a defective flue razed their remodeled log house in Stahlstown. They lost their furniture and $112 in cash which Shaulis had secreted in the house.

BRIDGE STARS IN TOURNEY

Representing Pittsburgh in the second annual World Bridge Olympic, members of the clubs participating in the recent interclub bridge tournament will begin play tonight in the Harvard-Yale-Princeton Club.

Together with bridge devotees in 42 countries, they will play the same 16 hands, prepared by internationally famous bridge experts, including the Culbertson's, Work, Vanderbilt, Lightner and Jacoby.

More than 100,000 enthusiasts are expected to compete for the trophies. Winners will be pairs playing the 16 hands nearest to par set by the Olympic Committee of the National Bridge Association. Hands have been arranged to be no more responsive to one bidding system than another, and each participant will be mailed an analysis of the correct bidding and play after the contest.

A. P. L. Turner is manager for the contest here.

Civil War Slave Dies at 105 On Farm

SHELBYVILLE, Ill., May 1.—(AP.)—Richard Moore, 105-year-old Negro, a retired farmer, died yesterday at his home here after an illness of two years.

In his youth Moore was a slave, owned by the Billy Moore family in Mitchellburg, Ky. He came to Shelby County at the close of the Civil War, with his bride.

Rankin Exhibition To Open Tonight

The ninth annual exhibition week sponsored by the Rankin Christian Center, a member agency of the Welfare Fund of Pittsburgh, will open tonight in the Rankin Christian Center Building, Third avenue, Rankin.

A series of programs representing the service of the center in the community will be presented, and handicraft exhibits will be displayed. W. M. Myler is chairman of the board of direction, and Elbert R. Tingley, director.

COX AS YOUTH SOLD PAPERS

Soliciting subscriptions for a newspaper is not an entirely new occupation for Father Cox, of Old St. Patrick's. When he was a lad he was one of the most successful newsboys of Pittsburgh and later became a well-known and successful newspaper dealer in the Lawrenceville district.

In fact it was from the profits of this lucrative newspaper business which he had established and built up in this district that he not only earned enough money to assist his mother in caring for the family, but he also earned sufficient to clothe himself and eventually paid his expenses at Duquesne University for his preliminary education for the priesthood.

He said last night:

"In those days there were sensational battles for circulation and I was constantly the target of threats from one newspaper or another if I did not show favoritism in catering to my Lawrenceville trade.

"I stood pat. They didn't frighten me and I didn't go out of the newspaper business until I was ready to go.

"I recall that the old Pittsburgh Sun, one of the forerunners of the Sun-Telegraph of today, was the square shooter of all and I have never lost my respect or love for the old Pittsburgh Sun. The experiences of those days have undoubtedly been a great help to me in the years I have been fighting for the poor and destitute of Pittsburgh."

These may be some of the reasons why the Father Cox-Sun-Telegraph drive for subscriptions has been so successful. Every subscription that comes in on the blank on this page or is telephoned in with the request that Father Cox be given credit for it, brings to his unemployment relief fund a liberal cash commission.

Walter Winchell ON BROADWAY

A Columnist's Sec'y Jots Down a Few Notes

Dear W. W.:—''President's Day'' on April 30 was the right day to select after all. For on April 30, 1789, George Washington was inaugurated as the First President—so the services in the churches and the holiday spirit were, in a way, in honor of George as well as Franklin—the first President to be so honored by the nation . . . Congressman Walter Nesbit, of Illinois, is taking the seaman's woes on his shoulders. He won't quit fighting in Congress until everything is honky-dooly for the boys now beached on the waterfront. Ask Your San Francisco paper to take it up on the Pacific Coast. . . . R. T. Erickson called. Said he can make up a sentence with the word "fragile" but he's fragile put it in the W. B. file (the waste basket) . . . Irv Brecher called. Said that according to Herriot: "Debt's all there is—there isn't anymore!" . . . Bill Carpenter calls George Jean Nathan's newspaper: "The American Disrespectator" . . . The Paramount hasn't had a healthy week since Bernie played it. . . The following show did $34,000, "Murder in the Zoo" hung up a new low ($14,000) and week of April 20th brought 18 G's . . . The Brooklyn Para's new low last week was 11 G's . . . So $43,000 was bad. Oh, sure!

Chuck some applause at Dick Powell, production mgr of the Chicago Theater there. He got the other acts on the bill to chip in the money robbed from the chorines by some petty thief. The girls of the Fred Evans Ballet will appreciate it. . . . Your friend Bill Egan, director of public safety in Newark, is campaigning for re-election. His friends are using a special version of "Orchid to You" as their theme ditty. . . . Ernest C. Wilson, editor in chief of the Unity Publications, Kansas City, called. Said it might interest you to know that the minister of the Unity Plaza services there will borrow your recent phrase: "Your Faith Is Your Fortune" for the Sunday evening sermon on May 7th. They thank you for the orchidea. . . . Pittsburgh Ad Club suggests that the call: "PDQ" for "action" is stale. They suggest "FDR". . . . I second that.

Sascha Tarsaedza, nephew of the late Prince Mdvani, is engaged to Julia Elizabeth Bryan Haliday of Park Ave. Social in California, too, and plenty of plenty. . . The "Gates of Mercy" have taken care of the dispossessed family you have mentioned. Any other families in need should apply to the Rev. Leo Gottsman, secretary of the Gates of Mercy Center, at 53 Lewis St., here in N. Y. C., or at 113 Moore Street in B'klyn. They will provide food and medical aid to the destitute families. Oh, Mr. Shaw of the Florists Telegraph Delivery [illegible]—chuck that fine group a dozen orchids! . . . The Wilson McGarrys of Chicago (Ruth Doran of here) anticipate a $400 income tax exemption in Sept.

Bide Dudley will be a grandpop. His daughter Doris, who eloped when she was hardly 15 last year, is to be blessed soon . . . Milton Berle is most pleased with your comments. His mother keeps reading the clipping all day and bought a gross of Mirrors to send to Milton's "enemies" . . . Lilyan Tashman's party on Easter drew about 350 friends, all of whom had a good time even though every husband had an argument with his wife or vice worses . . . There's a chuckle in the "Temple Drake" yarn . . . Hays okayed it, until he discovered it was "Sanctuary" and after reading the book he yelled murder . . . You mentioned Alvin P. Meyers on the air. The gent connected with Mayor Porter's Los Angeles office. Well, his ma would like to hear from him.

The 50 circus tickets Uncle Don suggested you give to poor kids have been attended to. Patrolman Hofstetter, in charge of relief at the W. 47th St. Station House, got the kids from the neighborhood . . . Detective Tom S[illegible]ak, who helped raid that clip joint with Paddy McVeigh, had [illegible]unch one of those guys, and Croak is in the hospital with a badly infected paw . . . [illegible]ody mentioned Caryl Bergman at the Ziegfeld Memorial, and Caryl was one of his aces. She did everything from bits to filling in for Marilyn Miller. . . . James Cromwell finally won that case . . . Eddie Saulpaugh, the stage director, whose sudden divorce troubles made the gazettes last week, wishes you would clear him of giving you the item. He says he was at home wondering where she could be so late and he asked friends at his apartment if they had any idea what happened to her—when one of them reading the column said: "She's divorcing you!" . . . The amazed husband says he had heard legends and had seen movies about how you knew news (before the very people the news was about knew it)—but he's still not convinced you're so hot. Because you said her name was Mary, when it's Marjorie! . . . The Marquis de la Falaise is being given a long ocean jaunt by friend frau, Connie Bennett. Of course, the Gilbert Roland romance has nothing to do with it!—Your Girl Friday.

Dramatic Activities In South Hills

With 202 persons as subscribers, the South Hills Community Players will make application for incorporation under the laws of the state. George P. Kountz, of Mt. Lebanon, legal adviser to the group, is in charge of the matter. The organization will present the Anne Nichols comedy, "Just Married," in the Washington School, Mt. Lebanon, May 10, 11, 12 and 13. In June it plans to stage "The Queen's Husband."

A communication states that James L. Baker, Dormont, has permission to stage George S. Kaufmann's "Prom Night," and Ray E. Hurd's "Sing You Sinner," winners, respectively, in the adult and junior divisions of last week's Drama League contest.

Has New Baby And Elegant New Car

By HARRISON CARROLL.

HOLLYWOOD, May 1.—Good luck is breaking around Robert Montgomery like a snow storm. He has his new baby girl, he has signed a new long term contract and has bought a swanky new car. And now comes a new role!

Friday he went to work in "Night Flight," Clarence Brown's picture of the airways. He is playing the young Brazilian pilot, with Myrna Loy as the wife.

"Night Flight," with the addition of Montgomery to the cast, takes on more stellar brilliance. Its players so far include Bob, John and Lionel Barrymore, Clark Gable, Helen Hayes, Myrna Loy and John Miljan. David O. Selznick produces.

PLAYS AND PLAYERS By William J. Lewis

"The Piccoli," sixth and final attraction in the American Theater Society's subscription season, will open tonight in the Nixon, and will present a three-part program. The first part, consisting of seven numbers, will include acrobatics, ballet dancing, comedy and song in the vaudeville manner. The second will feature a selection from the musical play, "The Geisha," to be followed by a tropical revue. Four music hall numbers will make up the third part. At the five matinees, the second part will be "The Sleeping Beauty," in three acts and seven scenes.

An old friend of Pittsburgh audiences, Paul McGrath, will be in town when George M. Cohan brings his new play, "Pigeons and People," to the Nixon next Monday for an engagement of one week. Mr. McGrath was one of the most popular leading men ever to appear with the George Sharp Stock Company here, and he was a fixture in the Pitt for many months. "Pigeons and People" is described as "a comic state of mind in continuous action." The play is all in one act, with Mr. Cohan on the stage throughout the entire performance except for a few minutes. Its theme is the humorous debunking of the follies of the day. The box office sale of seats will open Thursday.

Stars' Gloves Now Match Gowns

By REINE DAVIES

HOLLYWOOD, May 1.—(Universal.)—Would you be correct in your attire? Then watch the stars. The stars of the motion picture world who set the styles for all the countries on the globe.

First it was the long bob. Or did curls come first? Then beach attire. The sun tan craze. Then shorts for tennis and finally for bicycling. These are just a few of the fashions to which Hollywood has reacted.

Now all the motion picture feminine world has gone glove-conscious. If your hat or gown are of organdy — your gloves should be of the same fragile material.

Gloves used to be associated with the finest of kid. Then the fabric—fine cotton woven with a suede finish to resemble kidskin—then the buckskin and finally pigskin bleached to an immaculate white.

But—those paltry glove days are over for a while. Europe introduced velvet gloves to match velvet gowns. Pretty but not as practical as they might be.

And motion picture stars are quite practical, you know, in that upon which they set their approval.

Now, as warm weather approaches, there are pique gloves, too, and organdie and mesh gloves, all of cotton origin made to go with the cotton accessories so smart and washable over which fashion is running riot.

Claudette Colbert set a pace for newness in gloves when she came back from New York laden with cotton plaid affairs to match other accessories.

Carole Lombard cinched her idea of the mode by appearing at a party in an organdie evening gown with elbow length sleeves of organdie—that's what we said.

Adrienne Ames has a pair of pink lace gloves. And what do you suppose she wears them with? Pink lace.

Runaway Elevator Injures Operator

James T. Wigal, 65, of 3809 Baytree street, an elevator operator, suffered a cut leg and bruises about the body when he fell from his elevator in the McGeagh Building today.

Wigal had left the car in the cellar of the building when it started upward. He leaped and caught hold of it, but lost his grip and fell. He was taken to Mercy Hospital.

Lucille Sears will be seen in support of George M. Cohan in his new dramatic novelty, "Pigeons and People," coming next Monday to the Nixon stage.

Falls Into Scalding Water, Baby Dies

William Lynd, 18-month-old baby, died of burns in the St. Francis Hospital last night. He was scalded by a fall into a bucket of water with which his mother was scrubbing the floor in her home, 36 Sycamore street, Etna, Saturday, according to the report.

1,000 in Chicago Ask Garden Space

CHICAGO, May 1.—Relief workers say that out of 170,000 families in Chicago receiving public aid, only 1,000 have applied for free garden spaces offered to the unemployed.

"Will you marry me—?"

and while she listened happily she remembered-

"I'M sure I could never be guilty of perspiration odor in underthings." How many girls say this. We hate to admit we could offend in such an unforgivable way.

Yet we all perspire. Underthings absorb the perspiration and there is bound to be odor. Others notice it so quickly!

Avoid Offending—
Underthings absorb perspiration odor — protect daintiness this way:

It's so easy to Lux underthings after each wearing and then you know you're dainty. Lux removes every trace of perspiration odor and saves colors and fabrics.

Lux has no harmful alkali and with Lux there's no rubbing. Anything safe in water is safe in Lux!

—they had first met at a friend's house party. Richard obviously "fell hard." Their first dance was perfect—or so she thought—and yet he didn't ask for another.

When the house party broke up he left with only a polite good-bye. She worried about it for days—what could be the matter? Would she never see him again?

One day her cousin, who was visiting her, dropped a hint. About perspiration odor in underthings, and how often any romantic interest is killed by this unforgivable offense.

It was easy to follow her pretty cousin's example—Lux underthings every day. Then, later, she met Richard again . . . now they're planning happiness together.

LUX underthings after each wearing

BANDITS SLAY ONE IN FOUR HOLDUPS

TOLEDO, O., May 1.—(AP.)—Four young bandits yesterday shot and killed a special watchman, terrorized nearly 80 persons in holding up three restaurants and escaped with loot estimated by police at $250—all within two hours.

Charles Mersing, special watchman at the Shanty restaurant, a dining place catering to after-theater patronage, was wounded fatally in a revolver duel with one of the gunmen. The quartet previously had held up patrons of another restaurant and later visited a third.

The bandit crew made their first appearance at Naftalin's restaurant, where 50 persons and seven employes were held up.

Three of the robbers entered the place with drawn automatic pistols and handkerchiefs covering their faces while the fourth member of the youthful band remained on guard outside.

Seeming nervous and frightened, the robbers put the patrons through a quick drill of "hands up," "hands down" and "place your valuables on your tables," before they began a systematic process of collecting the money and jewelry which was placed on the tables by the patrons.

Before they had completed collecting all the valuables the lookout tapped on a window and the bandits fled.

After leaving the Naftalin eating place the robbers visited the Shanty, where they attempted to hold up 20 patrons and employes, but were frustrated when Mersing engaged one of the holdup men in a revolver duel. Mersing fell mortally wounded.

The last place visited was the Swallow barbecue stand, on the Telegraph road, where eight persons were robbed of $2.60. H. Jerry Westlack, operator of the place, fired seven shots at the retreating bandit, who had stripped his auto of ignition wires before entering the place.

SIX BOYS MADE EAGLE SCOUTS

Six Scouts were advanced to the Eagle rank yesterday afternoon at th Court of Honor of the East Boroughs Council Boy Scouts of America in the Rowland Theater, Wilkinsburg. The award of palms was given 16 Eagle Scouts, while 12 were made life scouts and 20 advanced to star rank. There were 200 receiving merit badges, 65 raised to first class rank, 163 to second class and 165 tenderfoot. Maj. Roy F. Seymour, regional executive of the third district, presented the certificates. He was assisted by H. E. Ransferd, court chairman, and J. E. Brenton, Jr., scout executive.

LONE THUG ROBS GAS STATION

A lone robber held up David P. Meeker, 22, night attendant of the Atlantic Refining Company service station at Seventh avenue and Bigelow boulevard early today.

Yielding to the demands of the thug, Meeker said he gave him $22 and three envelopes, containing $50, a part of the day's receipts.

It was the sixth time in the last 14 months Meeker has been held up. In one a bandit was shot to death in a battle with police and in another he was taken for a ride.

Meeker lives at 3220 Beacon Hill avenue, Dormont.

Cat With One Slap Kills Annoying Hen

WASHINGTON, Pa., May 1.—Curiosity killed a hen. The hen twice pecked Tabby, a black cat sleeping on the porch of Stephen Gajarsky.

The cat reached out with one paw, caught the chicken on the head with five sharp claws, piercing its brain. It died.

Woman Falls Dead Playing Ghost Role

YOUNGSTOWN, May 1.—Funeral services will be held today for Mrs. Archie Overly, 36, who fell dead while playing the role of the spirit of a dead invalid in a comedy on a church stage.

2 BANDITS PUSH MAN OVER HILL

Jo Bauer, 50, of 1225 Troy Hill road, was reported recovering today from injuries sustained when two holdup men pushed him over a hillside from a flight of steps near his home early yesterday, according to a police report.

He was removed to the Allegheny Hospital. He said he was attacked while he was climbing the steps leading to his home.

Daniel Munley, of 2408 Reed street, said he was strong-armed and robbed of $11.50.

SAVE AS YOU BUY

To the Customers of
The South Pittsburgh Water Company

We are pleased to announce to our forty thousand customers that the South Pittsburgh Water Company has filed a new schedule of rates with the Public Service Commission, which will reduce the minimum charge of all customers 7½% a year. These new rates will become effective May 1, 1933.

In November, 1932, the Water Company made a substantial reduction in rates. The effect which this reduction had on the large majority of the Company's customers, who use between ten and forty thousand gallons of water a year, was to lower their bills in the amount of $1.86 annually. The additional reduction, effective today (Monday, May 1), will make a total reduction of $2.46 per year, as compared with the rates which were effective before November 1, 1932.

10,000 gallons of water per annum—22% reduction
20,000 gallons of water per annum—17% reduction
30,000 gallons of water per annum—14% reduction
40,000 gallons of water per annum—12% reduction

The Water Company will be glad to explain in detail any feature of its new rate schedule to customers desiring additional information.

VETERAN HERE FOUGHT WITH DEWEY

When the survivors of the Battle of Manila Bay mark their thirty-fifth anniversary on the Olympia Dewey's old flagship, at League Island Navy Yard in Philadelphia, May 14, Walter Wynn, of 612 Hastings street, will have a prominent part.

Mr. Wynn

Wynn, at 15, enlisted in the Navy in 1895 as an apprentice. He went from his home in Madison, Ga., to New York to enroll.

He was on the Raleigh during the battle, serving in the five-inch gun crew.

He will leave for Philadelphia with the delegation of Veterans of Foreign Wars to participate in the Manila exercises. With veterans from all over the country, they will parade down Broad street to the Navy Yard.

AKRON TRAGEDY HELD MYSTERY

WASHINGTON, May 1.—(AP.)—The cause of the Akron disaster will ever remain in the "realm of conjecture," Judge Advocate Ralph G. Pennoyer told a naval court of inquiry.

In his summation of the case Pennoyer said:

"I believe the evidence shows that the officers and men of the Akron were well trained and skilled in the operation of this type of craft, and they performed their duties to the full limit of their abilities.

"In the light of hind-sight some may say that a certain course of procedure might have saved the ship . . . In this sense, and in this sense only, can allegation of direct or indirect individual responsibility for the loss of the Akron and the loss of life consequent thereon be [illegible]orted."

VACCINE KILLS 10 CHILDREN

ROME, May 1.—(AP.)—Ten children have died during the last three days in the provinces of Venice and Rovigo as the result of vaccination with imperfect vaccine, and many others are seriously ill from the same cause.

Premier Mussolini's Ministry of the Interior has ordered the cessation of vaccination pending an investigation, which has already disclosed that the National Institute of Serum Therapy at Naples was sending out adulterated vaccine.

The institute was ordered closed and its director, Camillo Terni, and Mario Testa, who prepared the vaccine, were arrested.

LEGION SWORN IN MINE WAR

WASHINGTON, Pa., May 1.—A mass meeting of the National Miners' Union at Avella was stopped yesterday by Sheriff J. A. Seaman, of Washington County, after 75 members of Bert Sider Post, American Legion, of Avella, were deputized to assist in preserving order.

More than a hundred of the radical group congregated at Browntown, but Sheriff Seaman ordered them to disperse under threat of arrest.

Seaman said he feared trouble would occur again at Avella if the radical demonstrations were permitted. Seven members of the union are in jail on malicious mischief charges as the result of stoning automobiles of United Mine Workers on their way to the Cedar Grove mine of the Carnegie Coal Company last week, when a miner was injured.

Deputizing of the Legionnaires will prevent future trouble, Seaman said.

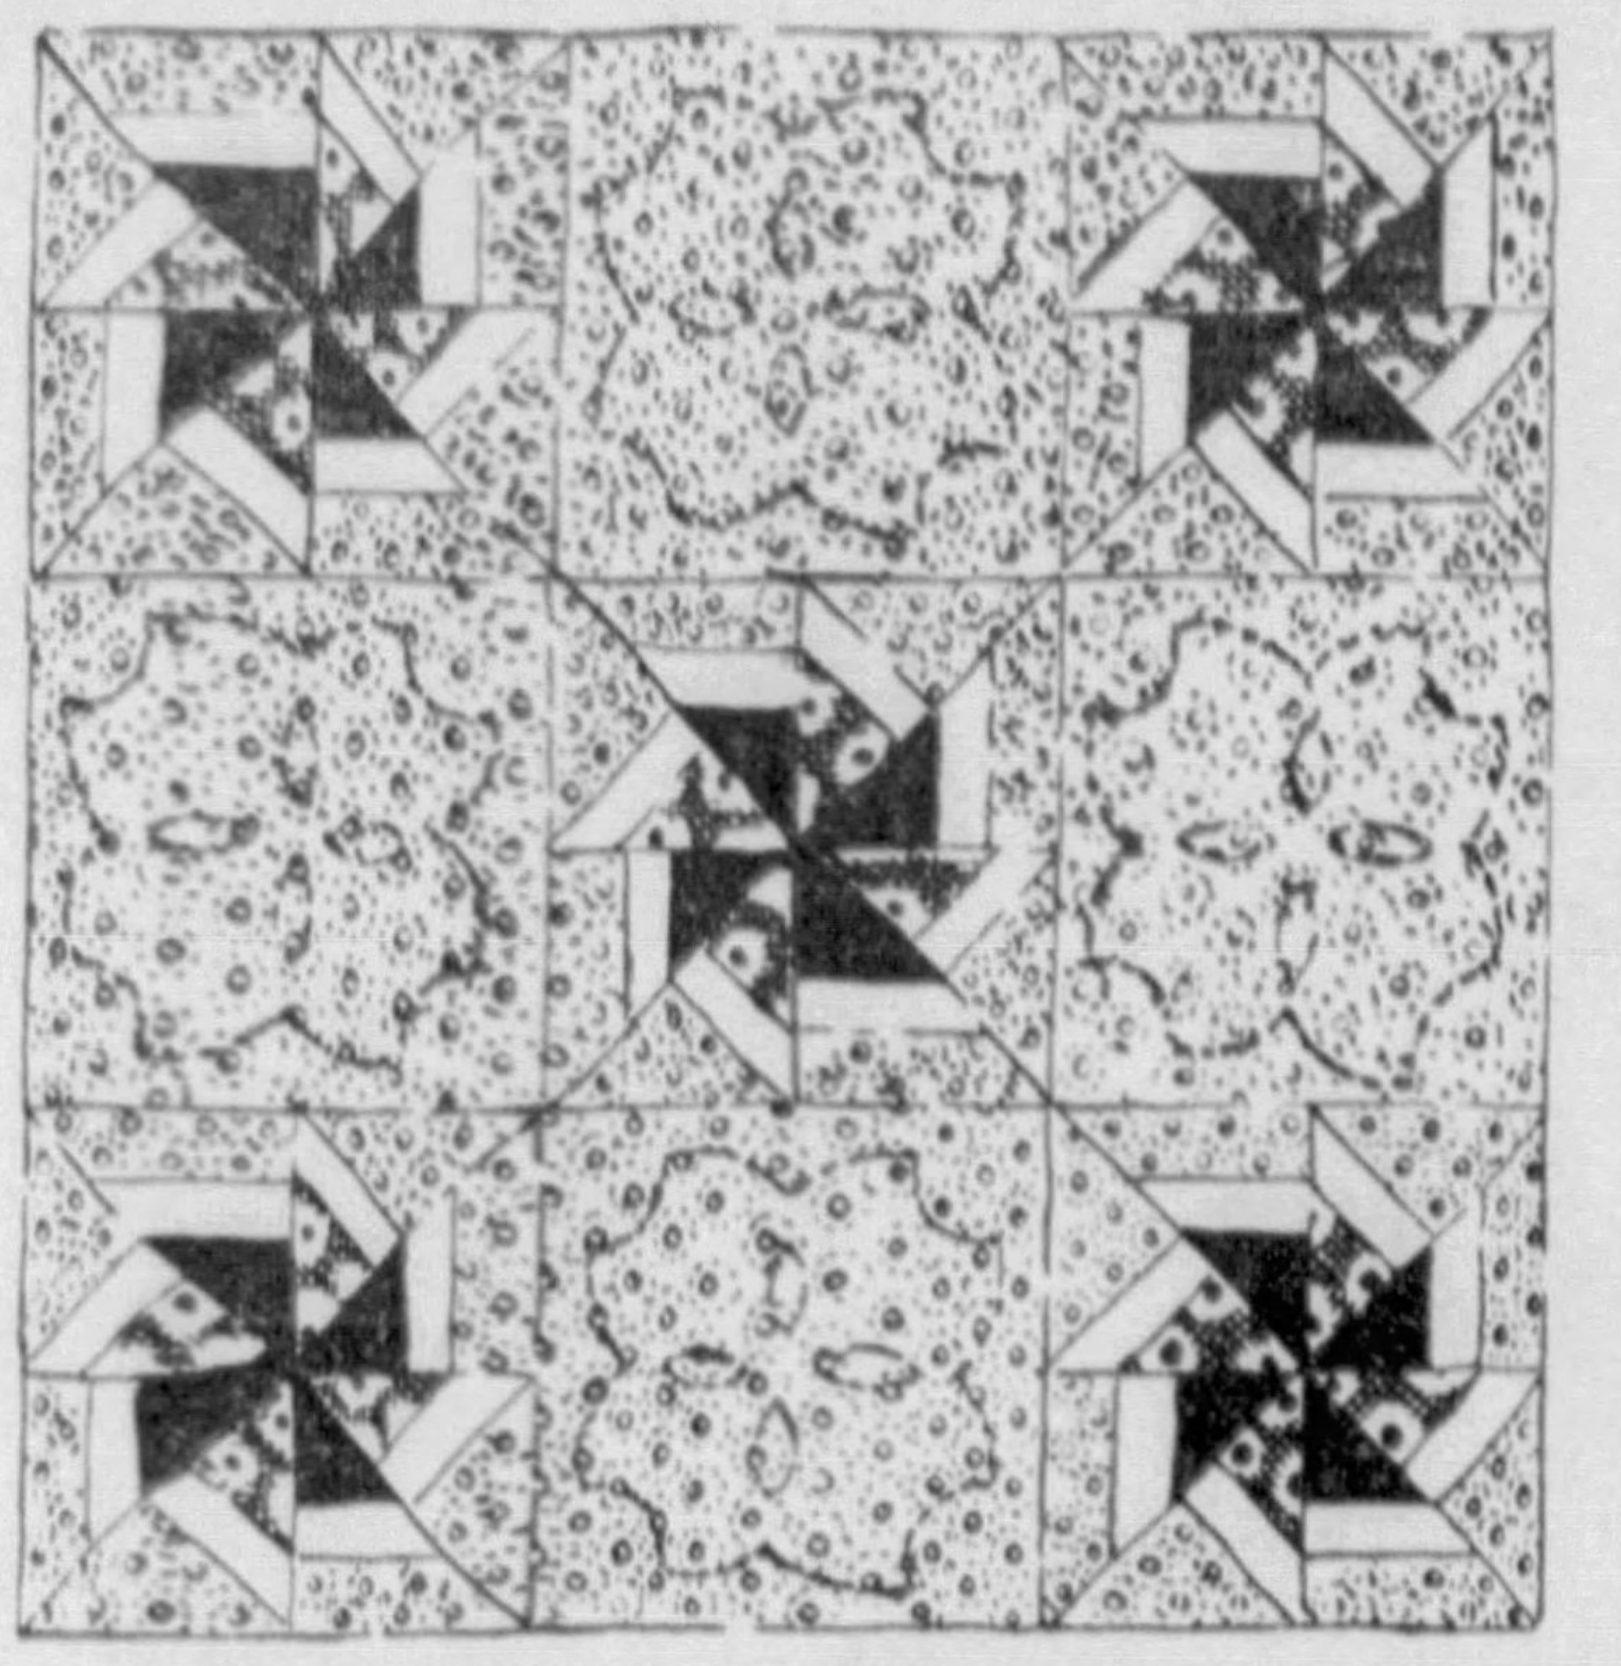
Union Miners Urge U. S. Intervention

MONONGAHELA, Pa., May 1.—Government intervention in the coal industry to benefit both employers and employes alike was indorsed by more than 800 United Mine Workers at a meeting here yesterday. Support of the proposal came after the Monongahela local of the union had been reorganized by Patrick J. Fagan, president of District No. 5, and other officials.

World War Veteran Ends Life in Cell

BARNESVILLE, O., May 1.—While a cellmate shouted in vain for aid, Henry C. McConnaughy, 37, World War veteran, ended his life by slashing his throat in the town lockup. He had been arrested on a charge of drunkenness.

PATCHWORK QUILT PATTERN



Water Wheel No. 422 By Laura Wheeler

The water wheel has had its place in poetry and song. We associate it with an idyllic, peaceful picture of the country. Important in the life of the countryside, it must have fascinated the quilt-maker of early days. A great variety of water wheels was evolved, of which this design is one. It is simple to do, and is especially attractive when alternated with a quilted block.

The pattern comes to you with complete simple instructions for cutting, sewing and finishing, together with a yardage chart, diagram of quilt to help arrange, the blocks for single and double bed size, quilting motif, and a diagram of block which serves as a guide for placing the patches and suggests contrasting materials.

Send 10c for a pattern for this design to Pittsburgh Sun-Telegraph Needlecraft Dept., 82 Eighth avenue, New York City.

Postal Holy Name Group Hears Farley

NEW YORK, May 1.—(Universal.)—Addressing more than 2,000 members of the New York Postoffice Holy Name Society at their annual communion breakfast yesterday, Postmaster General James A. Farley called upon every postal worker to reflect, in his daily contact with the public, "the warmth of the first rays of the sunlight of hope."

300-Pound Bird Bath Stolen by Vandals

EVANSTON, Ill., May 1.—(AP.)—Vandals spoiled the bathing season for the feathered friends of Mrs. Raymond C. Wieboldt last night.

South Hills Clubman Robbed by Gunman

A member of the South Hills Country Club was held up and robbed of $40 while driving in Brownsville road, early today, according to Police Chief Otto George, of Brentwood. Chief George said he chased the robber but did not get the name of the man robbed.

HEARST GROUP PAYS $500,000 INTEREST

SAN FRANCISCO, May 1. — Payment of $500,000 semi-annual interest on the outstanding first mortgage collateral and trust 6¼ per cent serial gold bonds of Hearst Publications Incorporated, a subsidiary of Hearst Consolidated Publications Incorporated, was being made today through the Anglo-CaCliforia National Bank of San Francisco, trustee under the identure.

One million dollars of these bonds are retired serially on the first of November each year until final payment of the issue, and semi-annual interest is distributed to bondholders on the first of each May and November.

Hearst Publications Incorporated and its parent company, Hearst Consolidated Publications Incorporated, have made an outstanding record during the three depression years.

In recent weeks, with the first indications of betterment in general business, there has been a pronounced increase in advertising volume and circulation among the publishing properties controlled by these two Hearst companies.

With the uptrend in business, the newspaper industry will be one of the first groups to immediately reflect improvement of conditions. The nationwide diversification of the 12 Hearst Consolidated Publications Incorporated enterprises places that organization in an exceptionally advantageous position as it derives its advertising from all lines of business and advertising is a necessity to prevent sales stagnation.

NEW SALES TAX ON IN N. Y.

ALBANY, N. Y., May 1.—(AP.)—Potential dollars from the state's new 1 per cent retail sales tax began dropping into the yawning coffers of the New York State Treasury at the opening of business in the stores today.

For the next 14 months the population of 13,000,000 persons will pay taxes on nearly everything it buys—except important foods, land, gas and electricity. Nevertheless prices on many articles were unchanged today.

The state estimates the average family will pay through merchants $7.50 a year in sales tax. The total yield to the state is estimated at $28,000,000 to $30,000,000.

Elephant Tosses Keepers Into Air

MUNICH, Germany, May 1.—(AP.)—A bull elephant that suddenly broke loose in the Munich zoological garden attacked the director of the zoo, Heinz Heck, and an attendant, tossing both into the air. Heck suffered concussion of the brain and two rib fractures, while the attendant was severely hurt about the head.

Sale of 'Makeup' Greater Than House Paint

CHICAGO, May 1.—(AP.)—Observing that "lovely, serene old age" went out of style with arrival of the jazz era, Dr. Louis Anspancher, political scientist and economist, in a lecture here yesterday, said:

"Statistics prove that more dye and makeup were sold in the last few years than were used for house paint in the whole history of the republic."

WAKE UP YOUR LIVER BILE— WITHOUT CALOMEL

And You'll Jump Out of Bed in the Morning Rarin' to Go

If you feel sour and sunk and the world looks punk, don't swallow a lot of salts, mineral water, oil, laxative candy or chewing gum and expect them to make you suddenly sweet and buoyant and full of sunshine.

For they can't do it. They only move the bowels and a mere movement doesn't get at the cause. The reason for your down-and-out feeling is your liver. It should pour out two pounds of liquid bile into your bowels daily.

If this bile is not flowing freely, your food doesn't digest. It just decays in the bowels. Gas bloats up your stomach. You have a thick, bad taste and your breath is foul, skin often breaks out in blemishes. Your head aches and you feel down and out. Your whole system is poisoned.

It takes those good, old CARTER'S LITTLE LIVER PILLS to get these two pounds of bile flowing freely and make you feel "up and up." They contain wonderful, harmless, gentle vegetable extracts, amazing when it comes to making the bile flow freely.

But don't ask for liver pills. Ask for Carter's Little Liver Pills. Look for the name Carter's Little Liver Pills on the red label. Resent a substitute. 25c at all stores. © 1931 C. M. Co.

Rescued Man Held After Fall Into River

Thomas Tunney, 57, of 237 Wolfendale street, started up the gangplank of an Allegheny River houseboat to pay a visit to a friend. He fell.

Rescued by William Carey, a houseboat resident, as he thrashed about in the water, Tunney was taken to Allegheny General Hospital. A charge of drunkenness was lodged against him at the North Side Police Station.

'Daffydil' Recommended as Flower for Assembly

By MARK SHIELDS

Mr. Shields

HARRISBURG, May 1.—This is May Day when some gentlemen and ladies demonstrate in behalf of the proletariat, but when other gladsome, gay and youthful spirits frolic about the May pole, scattering garlands and crowning the May queen.

There probably will be no effective demonstrations in behalf of the proletariat in our Legislature. And if seized with the other exemplification of May spirit, they could do nothing about it, for on any given subject the gentlemen of Harrisburg do not know whether they may or may not, will or will not, do anything at any scheduled time. Even if they did, they would be completely confused as to what kind of garlands to toss in honor of Pennsylvania, for the Legislature solemnly has passed two bills on the subject, each declaring the sense of the memberships that different posies should be the official state flower. And the boys would be so busy crowning each other they would have no time to crown a queen.

That sentence about the two state flowers is serious. Representative Ed Hough of the North Side, Pittsburgh, impressed by the floral displays of the Allegheny Market House, put in a bill decreeing that the wild azalea should be the state flower. And the Legislature agreed with him heartily, passing the bill and putting it on the Governor's desk.

Then came Representative Chester Rhodes, a Democrat, of Monroe County.

He championed the mountain laurel, introduced a bill designating it the state flower, and in a beautiful absence of partisanship, but a remarkable example of confusion, the Legislature passed his bill also, and that, too, is before the Governor.

'Daffydil' Probably Most Appropriate

I don't know what Mr. Pinchot, who is something of a forester, is going to do about this momentous question. But after an experience of four months here, my advice to the Governor would be to toss both bills back to the Legislature and demand passage of a new bill selecting as the state flower one emblematic of what has gone on here.

It would be the "daffydil."

Chances for the proletariat on this May Day are not so bright, if one can believe predictions as to the fate in store tonight for a predicted attempt to discharge the Senate committee which has bottled up the constitutional amendment for old age pensions.

The measure passed the House, but not until discharge of the committee blocking it there had been compelled.

Plans at the moment call for a similar effort in the Senate, with Senator Frank J. Harris, of Allegheny County, making the motion. The Senate is a most dignified body, and regards its committees as sacrosanct, even while admitting that a committee may be tieing up legislation which would be approved by a majority of the whole membership.

That is the situation on the old age pension resolution. A subcommittee of three, all opposed to the bill, has pickled it. Yet there is no question but what, should opportunity be afforded to vote on the bill, that 37 Senators—a minimum estimated—would vote in the affirmative.

Good Fellowship Rules Senate Procedure

However, there is no chance that 37 will vote to discharge the committee. There is grave doubt that even a majority will do so, as it is not in memory of the oldest settler that a Senate committee has ever been discharged. Good fellowship and a sort of courtesy throttle good judgment and beliefs in principles of government.

One member of the committee having the bill, the committee which delegated consideration to the hard boiled subcommittee consisting of Senators Fay, Woodward

TWO CHILDREN ABANDONED IN TERMINAL

Richly Dressed Girls Happy With Dolls In Washington

WASHINGTON, Pa., May 1.—Two girls, aged 4 and 6 years, were having a good time today at the Juvenile Detention Home at Arden Downs, awaiting identification after being left in the White Star bus lines waiting room by a man who placed them on a bench and then disappeared.

The children, who told Chief of Police Joseph Verderber they were Helen and Dorothy McFeeney, of Pittsburgh, have decided they don't want to leave the detention home, because "we're havin' a good time."

They don't know exactly where they live, or how they got to Washington.

ARRIVE IN AUTO

Verderber said the children were brought here last night in a large automobile, accompanied by a well dressed man. He brought the children into the waiting room and then disappeared in the crowd of passengers. A black suitcase, containing three changes of expensive clothing, was left with the girls. Two new dolls were also packed with their belongings and both Helen and Dorothy played with them all day.

Early yesterday attendants at the bus terminal noticed the children had no escort. Questioning developed they had been left and told to wait until their "big man" returned. They were fed at the terminal restaurant and police were called. Chief Verderber then placed the children in the custody of the detention home.

NAMES REVEALED

When questioned, Helen, who is the older child, said:

"My name's Helen McFeeney and this is Dorothy, my little sister. Mamma calls Papa Harry and he calls her Betsy."

Asked if she wanted to see her father, Helen said:

"No, but I wanna see Mommy."

Chief Vedreber broadcast a description of the two children over the state police teletype system.

Verderber advanced the theory that the children were brought here, possibly by their father or his agent after a family quarrel to "bring his wife to time."

Helen has blue eyes, brown curly hair and wore a blue silk dress when found. Dorthy has a brown Dutch bob, big wide blue eyes, wore a red silk dress.

POLICE BEATING CURBED BY BOY'S DEATH

Mace Use Restricted By McQuaide; Fatal Clubbing Probed

Use of the policeman's mace except as a "last resort" was barred by an edict of Police Supt. Franklin T. McQuaide today as Patrolman Hiram McAbee was to be questioned by Coroner W. J. McGregor in the death of Lawrence O'Malley Friday.

McAbee, suspended pending recommendations by Coroner McGregor, arrested O'Malley last Thursday in front of 611 Warrington avenue after striking him over the head with his mace, according to statements by five witnesses.

O'Malley, apparently uninjured when taken to Mt. Washington station, according to Sergt. Roy Brandt, later became ill and was taken to South Side Hospital, where he died of a fractured skull.

BRUTALITY BANNED

Supt. McQuaide's statement against police brutality was:

"That thing has passed, and as long as I am police superintendent, I will be against it. The maces were issued to patrolmen for self protection and they were instructed to use them as a last resort."

Witnesses questioned by Homicide Detective Frank Ferris, conducting an investigation for McQuaide, agreed that McAbee struck O'Malley over the head when he refused to move on with a tree he was carrying. O'Malley, who is reported to have been drunk, swore at the officer, fell down and in the ensuing scuffle was struck on the head, according to the statements.

Lieut. Ferris said McAbee admitted he struck O'Malley, but said he did so in self-defense when O'Malley attempted to take the officer's mace.

Adam Mees, 434 Althea street, said:

Howard Lambert, 335 Climax street, said:

"I heard the officer tell the man to move on. They both slipped. O'Malley was struck during the scuffle.

STORY OF WITNESSES

George Fortunato, 447 Iberia street, said:

"McAbee first pushed him slightly. The man fell and the officer hit him."

Fortunato himself was arrested last night with three others in connection with the beating of Joseph Bauer, 43, of 402 Knox avenue.

Miss Marie Donahue, 40, of 47 Vinecliff street, Bauer's sister-in-law, identified Fortunato, Raymond Staher, of 128 Excelsior street; Regis O'Brien, of 241 Archer street, and Bernard Dempsey, of 45 McClain street, as the four who insulted her and beat her companion in Bailey avenue near Judicial avenue. Bauer's condition was reported as serious at the hospital.

Rev. Wallace Leaves Estate of $12,000

An estate of $12,000 was left two children by the Rev. John J. Wallace's will, filed today. He was editor of the Pittsburgh Christian Advocate.

After bequests to the children, Ione W. and Walter B., the will read:

"My omission to make provision here for my beloved wife, Celia A. Wallace, is in deference to her own wishes since we both have full confidence in the willingness of her son and daughter to take care of her while she lives."

Inflation, Just Hitch-Hiker on A Farm Wagon

By ARTHUR (BUGS) BAER

Inflation was smuggled in as a hitch-hiker on the farm wagon.

Now we will have to look in all the woodpiles to make sure they ain't half kindling and half stowaways.

Senator Borah certainly made a magnificent speech about something. We admire Senator Glass for saying, even if he was wrong, nobody could convince him of it.

Mr. Borah sort of lost his head and yelled things he should have whispered.

However, we can all fall back on that dignified apology, "If I said anything I am sorry for, I am glad of it."

But all that was last week. We are taking our history fresh every morning with the milk and eggs.

10,000 CHANGE HOMES HERE

Thousands of families changed domiciles today, Moving Day. Vans began their task soon after sunup in fair and balmy weather.

The Duquesne Light Company estimated that 10,000 families in Allegheny County would shift abodes this year. This is 5,000 less than last year.

CITY TO HAVE NIGHT COURT

Pittsburgh is going to have a night police court, Mayor Herron announced today.

Magistrate Leo Rothenberg will preside. Council today appropriated $100 to send Rothenberg to New York to study Manhattan's night court.

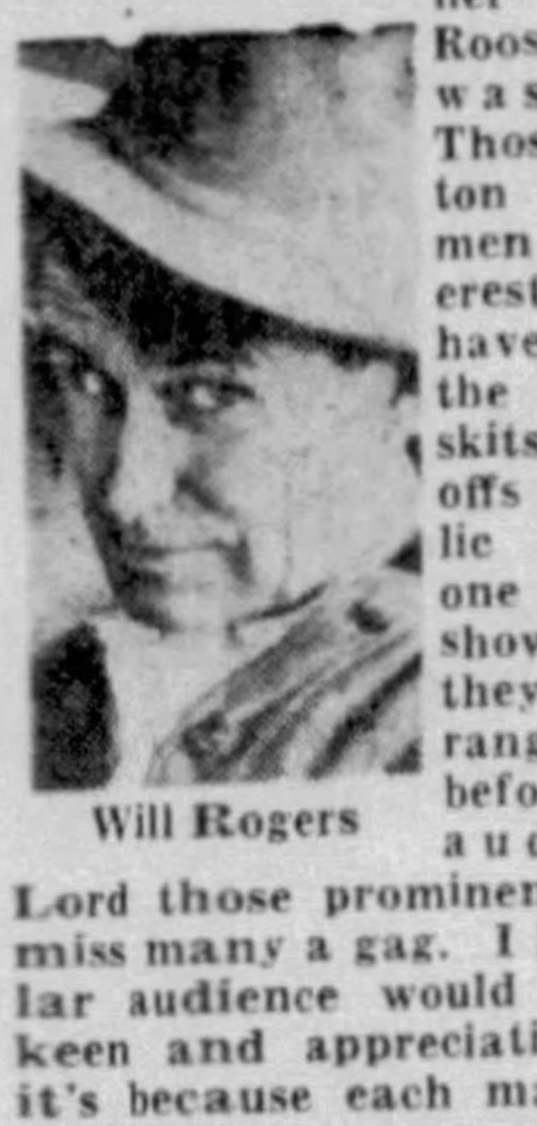
The new court, to be held at Central, will eliminate congestion and enable innocent prisoners to regain their liberty sooner, the Mayor hopes.

The new court will be temporary, until its value is proved.

SCOUTS TO AID TRAFFIC COUNT

The eighth annual Boy Scout traffic count will be taken May 25. More than 1,200 Scouts of Allegheny County Council West will take part in this year's count, the largest number of Scouts ever used to aid in gathering traffic data.

WILL ROGERS SAYS



Will Rogers

NEW YORK, May 1.

Did you ever go to a dinner and have to stand up, and not even get any dinner? Well, I did Saturday night, at the Gridiron dinner to President Roosevelt. It sure was worth it. Those Washington newspapermen are the cleverest ones we have. They have the cleverest skits and take-offs on our public men. This one was a great show. It's a pity they don't arrange to do 'em before a regular audience, for Lord those prominent men there miss many a gag. I know a regular audience would be twice as keen and appreciative. I think it's because each man in Washington is so engrossed in his own sphere that he is not so well up on all topics as the average reader. And these sketches cover everything. Ogden Mills and the President both made good speeches. I think those things do a lot of good to help keep those old big boys' feet on the ground. But say, I would stand on my head to see another one. Yours,

WILL ROGERS.

JUNIOR PATROL TALENT EAGER

Many letters were being received at the Pittsburgh Sun-Telegraph from members of the Junior Patrol, who want to take part in the club's radio program. The broadcast will go on the air at 4:45 p. m. Wednesday over WCAE.

Robert Neal, 12, of Blairsville, one of the first persons to send in his radio coupon, wrote:

"I am glad to hear that you are going to start a radio program. If you are trying to get someone to play the piano, I can play. I would be glad to hear you say I can play over the radio, and so would my mother and father, because they are trying to get me to do something like that. So long, Junior."

Quin Hall's two principal comic strip characters, "Snuggins" and "Junior," will taks the lead parts on the radio program. The program will last a half hour.

ALL CREEDS ONE IN HONORING ROOSEVELT

Prayers and Speeches Mark Observance Of Day Here

President's Day came, and Pittsburgh and the nation paid Franklin Delano Roosevelt its tribute in prayer.

Flags flew before little homes and on the masts of skyscrapers. From pulpit, over the air waves, in meetings in many places, men and women spoke of the nation's chief.

The observance began at one minute after midnight, when on the around-the-world broadcast of Station KDKA, a prayer was sent out by long and short wave into virtually every nook and cranny of the globe.

Hardly a radio program that failed to mention the day and pay tribute to the President.

PROGRAM FROM WCAE

From WCAE, the station's orchestra augmented addresses by Col. Samuel Harden Church, president of Carnegie Institute; Walter A. Jones, associate of M. L. Benedum, and Dr. Thomas S. Baker, president of Carnegie Institute of Technology. Ed Harvey, program director, arranged the affair, which started at 7:30 p. m.

Col. Church declared President Roosevelt had intelligence, a conscience and patriotism. He said:

"We found that all the old formulas were of no avail when we faced the problems of unemployment. We found commissions of no use, and now we have given the President as much power as he wants.

"These are new times and require different conditions. Some say it is dictatorship, but it is not. We have given him no more power that he needs."

Dr. Baker also spoke of the tremendous power placed in the hands of the President, and denied that he would use it as a dictator, saying:

"Great crisis demand great power."

Mr. Jones paid tribute to the loyalty of the American citizen, declaring that President's Day and its national observance was free expression of a self-governing people. He said the President would only succeed insofar as the people supported him.

Tributes were paid to Roosevelt Saturday in the synagogues and yesterday in sermons of the Christian churches throughout the land.

MAIL SWAMPS WHITE HOUSE

WASHINGTON, May 1.—(INS.)—The nation's response to yesterday's observance of "President's Day" was so tremendous that the White House staff found itself overwhelmed today. President Roosevelt, through his secretariat, asked the newspapers to acknowledge for him the thousands of telegrams and letters of good will and indorsement.

This morning's mail ran up to 7,000 letters and telegrams. There were 1,200 telegrams alone from every state congratulating Mr. Roosevelt on his conduct of the presidential office to date.

The President, it was stated, is extremely grateful for this evidence of support, but because of the press of national and international affairs, he will not be able to answer them individually.

atic and Concert Singers, with 40 voices, opened its program, which had been arranged by Program Director James M. Hughes. Following the choral, the Rev. Dr. A. J. Holl, pastor of the English Lutheran Church, gave a brief prayer, concluding with:

"May God bless and prosper the labors of our President and all who are associated with him, that Thy will be done on earth."

Following him was Rabbi Herman Hailperin, of the Tree of Life Synagogue. Pointing out the need for co-operation between the citizen and the chief executive and other governmental officials, he added:

"It is the duty of every citizen to share with the highest executive the labors and responsibilities of his office. The burdens of government rest likewise on us, who stand by, and him who serves."

The Rev. James R. Cox, pastor of Old St. Patrick's Roman Catholic Church, told of his experiences as a chaplain in France. He said:

"When I attended soldiers on the battlefield who were wounded, and I asked them their last wish, it invariably was this: 'Take me back to God's country and bury me there.'

"If it was worth their dying for, it's worth supporting and praying for. And a prayer for and support of our President is a prayer for this great land of ours."

While this program was going out on the air, a President's Day program was going on in the County Jail. Thomas Griffith's orchestra played national airs, and the Rev. A. M. Stremel, missionary, preached on President's Day.

ALL CREEDS UNITE

Men of all creeds and stations flocked to the mass meeting in the Glassport High School, where Judge Benjamin Lencher, of the County Court, and others spoke. The meeting started at 2 p. m. In many other communities similar meetings were held.

Nearly 1,000 Knights Templar formed on Ross street and, in full uniform, paraded to Trinity Cathedral, where a President's Day service was held. Dean N. R. High Moor read a President's prayer while the knights, standing with swords arched, paid their homage to the nation's chief.

Many night sermons were preached on the varied activities [illegible] Presidents. In the Shera-[illegible] Methodist Episcopal Church, Rev. J. D. Van Horn preached to a congregation augmented by a group of Odd Fellows.

BOYS PLEDGE SUPPORT

Last night Wilmerding observed the beginning of Boys' Week, and in every church the boys of the district took pledges to support the President. The prayer-pledge was prepared by George Charlesworth, boys' director of the Y. M. C. A., who with the support of all church and civic groups are sponsoring the week.

More than 1,000 miners in Monongahela and California, Pa., yesterday offered prayers for the President. The services were arranged by the United Mine Workers of America.

P. T. Fagan, district president, was the principal speaker at the services in Monongahela. Others were William Hargest, district secretary-treasurer, and B. J. Damich, of Bentleyville, district organizer.

The California services were addressed by Van A. Bitner, of Fairmont, W. Va., and William Feeney, of Charleroi, district board member.

America Observes First President's Day

NEW YORK, May 1.—(Universal.)—President's Day, observed for the first time in the United States yesterday, evoked a national response in keeping with its significance.

Gathering in their places of worship throughout the country, the American people lifted their voices in thanksgiving for the presence of Franklin D. Roosevelt in the White House and pleas for his divine guidance as he continues his immense tasks.

Civic ceremonies supplemented the religious services. There were parades, pageants and other demonstrations.

With the celebration designated by proclamation of governors and mayors in many states immediately after it was first suggested by William Randolph Hearst in his newspapers, President's Day as a permanent institution was urged by many public speakers yesterday.

A public prayer meeting in Hamilton Fish Park by men and women of the East Side was one of the distinctive events of the day in Manhattan.

F. R. Attends Church; Hears Himself Praised

WASHINGTON, May 1.—(Universal.)—While the American people honored him in a nationwide observance of President's Day, Franklin D. Roosevelt attended services Sunday morning at St. Thomas' Church, and later took a short cruise down the Potomac on the yacht Sequoia.

Mrs. Roosevelt attended services with the President. The Rev. C. Ernest Smith, pastor, extolled the President.

Churches of the capital joined in the observance of President's Day.

ASPINWALL DAM PAY PACT NEAR

WASHINGTON, May 1.—Representative-elect Henry Ellenbogen, of Pittsburgh, was advised today by Secretary of War Dern his department expected the Vang Construction Company to pay "the average scale of wages of the community" in work being done on Aspinwall dam.

Secretary Dern said wages paid on the Aspinwall project had been subject to a series of conferences between Vang and Maj. Gen. Lytle Brown, chief of Army Engineers, and Vang had agreed to study the wage situation and report his conclusions to the War Department.

Hundreds Flee As Refinery Burns

GLADEWATER, Tex., May 1.—(AP.)—Hundreds of homes were vacated today as an oil fire raged on the south edge of Gladewater.

The Gregg Refinery, with a capacity of 500 barrels daily, was destroyed and the flames attacked the plant of the Trinity Refinery, which has a capacity of 1,000 barrels.

REFINERS FIGHT 5-DAY WEEK

WASHINGTON, May 1.—(AP.)—Opposition of American sugar refiners to the 30-hour work week bill on the ground that it will "scrap" American industry and prove unconstitutional was put before the House Labor Committee today by Charles R. Crisp, a former member of Congress from Georgia.

Michigan Prison Trusties Elope

JACKSON, Mich., May 1.—(INS.)—Hundreds of state police and Michigan State Prison guards combed the highways of Southern Michigan today for two trusties—a man and a woman—believed to have eloped with the private automobile of Warden Harry L. Jackson.

The pair, Cora Cannel, 35, and Stanley Miercanka, 32, had been working as house-servants in the warden's home.

TRAP FOR THIEF ENDS IN KILLING

PHILADELPHIA, May 1.—(AP.)—Julius Lorilliere was under arrest on a charge of manslaughter today in connection with the slaying of a man Lorrilliere and his wife ambushed in an attempt to trap a thief who had stripped a vacant house they own.

The dead man was identified as High Warren, 35, a Negro.

Lorrilliere and his wife lay in wait in the house last night, convinced the intruder would return for two bags of fixtures and brass pipe already packed in the cellar.

After a three-hour wait, they heard someone opening a cellar window. At a command to raise his hands, the intruder dashed for the cellar stairs and Lorrilliere told police he fired three shots. One of them struck Warren in the back.

TRUANT OFFICER ENDS STRIKE

RIVERSIDE, N. J., May 1.—(AP.)—Riverside's school strike ended today.

Fewer than 50 pupils were estimated to be absent from their classes, in the high and junior high schools, a tenth of the number which struck all last week in protest against reinstatement of Mrs. Marion B. Rein as supervising principal.

The strikers agreed over the week-end to attend classes to avoid action by the truant officer.

Many Chileans Held In Political Plot

SANTIAGO, Chile, May 1.—(INS.)—Many prominent Chileans were under arrest today following decisive action of President Arturo Alessandri to nip a plot to restore former President Ibanez to power.

'Depression Crazy,' Wife's Plea in Slaying of 2

CHICAGO, May 1.—(AP.)—The defense offered by Mrs. Doris D. Peters, 38, charged with the killing, April 4, of her husband and son by a former marriage, will be "depression insanity," her attorney said today.

Mrs. Peters was bound over to the grand jury April 20 by a Coroner's jury. Peters, who, according to his wife, had lost his job as a milk driver, and the youth, William J. Bertalot, were shot to death.

ROAD BUILDING BY COUNTIES URGED

Abandonment of second class townships as road building units and transfer of this duty to the counties has been recommended to members of the Legislature from Allegheny County by the Board of Directors of the Pittsburgh Motor Club.

According to an estimate by Gov. Pinchot, second class townships spend about $18,000,000 yearly on highway building and maintenance. Gov. Pinchot has recommended that this work be taken over by the Department of Highways and that 53,000 additional miles of township roads be taken over by the state. That would make a total of 73,000 miles of rural roads and 13,000 miles of main highways under the supervision of the state department.

Officers of the Motor Club recommended that counties assume the road work of second class townships because, generally, they are more capable of conducting the work efficiently. The club recommended that no further addition of rural roads be made to the state highway system at the present time.

RUTH GUARDED AGAINST SUICIDE

PHOENIX, Ariz., May 1.—(INS.)—Watched night and day against a possible attempt to end her life, Winnie Ruth Judd is slowly adapting herself to the routine of life in a hospital for the insane.

The famous "trunk murderess" was brought here a week ago from the state prison at Phoenix after a jury, by declaring her mentally unsound, saved her at the last minute from hanging.

START SPRING FESTIVAL

The Irene Kaufmann Settlement began its spring festival and boys' week program today.

At 4 p. m. its playground is being opened. More than 150 children are taking part in a flag raising, maypole dance and folk games.

The spring festival dance will be held tomorrow night and on Wednesday the marble tournament and track exhibition will take place. Painting and modeling exhibits, a musicale, volleyball games, swimming parties and dances will be held during the remainder of the week.

NECK BROKEN IN AUTO CRASH

Mrs. Stella Feinangle, 46, of 1525 Greenfield avenue, Millvale, suffered a fractured neck today.

Riding in an automobile driven by her son, Lee, their car was struck from the rear by another machine at East Ohio and Heinz streets, police reported.

She was taken to Allegheny General Hospital where her condition was said to be critical.

The homicide squad was ordered to obtain a statement from B. H. Fincher, R. D. 2, Sharsburg, driver of the other machine.

and Buckman, upon a former occasions voted in committee to report the measure. He would do so again, if offered the opportunity, he says, yet he would not vote to discharge the committee.

Pressure has been put on Senators by labor groups to bring about discharge of the committee. Some enthusiasts demonstrated about the baronial estate of Senator Woodward in the Germantown district of Philadelphia Saturday, and the only result was that six were arrested. The Senator was unmoved and did not even shiver in the golf pants he always wears.

During the day the exact position of the Allegheny County Senators will be disclosed.

Senator James J. Coyne, if he adopts the same course pursued by his followers in the House, will vote with the Republican state organization and the Grundy element to hold the bill in committee. In the House, when the Grundy and state organization crowd was smashed on this proposition by a coalition of Democrats and Philadelphia and Pinchot Republicans, the Allegheny County loyal members, except Dr. Joseph G. Steedle, voted against reporting the bill.

Then, when it was plainly apparent that they were defeated, and before the roll could be announced, they changed their votes. And some of them were a bit miffed with Dr. Steedle, whose name followed far after theirs in the rollcall, and whom they said had the advantage of knowing which way the cat was to jump before he was called on for an expression.

I would not know about that.

IMMACULATE CONCEPTION'S WARNING TO IT'S WORSHIPERS

FEW EVICTIONS REPORTED HERE

Less than half a dozen evictions have been made by sheriff's deputies during April because of the reasonable attitude of landlords and tenants, Sheriff Frank I. Gollmar said today.

In many cases, Gollmar sat as a referee and differences have been settled peacefully.

A moratorium on sheriff's sales expired April 3, but there has been no rush of sales since, Gollmar said. Today there were 234 properties listed for sale at the County Building, most of which were bought in by the plaintiffs for the amount of the claim.

British to Show 'Speed Demon' Here

The Royal Scot, crack British train and holder of the world's records for the longest individual non-stop runs, will be placed on exhibition here May 20. This was announced today by the Pennsylvania Railroad. The train, marked different in design of engine and cars from American models, later will be displayed at the World's Fair, Chicago.

PRIEST WARNS OF THIEVES

Warned by signs on church pillars, members were worshipping in safety in the Church of the Immaculate Conception, Bloomfield. The signs read:

"Beware of Pickpockets."

The Rev. Bonaventure Piscope, who placed the warning after many complaints of pickpockets' activities, said the congregation had not been bothered since.

With pickpockets also at work in St. Paul's Cathedral, detectives were stationed there last week. They arrested one suspect, whose action in moving from pew to pew during services drew their attention.

A number of churches have also been visited by sneak thieves, including the Church of the Immaculate Conception, St. Paul's Cathedral, St. Mary's Church, Lawrenceville, and the Immaculate Heart Church, Bloomfield. Losses, however, have been slight. Neighborhood hoodlums were blamed.

Powder... cleans teeth as nothing else can

OUTLASTS TOOTHPASTE 2 to 1

Doubly Efficient At Only Half The Cost

THERE is nothing known that will clean and polish teeth so quickly and leave them so gleamingly white—as POWDER.

That is why your dentist, when cleaning your teeth, as you know—always uses powder.

As it is only the powder part of any dentifrice that cleans, a dentifrice that is ALL POWDER just naturally cleans best.

Dr. Lyon's Tooth Powder is ALL POWDER—100% cleansing properties. This is more than twice the cleansing properties of tooth pastes.

Dull Teeth Become White

Dentists everywhere recommend Dr. Lyon's Tooth Powder, because—teeth simply cannot remain dull and film coated when it is used.

It cleans off all stains and tartar, and polishes the teeth in a harmless and practical way that leaves them sparkling—many shades whiter.

No Grit—No Pumice

Free from all grit or pumice, Dr. Lyon's cannot possibly scratch, or injure the softest enamel, as years of constant use have shown.

Dr. Lyon's Tooth Powder keeps your teeth REALLY CLEAN and clean teeth mean—firm, healthy gums, freedom from pyorrhea and the least possible tooth decay.

Lasts Longer—Costs Less

Once you use Dr. Lyon's Tooth Powder, you will never be satisfied to use anything else. It leaves your teeth feeling so much cleaner, your mouth so refreshed, and your breath so sweet and pure.

Dr. Lyon's is not only doubly efficient, but it costs only half as much to use. Even a small package lasts twice as long as a tube of tooth paste.

TELL IT TO ELSIE -:- -:- Follow This Unusual Feature Day by Day -:- -:- By ELSIE ROBINSON

Parents Should Not Hamper Children's Happiness

Why does Mamma want to oust Jack's Girl Friend?

Why does she have "crying spells" when he mentions marriage?

Is she really fighting for "Jack's own good" — or is there, maybe, another reason?

Dear Elsie Robinson—

I would appreciate it if you would give me a reply to this letter. I need advice.

I am a well-educated young man, 23 years old, and I have always thought that I was capable of making my own decisions regarding my affairs. But I have reached a point where I am baffled, so I am calling on you for help.

I am faced with the problem of whether I should give up a girl whom I love and who loves me.

This girl has many friends, is well liked by everyone, has good morals, is religious and intelligent, and has a wonderful personalty. The rest of the story is like this.

My mother, for several petty reasons, does not like this girl, and she is constantly going into crying spells and saying that my going with the girl is the thanks a mother gets for almost giving her life to bring a son into the world.

She says that this girl would not make a good wife for me, because she "can't cook or sew, and has a nervous disposition."

MUST MAKE DECISION

I secretly think that my mother would take this attitude toward any girl I was interested in. But she insists that she wouldn't.

I have been living between the devil and the deep sea. It means I must either give up the pure and sincere love of a girl who means a great deal to me, or give up the respect, blessing and love of my mother.

Won't you give me some advice? Please help me. What'll I do? JACK.

What'll you do?

Lean on your own backbone, and make your own decisions, son! If you and this girl love each other, and you're sure that she is as fine as you say she is, then it's up to you, not to Mamma, whether you marry her or not.

You're a grown man now, and it's time for you to act Your Age. You may make mistakes, but what of it? Mamma made mistakes, too—and she can't live your life for you, no matter how much she likes the job.

And, I suspect, that is the real secret of her "crying spells." For 23 years you have been Her Baby. She has guided you and advised you, all of which gave her a very satisfying feeling of importance. If you go out of her life now she'll lose her audience and her adventure. So, naturally, she wants to hold on to you.

BE A MAN

Don't let her, Jack. She may have risked her life to bring you here. Every mother does that. But that doesn't give her the right to demand your life and risk your happiness in return. After all, it is your happiness that is at stake, not hers. It is up to her now to let you be your own man and take your own chances.

"But if I don't do as she asks, I'll lose her love and respect," you say. No, you won't. She'll put on a riot, of course, and accuse you of being "ungrateful"—but she'll get over it.

And if she's a real mother, after it's all over she'll love you and respect you more for being the strong man every real mother wants her son to be.

And if she doesn't respect your independence? If she continues to storm and sob? Then that's her bad luck, and you have to ignore it as you would ignore the tantrums of any stranger.

For the sake of your self-respect, be a man. And if you can't be a man—don't marry.

Household Hints

Honey should always be kept in the dark or it will granulate.

Always use a dry heat for pastry and a moist one for cakes.

When buying a new paring knife for the kitchen, be sure to buy the sort with the blade that runs through the center of the handle and is fastened by rivets. It is much stronger than the sort where the blade is held by a metal ring.

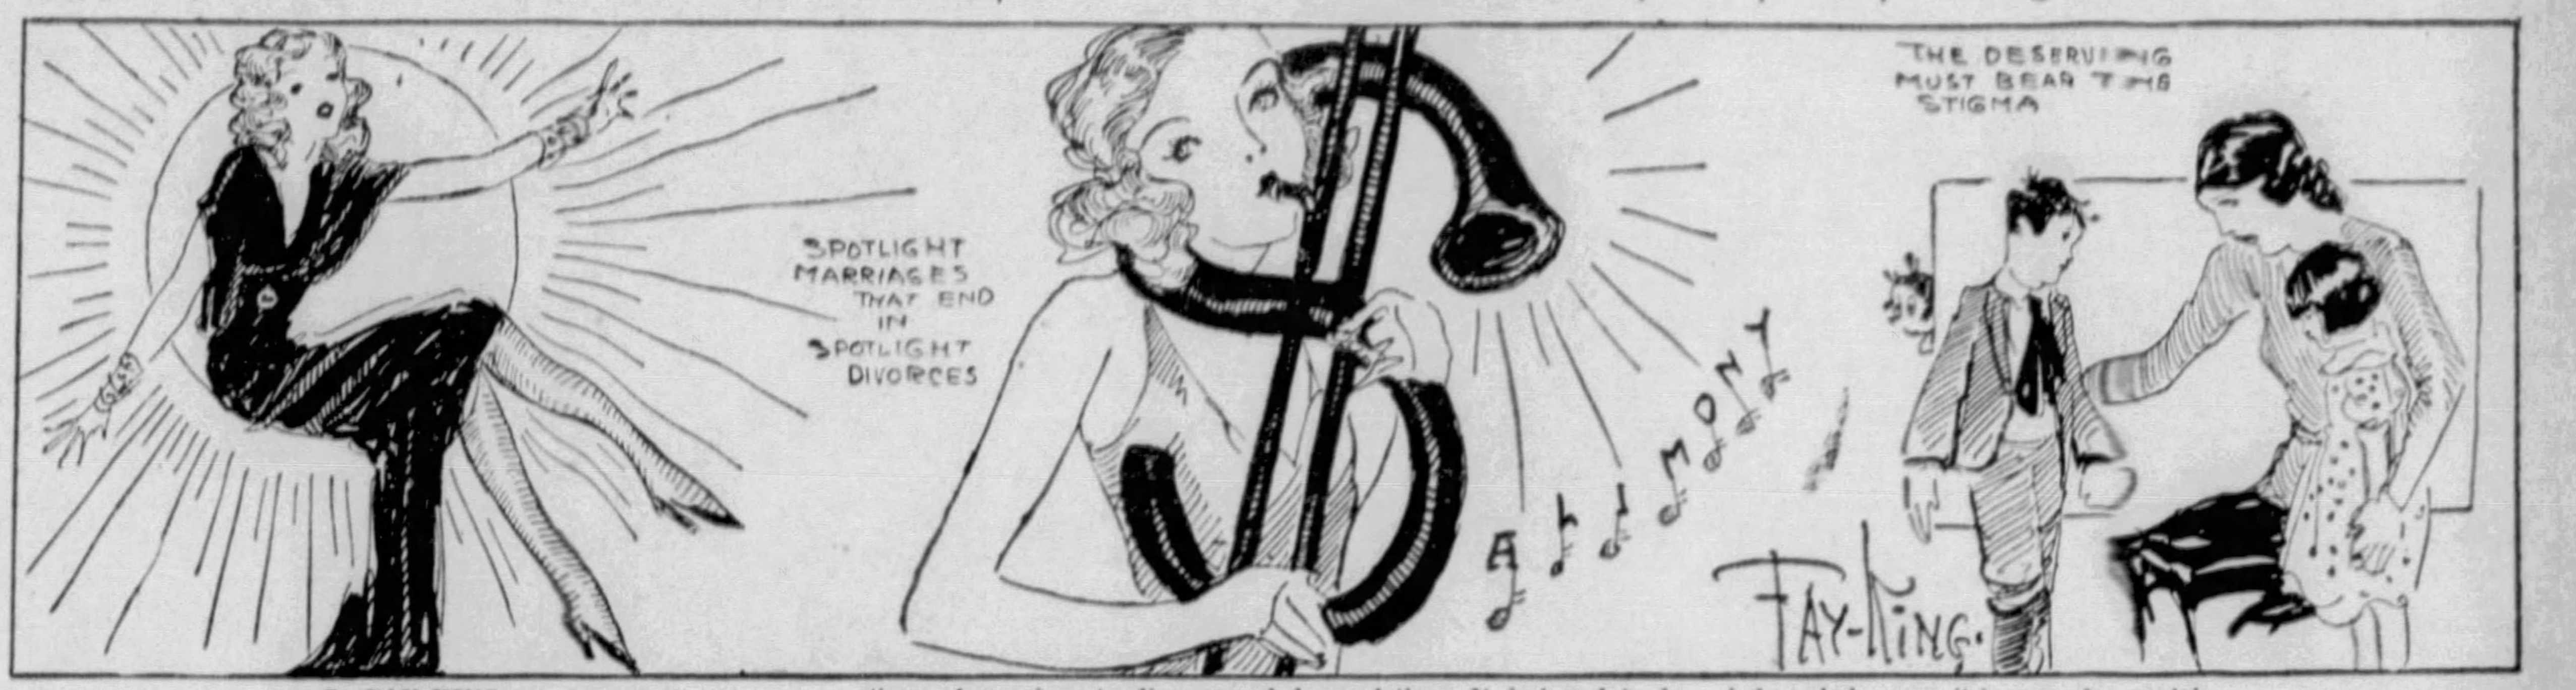
Divorce For Alimony Termed "Female Banditry" By Fay King



SPOTLIGHT MARRIAGES THAT END IN SPOTLIGHT DIVORCES
ALIMONY
THE DESERVING MUST BEAR THE STIGMA
FAY-KING

By FAY KING

It is ridiculous for a young childless woman after a very brief time of marriage to divorce and demand these. It is bound to be considered a form of female banditry.

When a husband leaves a woman who has been a good wife, a real homemaker, and is the mother of his children, he should be made to support them. Such a woman accepts a former husband's help only because it is so much needed.

But the public has little patience with these young women who make of marriage a kind of fame and fortune adventure, a "rags to riches" racket via the divorce courts.

Continuation of Love's Reawakening

By ADELE GARRISON

Madge and Ronald Find Owen's Car

I repeated Ronald's question first to myself, then aloud, with an instinctive effort to camouflage the terrified anxiety which it brought me.

"Do I think they're getting ready to land? It looks that way, but I can't be sure."

"Not even Mr. Graham could land that auto-gyro anywhere around here," Ronald said, with an appraising glance at the narrow path down which we were following Charles Owen and Marion. "But," diffidently, "don't you think they may be able to see where this trail comes out into a wider road, and that it may be nearer than we think?"

"That's the answer, undoubtedly, Ronald," I said, my excitement rising to the fever point. "The wider road must be just beneath where they are circling. We must be ready for anything, now.

"Remember, you must pay no attention to me or what happens to me. Just get on the back of that car. And there's something else you must remember, Ronald." I tried to make my voice impressive.

"I will do whatever you wish," he said quickly.

A WARNING

"There may very easily arrive an emergency when you will be tempted to make a dash for Owen, single-handed, in order to rescue Marion. Please remember that a waiting game on your part, an opportunity to know where he has taken her, may be of far more value than an attempt at rescuing her which has not only the possibility of failure, but of disabling you so that you could not follow the trail further."

"I see what you mean," Ronald said, "and I promise you I'll be careful."

"Thank you; I know I can trust you. Now, one last thing. Have you a pencil and a piece of paper in your pocket?"

"Yes, I have."

"Then, if it is possible, write down the license number of the car, after you have swung yourself upon it, and tuck the piece of paper inside one of those little bags of stones in your pocket. Throw that out on the road as soon as possible. Don't even wait to turn a corner."

"Wouldn't it be a good idea if I wrote the license twice, and put the second one in the bag that I throw out at the first corner?"

TO SEND MESSAGE

"That will be splendid, if you can manage it," I said.

"I either can't manage it at all, or I can manage two as well as one," he answered. "It all depends upon what model of car Owen has. I'll try it, anyway."

"If you succeed, it will simplify our problem greatly. Of course I shall try my best to get the license number myself, but I do not know how near I can get to the car. Have you thought what you're going to do if we fail to trail you?"

"I shall stay as near Marion as possible, and watch my chance to send some word to you; but where?"

"Either at the school, or at the hotel," I answered. "Better make your message cryptic, however. Give location and time plainly, but camouflage the rest, and sign your name N. O. R."

"Yes, I'll do that," Ronald assented.

And then, suddenly, the burdened horse which carried Owen and Marion turned a corner, and we at once accelerated our pace. That movement was nearly our undoing, because when we ourselves rounded the turn we found that the trail ended abruptly here, opening into a fairly wide road, and that drawn almost across the path was a large limousine with a powerful-looking man seated at the wheel.

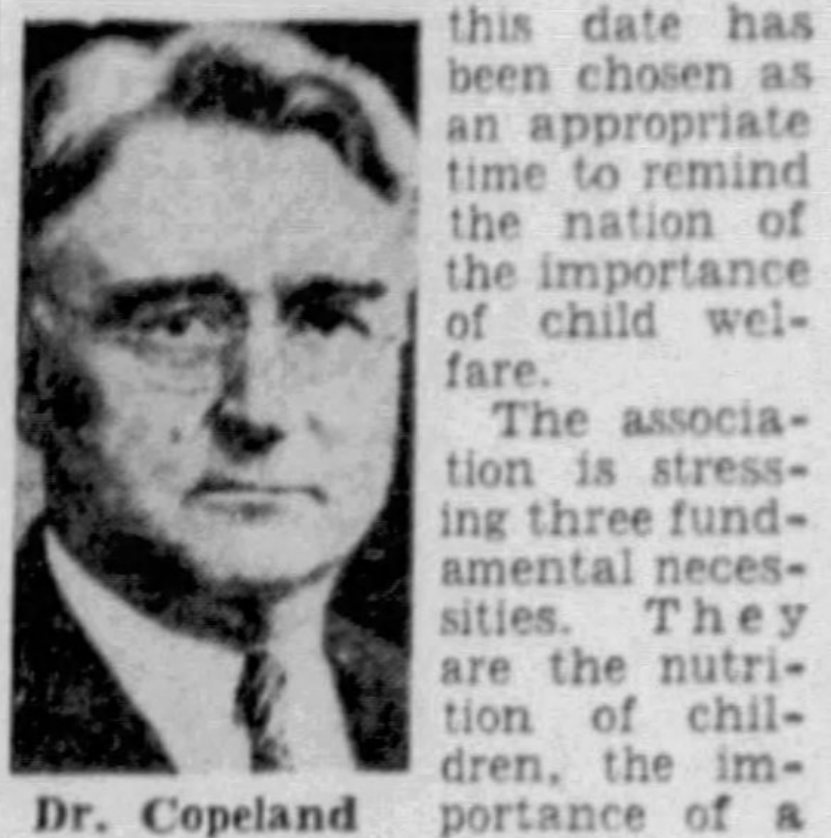
How to Keep Well

By DR. ROYAL S. COPELAND

Think Today of Welfare and Health of Children

May first is set aside as Child Health day. Under the auspices of the American Child Health Association, this date has been chosen as an appropriate time to remind the nation of the importance of child welfare.



Dr. Copeland

The association is stressing three fundamental necessities. They are the nutrition of children, the importance of a clean and adequate supply of milk and the protection of the mothers. This is a wise and forward looking program.

In considering the food requirements of children, we must always keep in mind the fact that they are still growing. They are constantly burning up energy by their vigorous activities. But they require more building foods than adults. A child develops daily, but only by reason of the assistance given by proper food. If the food supply of the child is scanty, growth is retarded.

A faulty diet results in undernourishment, with all the evils of what the doctors call "malnutrition." Malnutrition in a child is a serious thing and if it is not corrected may prove fatal. Malnutrition may result from other causes than the lack of proper food. It may follow improper rest; lack of sunshine, fresh air and exercise; and diseases of the intestines or kidneys. But in most instances, it is caused by improper or insufficient food.

Milk should be made the foundation of all meals. Never permit a child to become indifferent to milk and to develop a dislike for this important food. All health authorities agree that milk is the most nearly perfect food known and that each growing child requires a daily quart of milk. The best milk is none too good for your child.

Certified milk should be used whenever possible. The safest milk is pasteurized. When good milk is used in abundance the child is protected from the "catching diseases."

In general, the child's food should be carefully selected and the meals well planned. The diet should include milk, cream, butter, eggs, cereals, vegetables and fruits. Meat may be served occasionally. It may be given boiled, roasted or baked. I would advise against any fried foods for children.

Orange or tomato juice is extremely valuable. It is well, too, to give cod liver oil during the first two years of the child's life.

We must not overlook the need of care for the expectant mother. It is now an accepted fact that the care which she is given influences the future health of the child. Every prospective mother should receive the necessary medical examinations during the pre-natal period, as well as after the birth of the child.

Correct Manners

By Mrs. Cornelius Beeckman

Graduation Invitation

Dear Mrs. Beeckman:

As graduation time is approaching, I believe many girls are facing the same problem I am. I have been going about with a young man for almost two years, and although he doesn't live very far away, I have only been to his home twice in that time.

1—Would it be proper to send his parents an invitation to my graduation exercises, and would it be correct to write, "No obligation" on it?

2—If I send an invitation to his parents, would it be proper to send him a separate invitation? J.

1—To send these parents an invitation to your graduation would be a friendly thing to do, and I am sure that these people would not misinterpret your thoughtful gesture.

But don't write "No obligation" on this invitation . . . or any other phrase of this kind. That distinctly takes away from the charm of the invitation.

2—Yes, send the young man a separate invitation.

Contract Bridge -:-

HOW TO PLAY and HOW TO WIN

By JOSEPHINE CULBERTSON

The Choice of a Discard

One of the things necessary to learn in order to be a good Contract Bridge player is what and how to discard. This is a problem continually faced in hands in which the Declarer has a long, strong suit. Often the choice of a discard means either that the secret of successful defense has been solved, or, if the choice has been an unfortunate one, that the Declarer has been given the opportunity to make an otherwise impossible contract.

Today's hand illustrates a situation in which an unfortunate or rather careless discard by East gave to the Declarer the opportunity to make a contract, which, by more careful discarding, would have been defeated.

South, Dealer.
North and South vulnerable.

After South opened the bidding with four diamonds, North raised the contract to six. South's bid was undoubtedly an overbid, but North, with 3½ honor-tricks and adequate trump support, was certainly conservative in his bidding—in fact, a Grand Slam might have been undertaken.

West's Opening lead was the club Queen, which Declarer won with the Ace in Dummy. The Declarer then took six rounds of diamonds and two rounds of spades. East had been careless in discarding, and left the situation below, which presented the Declarer with a very pretty problem:

South was in the lead, and the crucial moment in the play of the hand had arrived. The player had been hoping to develop a squeeze position, but instead there developed, through careless discarding, an end-play situation that permitted the Declarer to make his contract. South now led the 8 of clubs, having kept careful count of the cards that had been discarded. East was thus forced to lead up to the heart tenace in Dummy, permitting South to discard the spade 10. If, instead of leading the club, the Declarer had continued with the diamond 7, he would have given to his adversaries the last chance to save game by permitting West to discard a spade and East to discard the club King.

End-plays involving forced leads usually arise in three-card situations, although, as in this case, they may occur when every player has four cards. East's unnecessary holding up the defense in the club suit gave Declarer his only chance to make the Slam.

TODAY'S QUESTION

♠Q32 ♡KQJ ◇K843 ♣K76

Answer: Two notrump. The hand contains but four playing-tricks in support of spades, and it is more important to show the honor-trick content of the holding than the fact that the hand contains spade support.

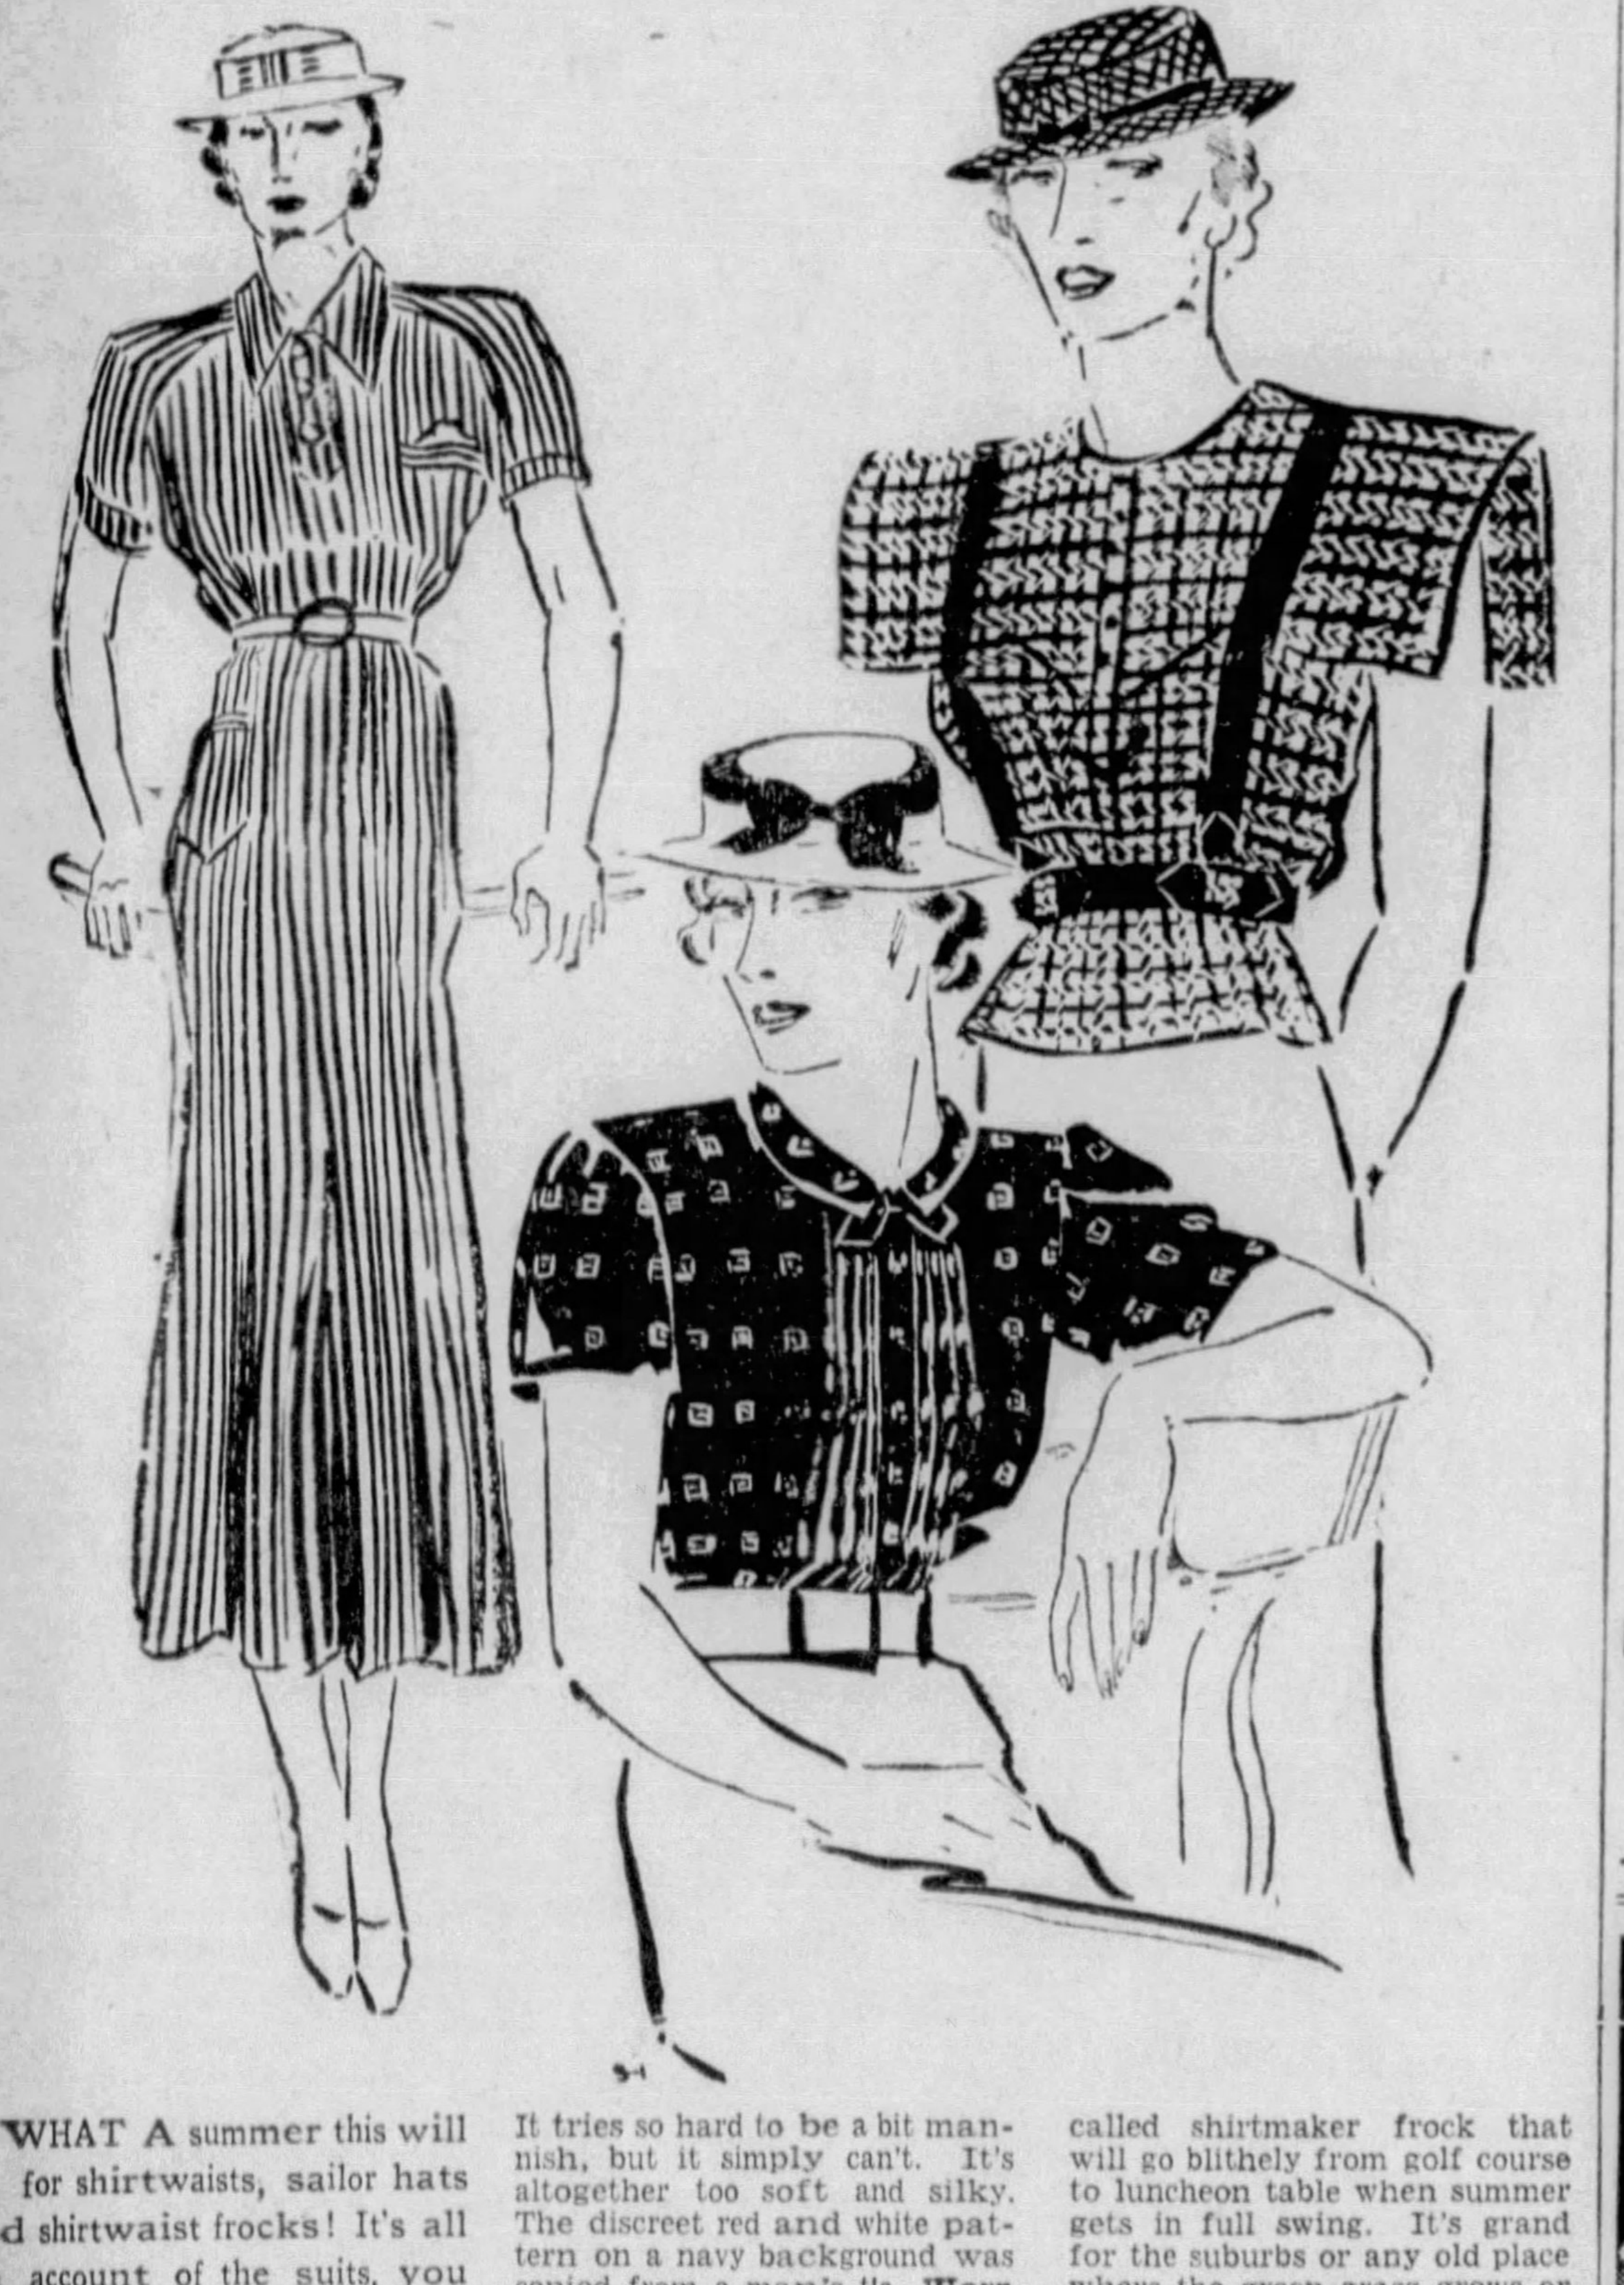
SHIRTWAISTS AND SAILORS FROM THE 'GIBSON GIRL' ERA



WHAT A summer this will be for shirtwaists, sailor hats and shirtwaist frocks! It's all on account of the suits, you know, and the definite feeling that has come over us for being tailored in our informal moments. Or perhaps it's the spirit of the Gibson girl come back. This being tailored is a downright hearty feeling, too, after so many frills and ruffles. Not that we scorn the frills, for they have their moments even when the days get sultry.

THERE'S A lot to be said for blouses. They are as different temperamentally as the feminine gender itself. For example, glimpse the little tuck-in number of the tie silk in the center. It tries so hard to be a bit mannish, but it simply can't. It's altogether too soft and silky. The discreet red and white pattern on a navy background was copied from a man's tie. Worn with it is a perky sailor of crocheted straw, string color with navy band.

THEN TAKE the instance of the crinkled gingham blouse with its small red and blue check on a white ground on the right. It's packed full of feminine allure from the square little shoulder to the blue suspenders of fine pique (these can be removed at will) that end in red buckles front and back. The yoke is also piped with blue pique, as is the cuff. There's a gingham sailor to match.

NOW A word about the so-called shirtmaker frock that will go blithely from golf course to luncheon table when summer gets in full swing. It's grand for the suburbs or any old place where the green grass grows or in large towns under spring coats. A particularly gay version of this fashion is the dress sketched at left, of red and black imported English broadcloth. It has pockets that balance nicely, one on the blouse and one on the hip. Very jaunty is the sailor with Roman strip bow.

* * *

SUMMER SAILORS, by the way, are taking to the country as well as the sea. They're such jaunty little hats that summer won't be complete without one, or two, or three, or more if you're on the "up and up."

MARANVILLE MAKES HIS 2,500TH HIT

THE FACT THAT the Braves stopped the Giants with a double defeat and put Pittsburgh in first place again in the National League race wasn't the only notable happening in Boston yesterday. Rabbit Maranville became one of the few players to make 2,500 basehits in a major league career. The perennial Maranville, still going strongly at the age of 41, made his 2,500th big league hit when he tore off a single in the second game of the Sunday dual bill. With a total of 2,491 he needed only nine when the present season started. He made six in his first 12 games this year, and three in the double-header yesterday carried him to the big goal.

Rabbit Maranville

It's by no means a record, of course. Ty Cobb made 4,191 in the American League and Honus Wagner piled up 3,430 in the National. Others have reached the 2,500 mark, but never such a light-hitter as Maranville. It goes to show more convincingly than ever the unparalleled durability of the Rabbit, this fact that a player who never batted .300 for a full season and never made 200 hits in a year, could last long enough to pile up 2,500 safeties. The little marvel played 2,518 games, since his debut in the fall of 1912, exclusive of world series engagements, to reach the mark. He has been at bat 9,575 times, scored 1,211 runs, and his life-time batting average is .261. His latest achievement is one more standout in a career that is without an equal.

THE PITCHING OF Waite Hoyt was the most pleasing part of the victory over the Reds with which the Pirates regained the pennant leadership. In his second win he gave only five hits, and only an error deprived him of a shutout. More and more he looks as though he is going to be a big help. And they said he was done.

It's to be hoped history won't repeat in Philadelphia. That's where our pennant hopes went kiting last year. Entering Quakertown on June 30 with a six-game lead, the Bucs started their big dive by losing four in a row. They lost 10 straight and 22 out of 27 in the crash that cost the flag. But maybe the Phils don't know another pennant race has started. They're celebrating their fiftieth anniversary in the National League today, and this is their fifty-second year.

THE POPULARITY OF mushball is not confined to this part of the country. It's all the rage in Southern California. They call it softball out there, play it under arc lights, and what is expected to be a record-breaking season will open tomorrow.

The coast fans go for the game so strongly as a night attraction that crowds running as high as 9,000 have watched the contests. Many a big league club would not object to an occasional gate of that size.

DURING THEIR PRESENT visit to Philadelphia, the Pirates may have a chance to test out a new pitcher whom Burt Shotton signed because he looked like a special fit for the Phillies' bandbox park. It's a tough field for most pitchers, and repeated failures of the Phils to repeat their lone pennant victory of 1915 are explained as being due to the fact that no staff can work 77 games in the cigar box and survive the rain of singles and doubles against the short right-field fence. But Frank Pearce, who lost in Boston on Saturday, may prove an exception. For Pearce comes from Nashville, and the park there has a short right-field fence just like the one in Quakertown. Pearce adapted himself to the park and set out to keep the batters from bouncing hits off the short wall. He developed a pitching technique that kept foes hitting the ball on the ground, and the result was that he won 20 games last year. Making major league hitters do the same thing may be another matter, but Shotton is hopeful.

Tommy Bridges

THAT CONTROL MEANS everything to a pitcher never has been demonstrated more clearly than in the case of Tommy Bridges, crack Detroit right-hander, a graduate of the University of Tennessee who made his professional start at Wheeling, W. Va., in 1929. In his first full season with the Tigers, 1931, he won only eight games while losing 16.

Bridges always had one of the best curve balls in the majors, but could not depend on it because his command was faulty. Manager Bucky Harris ordered him not to use the hook until he was ahead of the hitter, this as a means of building of the pitcher's confidence in his control. It is easier to control a fast ball, and so, by relying more on that delivery, Bridges gradually acquired control and in the natural course of events was able to apply it also to his curve.

THAT WAS ALL that Bridges needed to make him a great pitcher. Twice he has come within an ace of pitching a no-hit game.

Bridges' curve is a sharp hook that breaks down and out. He has an unusual way of gripping the ball, using chiefly the second finger instead of the first two fingers, and gripping it below the equator.

WITH ALL DUE respect to the efforts of international statesmen for world peace, sports have done as much as any other agency, through the Olympic Games, to promote friendliness and good will among the nations. The quadrennial athletic carnival held in Los Angeles last year surpassed all preceding meets in the way it was staged and in the treatment given to visiting teams. Americans have almost forgotten about it, but the good effect it had is shown in the reports that the athletes of other countries are still making back home. Each country gets out an official report of the Olympic performances of its own team, and copies of these reports that have been received by the United States Olympic Committee show that without exception the other nations all go into ecstacies over the facilities they found in Los Angeles, the treatment they received and the attitude of the American public, which they describe as "wonderful."

THE LATEST COUNTRY heard from is Austria. The Austrians didn't win much, but they want the world to know that they had a swell time. They put on a big radio broadcast over a chain that covered Europe, and rebroadcast by short wave in the United States, thanking this country for its hospitality. Then, for fear the Olympic committeemen had not listened in, which they had not through lack of advance notice, the Austrian committee sent phonograph records.

Mention of the Olympic Games draws attention to the fact that the grim reaper has been striking hard at the ranks of the stars of the last carnival. Lieut. George Calnan, who took the oath for all the athletes, died at his post on the Akron. George Saling, winner of the 110-meter hurdles, was killed in an automobile accident. George Schmit, awarded a prize for mountain climbing, died before the meet proper was staged, and recently news was received of the death of Bela Komadji, head of the champion Hungarian water polo team.

JOHNNY DUNDEE and an old-time boxing follower, John Burke, of Philadelphia, were discussing modern boxers, and it was agreed that most glovemen today do something just because it is accepted as proper or because they copy some idol's style. It was held that there hasn't been a fighter since Kid McCoy who knew how to dodge properly.

William A. Brady

"Dodging, to me, is standing erect and avoiding the blow by lowering the head through bending the knees," said Burke. "Nowadays, a boxer lowers his head and waves it from side to side. That's called dodging."

"IT'S CALLED DODGING," Dundee interrupted, "but it's really weaving. Jack Dempsey started it, and almost every young heavyweight who comes up tries to copy that style." "Wait a minute," Burke exclaimed. "Dempsey didn't start it. Dempsey certainly popularized the weave, but it was Jim Jeffries who started it, and it wasn't an instinctive move on the part of even Jeffries. It was the idea of William A. Brady, who used to manage Jim Corbett, Jeffries and others. Jeffries had the crouch, and that was Brady's idea of the weave. Brady engaged Tommy Ryan to teach Jeff that little trick, which afterward was one of the things that made Dempsey famous."

STANISH, DUKES GUARD, STILL IN DANGER

By JESS CARVER

Accompanied by his coach, Dr. Skip Gougler, freshman football mentor at Pitt, the body of William Hall, star tackle on last fall's Panther yearling team, who died of tetanus at 6:45 o'clock in St. Francis Hospital last night, will be removed shortly after noon today to Clarksburg, W. Va., where funeral services will be held Wednesday morning.

Hall suffered a scratch on his nose in spring grid practice last week. The injury became infected and tetanus, or lockjaw, developed. Hall was removed to St. Francis last Monday, and a desperate fight waged to save his life, but the infection had taken such a strong hold that physicians were unable to check it.

BODY AT SAMSON'S

The body was removed to Samson's funeral home, Negley avenue, where the former gridder's teammates, coaches, classmates, friends and acquaintances paid their last respects.

Members of the freshman squad will serve as pallbearers at the funeral.

Hall, a native of Auburn, W. Va., was a star on the Pitt frosh eleven last fall. Standing 6 feet 2 inches in height, and weighing more than 200 pounds, Hall was considered a likely varsity candidate.

The death of Hall marked the third fatality in Pitt gridiron ranks in three years. In the spring of 1930, Leo Murphy, of Youngstown, a fullback, died after suffering a broken neck in spring practice. Early this year, Johnny Luch, another West Virginia boy, fullback of last year's varsity, died after an operation.

STANISH UNCHANGED

Meanwhile, the condition of Frank Stanish, Duquesne University guard, who suffered a contusion of the neck in a practice tilt at the Duquesne football clinic Saturday afternoon, was regarded as serious. Authorities at Mercy Hospital, where the injured gridder was rushed after the accident, this morning reported he had passed a restful night, but that his condition was unchanged.

Stanish was hurt only a play or two after he entered the game as a substitute on the first team. His home is in Bessemer, Pa.

EXPLANATION OF RIPLEY'S CARTOON OF LAST SATURDAY: CHARMED GASOLINE—A most astounding sea story is connected with the oil tanker, "Mina Brea." Laden with nearly 1,500,000 gallons of highly inflammable gasoline, she caught fire in her middle, off Canso, Nova Scotia, in August, 1929. The fire raged for three days, destroying the bridge and living quarters and reducing the engines to a pulp. But, when the completely unrecognizable hulk was towed into port, it was discovered that she had not lost a drop of her gasoline cargo.

TONIGHT'S FIGHTS

Joe Kaminski vs. Leo Larivee and Billy Jenkopky vs. Eino Nyholm, 10 rounds each, Holyoke, Mass.

Buster Brown vs. Calvin Reed, 10 rounds, Atlantic City.

Eddie Shea, of Chicago, who has boxed here only once before, and then against Steve Smith, the well-known trial horse, back in 1930, is coming out of semi-retirement to meet Jackie Wilson, local Negro featherweight, in the main bout at Motor Square Garden next Monday night. Shea hasn't been very active for the last year.

Matchmaker Lew Raymond, of the Arena, on the North Side, which had its best gate of the season with its Tony Herrera-Tracey Cox bout last Friday night, has his card completed for his show next Friday night.

Jimmy Thomas meets Pete DeGrasse again in the 10-round main bout and Johnny Hinds, Negro featherweight, of New York, who recently defeated Mose Butch in his local debut, is in with Jimmy Mack, of Philadelphia, one of Thomas' victims, in the other 10-rounder.

There will be three six-round preliminaries. Charley Burns, of Johnstown, meets Shorty Washko, of Duquesne; Jimmy Gilligan and Petey Jahn are in another and Johnny Chiodo and Clare Repole complete the bill.

Between Rounds

Seven bouts make up the amateur card of the North Siders Baseball Club at the Arena tomorrow night. Young Lowstetter meets Ray Hatton, Wolfe Black boxes Jimmy Ferry, Lenny Burenelli engages George Marisolf, Joe Kladdick is in with Paddy Baleher, Andy West tangles with Vince Browning, and Dutch Weir will meet a suitable heavyweight opponent in the main event.

The special exhibition between Frank (Owney) McNichols and Walter (Monk) Ketchel, policemen and former boxers, which will be an added attraction on the amateur card under the auspices of South Side Post No. 435, American Legion, in the South Side Market House Saturday night, threatens to steal the show.

Howard Williams, amateur welterweight boxer, died yesterday in his home in Swissvale. Funeral services will be held from the Mt. Olive Church, Fourth street, Rankin, at 2 p. m., tomorrow.

ANGELS SIGN PITCHER

LOS ANGELES, May 1.—(INS.)—The Los Angeles baseball team of the Pacific Coast League today signed George Buchanan, star pitcher of the University of Southern California.

SPORT VIGNETTES

What price spring football practice? . . . Three years ago, Leo Murphy, a young Pitt star, suffered a broken neck, from which he died . . . A week or so ago, Bill Hall, Pitt tackle, received injuries from which he developed lockjaw . . . He died last evening in St. Francis Hospital . . . Last Saturday, Frank Stanish, of the Dukes, received a serious injury to his neck in a clinic game on the Bluff.

Does the value received from spring practice justify these risks?. . . . To the man on the street, the answer would seem to be firmly in the negative . . . What, then, is the reason for the continuation and spread of the fad? . . . . Football got along very well in the olden days confined to the seasonal months of the sport . . . . Spring practice is designed mainly to breaking the freshman stars into the routine of the varsity, familiarizing them with the formations and the manner of doing things so they'll be able to jump right into the heat of the action in the fall.

This might not be a bad idea if the work were confined to dummy scrimmaging, thus minimizing the danger of serious injury, but the teams play regulation games, and this practice is spreading even to the high schools . . . . With the mounting injuries, it would not be surprising to see the authorities put a curb on the workout . . . . Eliminating spring drills at all colleges and schools would enable all of the teams and coaches to start off even from scratch in the fall . . . . If there must be some additional outlet for sports enthusiasm at this time of the year, why not go back to baseball and restore this fine neglected sport to the programs?

Attorney Frank C. Rugh, WUP quarterback in the early days of this century, is a candidate for the judgeship vacated by the recent death of D. Paulson Foster, and is receiving strong support from Pitt alumni.

Bunny Buntach points out that, whether or not you like the fighting of his Joey Marcus, it is a fact that Joey is the only local boxer who ever has fought Tracey Cox and gone through 10 rounds with the Hoosier Howitzer without being floored . . . Incidentally, Buntach is rebuilding his boxing stable and again has it up to the point where he has to refer to his mittsters by numbers . . . In addition to Marcus, he has the two Clements brothers, Lloyd and Jerry; Mike Barto and Sunny (or is it Funny?) Jim McVey, the Negro heavyweight, and is about to add a few others, the identity of whom, he says, will surprise, if not annoy, the fans . . . Just stocking up for the summer, as it were.—HARRY KECK.

LINKS CLINIC ON TONIGHT

By TOM BIRKS

Pete O'Hara, former Western Pennsylvania open champion, and professional at the Westmoreland Country Club, will give the first exhibition of the season this evening at the Guyasuta Golf Club at 9 o'clock.

The Westmoreland wizard will give an exhibition of driving and approaching and the routine of iron play. O'Hara has few, if any, peers in this country when it comes to teaching the finer points of the game.

Quite a few professionals in the district are headed for Oakmont Country Club this afternoon for a practice round in preparation for the qualifying round of the National open competition scheduled over the Hulton links Monday, May 15.

Tomorrow night is the deadline for entries for the classic. It is reported that many of the pros in this district have failed to send in their entries.

Next Saturday, the Pittsburgh Field Club has its official opening. The golf will be followed by a dinner dance. Dave McKay started a record number of players from the tee last Saturday.

W. L. Thunhurst led the field in the first division in the sweepstakes at Edgewood yesterday, carding a 78-6-72. In the second flight, L. B. Barrett topped the field with a 105-29-76.

At Stanton Heights, J. B. Coates finished 5 up in the individual match play against par competition, under seven-eighths handicap. J. L. Pennock trailed, being 3 up.

Eight district sandlot baseball leagues will swing into action this evening. In what promises to be one of the best games of evening, the Jimmy Smith club appears at St. Clair. The return of the Hazelwood club to the diamond should help the sport hereabouts.

The East End section of the Greater Pittsburgh League is going to flash a close race this season. The opening games find Millikins, of Wilkinsburg, clashing with Mellon-Stuart, and the Scott Morgans and the Juliano club playing.

Next week the City League will swing into action.

Other leagues opening their campaigns today include the Panhandle, Aspinwall, Suburban, Allegheny, Allegheny Valley and County circuits.

Manager Bill Dalzell of the Homewood Club of the City League, announced today that he had signed Catcher Jack Snyder, of McKeesport. Snyder is a veteran who played with the Glassport Griffins last season.

A meeting of the City Baseball League will be held tonight at Books, when the umpire question will be settled.

Yesterday the sandlotters took advantage of the fine weather to run off a full program of contests.

Dormont took over the Jimmy Smith club, 9 to 2. The Cavanaughs defeated Sheridan, 8 to 4. Buhls downed the Nick Aces, 8 to 1, and the Scott Morgans hit the ball hard to beat West End, 8 to 4.

The V. J. Greens walloped North Bessemer, 15 to 5; Italian Boys upset the Rheams, 10 to 0; Conroys whipped Soho, 7 to 3; Carrick Eagles nosed out Colfax, 6 to 4, and in a 15-inning tussle Bellevue defeated McKees Rocks, 4 to 2.

PHILADELPHIA, May 1.—Having swept their own end of the National League to the tune of 10 victories to three defeats, the first-place Pirates of Pittsburgh today were prepared to face the test offered by the seaboard cities. George Gibson's classy team will start its eastern invasion at the Baker Bowl this afternoon in the first clash of a three-game series with the Quakers.

Bill Swift, youthful right-hander from Scranton, who has turned in three beautifully pitched games for the Buccos, probably will be called upon to face the Phillies in the inaugural. If Pilot Burt Shotten runs true to form he will have Southpaw Jim Elliott ready to heckle the Pittsburghers. Jim has been a thorn in the side of the Buccos for the past two years, but Gibby's boys have been meeting with better success against the left-handers in the present race.

HOYT LANDS ANOTHER

The main body of the Pirates rushed into the city this morning after a long ride from Cincinnati, where they vaulted back into first place by smearing the Reds, 8 to 1, for their fifth victory of the season over Donie Bush's team.

Waite Hoyt added to his Pittsburgh prestige and made another serious bid for the slab fame which was his up until two or three years ago. The former Brooklyn schoolboy was so clever in his fight with the Reds, the enemy could get only five hits. The only run was partly due to an error.

BEAT SILAS AGAIN

The Pirates achieved their third victory of the year over young Silas Johnson, who is one of the really good pitchers of the league. Johnson puzzled the Pirates through eight rounds, but they solved him for a flock of markers and hits in the ninth, when they took the contest out of the doubtful stage.

In view of Hoyt's fine twirling, the Pirates made sufficient runs in the first to clinch the game. An error by Morrissey helped to load up the sacks with none out, and Pie Traynor promptly singled to produce two of the three tallies made in the inning.

The fiftieth anniversary of the Phillies' entry into the National League will be observed this afternoon.

BASEBALL COMEDY

By NICK ALTROCK

WASHINGTON, May 1.—With Babe Ruth, his legs are his only worry. But Rogers Hornsby always will be a colorful ball player as long as his tongue holds out. You never catch Rog calling a spade a farm implement. He speaks right out in school. And when he retires from baseball he can never be a waiter in a lunchroom. Rogers spills too many beans.

Nick Altrock

I don't know anything about this feud he is having with Charley Grimm and Gabby Hartnett, but it can't do the [illegible] office at every Cubs-Cardinals series any harm. In fact, the way the boys are shaking fists at each other, the fans will be demanding rain checks every time their teams play and they don't have a fight.

And say, is President Heydler, of the National League, getting service! Just the other day he t[illegible] opposing teams to quit fr[illegible]nizing, and already he's got [illegible] inter-city war. Before the [illegible]son is over, Grimm or Horns[illegible] may even be challenging the [illegible]panese.

NATS' DRIVE PUTS TEAM ON HEELS OF YANKEES

BRAVES BUMP GIANTS OUT OF FIRST PLACE

Associated Press.

If the Western clubs of the American League can do their bit toward helping out the Washington Senators this month, it looks as if there might be some tough sledding ahead for the New York Yankees.

Largely at the expense of the Yanks, the Senators have climbed into the contending position that was predicted for them. In their recent series, they took four out of five games from New York, the only ones the Yankees have lost in 15 starts.

WIN OVER MACKS

Then, perhaps just to show how tough they can be, the Senators beat the Philadelphia Athletics and the great Lefty Grove, 5 to 4 in a 12-inning struggle yesterday, to make it four triumphs in a row and seven in their last eight games. Twice the Senators overcame two-run leads by the A's, first against Rube Walberg, who started the game, then against Grove. Finally, with two out in the twelfth, Joe Kuhel stretched out a hit for two bases and Bob Boken, rookie second sacker, caught one of Grove's fireballs on the nose and brought him home with the winning run.

The Yankees protected their hold on first place by lining up their big guns behind some smart pitching by a pair of recruits, —Russell Van Atta and Don Brennan, and cleaning up the Boston Red Sox in a doubleheader, 11 to 2 and 8 to 3. Lou Gehrig and Tony Lazzeri hit two homers apiece and Babe Ruth one.

Chicago's White Sox clung to their second place tie with Washington when Paul Gregory held the Cleveland Indians to six hits to win, 3-1. The Detroit Tigers and St. Louis Browns slugged it out all the way through a twin bill and broke even. The Browns pounded four flingers for 17 hits and took the opener, 11-8. Gerald Walker and Johnny Stone walloped two homers a piece to give Detroit the second, 5-1.

GIANTS LOSE PAIR

The Boston Braves, climaxing a sudden rise from the National League cellar to the first division, shoved the New York Giants right out of first place. Combining some excellent pitching by Ed Fallenstin and a timely homer by Wally Berger, his fifth, the Braves beat the Giants twice, 3-0 and 8-4. Fallenstin pitched three-hit ball in the opening duel with Carl Hubbell.

Pittsburgh regained the lead by walking roughly over the weakened Cincinnati Reds, 8-1.

The Brooklyn Dodgers also had a big inning and gave the Phillies their fifth straight licking, 6-3. Getting a start when Frank O'Doul walloped a homer, they piled hits on top of walks to score six runs in the sixth inning.

Rogers Hornsby, coming back to Chicago for the first time since he was ousted as Cub manager, last August, played an important part in gaining an even break for the St. Louis Cardinals in a long double-header. The Cubs pounded out a 7-5 victory in the opener, but the Rajah evened it by pasting a homer with one on in the third inning of the nightcap and paving the way for a 5-3 Cardinal victory.

Driver Borrows Car, Wins Coast Race

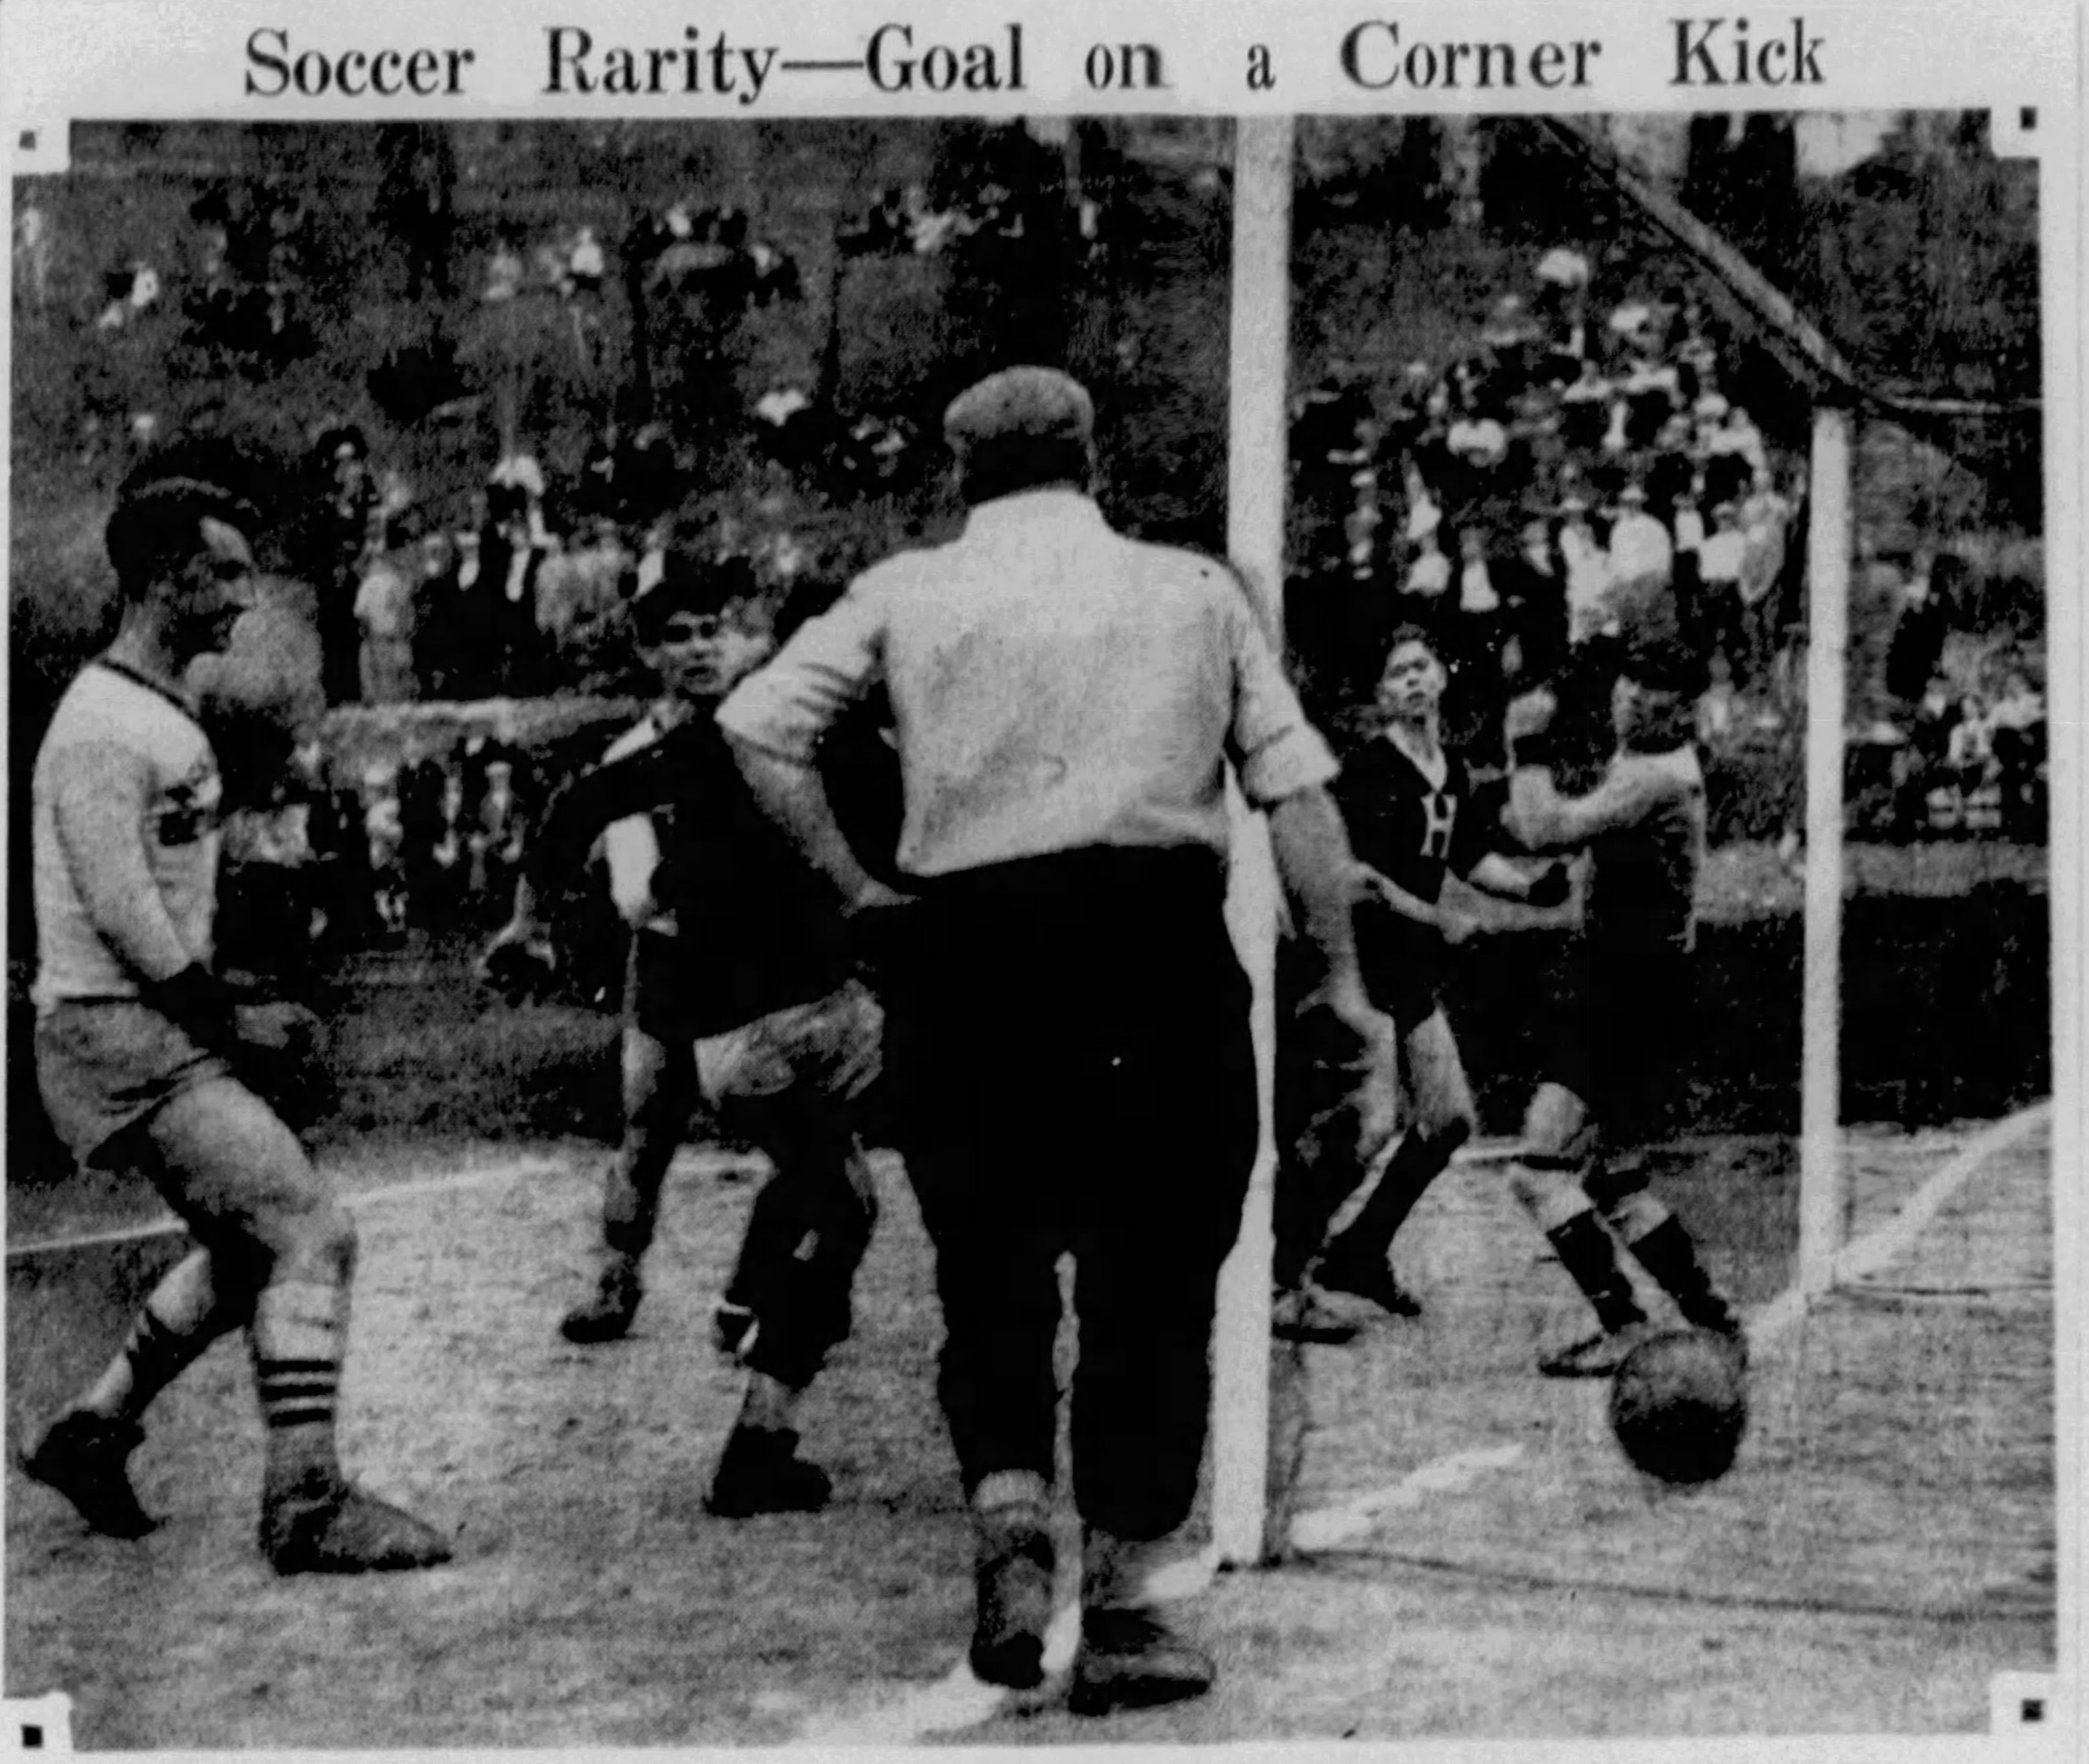
LOS ANGELES, May 1.—(AP.)—Forced out in the twenty-third lap of the 62½-mile feature automobile race at the Legion Ascot speedway yesterday, Rex Mays, of Riverside, Cal., took over Art Boyce's car when the latter was unable to continue and piloted the machine to victory. His time was 48 minutes 24 1-10 seconds.

Chester Gardner, of Long Beach, was second. Johnny Drieger, of Denver, third; George Connor, of Los Angeles, fourth, and E. C. Woodford, of Los Angeles, fifth.

SPAIN GETS TIE

BELGRADE, May 1.—(AP.)—Thanks to a Jugoslavian player who accidentally booted the ball into his own goal, Spain gained a 1-1 tie with Jugoslavia in an international soccer game played before 15,000 spectators here yesterday.

Soccer Rarity—Goal on a Corner Kick



MAGERA SCORES FOR M'KNIGHTS IN 4-0 VICTORY OVER HEIDELBERG BOOTERS AT SOUTH PARK

A feat performed perhaps once in a season was turned in as the McKnights, recent finalists in the National amateur championship tournament, entered the final round of the West Penn competition by winning over Heidelberg yesterday. It was a corner kick for a goal by Magera. On the play the kicker has to direct the ball from the corner of the field and curve it in through the mouth of the goal. He is unaided by any other player. Sun-Telegraph picture shows the ball in the net.

M'KNIGHTS WIN SOCCER TILT

The Castle Shannon McKnights won the right to meet Curry for the title in the West Penn cup competitions by defeating Heidelberg, 4 to 0, at South Park yesterday, with a large crowd looking on.

The result was disappointing to the Heidelberg followers. McKnights monopolized the play throughout, and the Green and Gold never got started.

The outstanding play of the game was Magera's third goal, which came direct from a corner kick, one of the rare things in soccer.

S. Kuten scored in the first half for the only tally of the half. Marovitch tallied early in the second period, followed by Magera's brilliant shot. The fourth goal came when Detrick, trying to clear, kicked the ball through his own goal. The lineup:

Sedick	G	Carik
Bobish	R.B.	Gillespie
Kuten	L.B.	Jablonski
Kevish	R.H.	Stenzel
Potter	C.H.	Harbin
Linard	L.H.	Detrick
Magera	O.R.	Fisher
Brown	I.R.	Hillen
Kuten	C.	Savage
Marovitch	I.L.	McCosky
Kevish	O.L.	McElwee

Goals—Kuten, Magera, Marovitch and Detrick (kicked through own goal). Referee—Thomas.

AVELLA AHEAD

At Avella yesterday, the Avella booters nosed out the Akron Goodyears, 3 to 2. Walker and McNair tallied for the Ohio team, with C. Valduga, P. Valduga and Kuserak scoring for Avella. The lineup:

Avella—3.		Goodyears—2.
Donnelli	G	Satterfield
Schminski	R.B.	Cairns
Saltz	L.B.	Zenish
Paneschi	R.H.	Cosley
C. Valduga	C.H.	Sillers
Kuzeria	L.H.	Burns
Schubert	O.R.	Walker
P. Valdugo	I.R.	Inglis
Stacko	C.	Ainsclugh
P. Valduga	I.L.	McNair
Berschimmer	O.L.	Bingham

LOCAL BOY HONORED

CHESHIRE, Conn., May 1.—(AP.)—Appointment of William G. Costin, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. G. Costin, of Pittsburgh, as captain of the tennis team at the Roxbury School, was announced last night.

NEW YORK, May 1.—(INS.)—Edgar T. Appleby, of New York, was leading in the world amateur championship 18.1 balkline billiard tournament today due to a 300-to-210 victory over his elder brother, Francis.

Hitler May Order Maxie To Drop Joe Jacobs

By DAVIS J. WALSH

NEW YORK, May 1.—(INS.)—In line with the Hitler program, but not with what the Hitler organization had to say about it last week, the word came to town today that Max Schmeling will be ordered to dismiss Joe Jacobs, his Jewish manager, after June 8, the date of the Max Baer fight at the Yankee Stadium. The alternative, it was said, would give Schmeling the doubtful privilege of remaining out of Germany, where he owns valuable property and estates.

In line with nothing in particular, it can be added that this might not have to be an order—after June 8.

The morning after might even be close enough. They'll be counting the house the morning after, and, unless the figures revealed happen to be most attractive, the fighter is liable to deliver himself a few well-chosen remarks. Contrary to general opinion, Schmeling is not particularly interested in Jacobs' feud which caused him to break with Madison Square Garden and go it alone. He is interested mainly in two things, American money and the world heavyweight championship. And this time he may get neither.

RETURN HOME AWAITED

He also says he isn't interested in German politics, but that will run very rapidly for the Sweeney person if the Hitler government begins suggesting steps that might be taken and vaguely speaking of property that might be confiscated. The assurance last week that Schmeling's alliances outside of Germany were not concerned in the Nazi decree, barring all Jews from German boxing, is not necessarily conclusive, they tell me. In fact, the understanding is that the Hitler government is only waiting for Schmeling's return home, so that it can tell him off on this matter, privately and in all detail.

By that time the idea may find him not altogether unreceptive. The last time he was here, he lost the heavyweight championship under Jacobs' direction. This time, the title stays lost and all he may get is a beating.

PURSE TO BE SMALL

The Schmeling-Baer gate may or may not do $150,000, but by the time one promoter, Jack Dempsey; one inside man, Tim Mara; one ball park, the Yankee Stadium; one fighter, Baer; one manager, Jacobs, and one charity, the Cancer Hospital are taken care of, there wan't be too much for Schmeling.

Billy Winn Takes Reading Auto Race

READING, Pa., May 1.—(AP.)—Billy Winn, Kansas City, Mo., was feature winner at the Reading Eastern A. A. A. automobile races yesterday, capturing both the 40-lap race and the qualifying five-mile race on the Fair Grounds' half-mile course.

Lloyd Broshart, Dunellen, N. J., trailed Winn to the tape, with Malcolm Fox, Westville, N. J., third in the 20-mile race. Jimmy Patterson, Kansas City, finished sixth.

Five-mile heat races were won by Winn, Johnny Concannon, Philadelphia; Bob Hall, Paterson, N. J., and Park Culp, Allentown, Pa. Winn's five-mile time was 4:51 and the time for the 20 miles was 19 minutes 47 seconds.

DISTRICT NET TEAMS BUSY

By PAUL G. SULLIVAN

Varsity and scholastic racqueters maintain a monopoly over the district tennis program throughout the current week. Grant Siverd's Dukes and the Carnegie Tech crew of Coach Hoover make pace for the collegians with three contests apiece, while Wash-Jeff twice cavorts and Pitt joins battle once. Full card is listed for squads of the Interscholastic Tennis Conference.

College competition gets under way tomorrow as Duquesne invades the Panther lair and the Tartans trek to Little Washington.

Carnegie and the Dukes will seek to reach a decision on the Skibo lot Thursday after scrimmaging to a 4-4 deadlock on the Bluff last week. On the same afternoon, Bethany visits Wash-Jeff on the first leg of a two-day trip that brings the Bisons to Pitt on Friday. The following afternoon Duquesne plays its third consecutive Saturday home engagement, Stewart Snodgrass, Ed Clark and the rest of a capable Geneva delegation furnishing the opposition. The Plaid winds up the week by traveling over the mountains to Penn State.

Meanwhile word from out beyond the Tubes has it that the Rockwood Tennis Club probably will sponsor a team in Division II of the Pittsburgh Tennis Association Inter-Club League.

Lazzeri, Gehrig Drink Ruth's Eye Lotion

NEW YORK, May 1.—(INS.)—In the clubhouse of the New York Yankees, just before yesterday's doubleheader with the Red Sox, Babe Ruth was bathing his million-dollar optics with what he thought was his favorite eye lotion. Tony Lazzeri and Lou Gehrig came along and drank it. They explained to the popeyed home run maestro:

"That stuff puts the old pep into you."

To prove it, Lazzeri went out and blasted seven straight hits, including two homers, and Gehrig pasted three hits in a row, also including two homers.

Later, the Babe, still speechless save for occasional mutterings about cast-iron stomachs, was told that Lazzeri and Gehrig had opened his locker, emptied the bottle of eye lotion and refilled it with good old aqua pura.

GREGORY WINS A. A. U. GRIND

NEWARK, N. J., May 1.—(AP.)—Lou Gregory, brilliant long distance runner of the 1932 United States Olympic team, won the National A. A. U. 20-kilometer championship run yesterday by covering the more than 12 miles through the streets of Newark in 1 hour 8 minutes and 15 seconds.

BROTHER FOR FREDDIE

FREDDIE LINDSTROM, JR. FREDDIE LINDSTROM

Little Freddie Lindstrom, Jr., son of the Pirate outfielder, now has a new playmate, a brother born yesterday in the Mercy Hospital, Chicago. Daddy celebrated by making two hits in the 8-1 defeat of the Reds in Cincinnati. This is a Wide World News Photographs Service picture, taken two years ago when young Freddie was absorbing his baseball A B C's. He is 4 years old now.

WRESTLING BAN IN ILLINOIS UPHELD

SPRINGFIELD, Ill., May 1.—(INS.)—Action of the Illinois Athletic Commission in banning wrestling in the state for an indefinite period was upheld today in an opinion given by Attorney General Otto Kerner to Joseph Triner, commission chairman. Triner requested the opinion in a letter to Kerner which stated:

"Various wrestling clubs promoting wrestling in Illinois have been touring the United States with the same wrestlers meeting each other as many as five times a week and representative champions have met practically everyone in their club with the result that representative champions have not lost a match."

This and other evidence, the letter stated, prompted the commission to clamp the lid on all wrestling in Illinois.

INTERNATIONAL DERBY TINGE

LOUISVILLE, Ky., May 1.—(AP.)—The field for the fifty-ninth Kentucky Derby at Churchill Downs Saturday will have an international tinge if the 10 leading candidates as rated by handicappers face the barrier in the $50,000 added classic.

The 10 leaders are W. R. Coe's Ladysman, Mrs. William Crump's Head Play, the R. M. Eastman estate's Charley O. F. A. Griffith's Sarada, the Catawba stable's Mr. Khayyam, Col. E. R. Bradley's Broker's Tip, Lee Rosenberg's Kerry Patch, Mr. Coe's Pomponious, the Audley Farm's Trace Call and William E. Smith's Knockaway.

Of these, Trace Call and Knockaway are of foreign ancestry and Mr. Khayyam is a son of Omar Khayyam, winner of the 1917 Derby and the only imported thoroughbred which ever succeeded in accomplishing this feat. Mr. Khayyam started the Eastern Derby contingent by breaking the track record at Havre de Grace Saturday, racing a mile and a sixteenth in 1:44.

Trace Call, which has raced impressively in two races at Havre, though finishing second in both of them, was sired by Call Boy, which won the English Derby in 1927. Knockaway, imported from Ireland as a yearling, was an also ran Saturday at Churchill Downs, but this was to be expected, as it was the first race in which he ever started. Knockaway did not race as a 2-year-old.

The East has a six-to-four edge in the lineup of leaders. There are no fillies among the leading 10, but At Top and Technique, members of that sex, may face the barrier Saturday. There are enough other nominees training well to almost assure a record entry list of more than 22, the mark set in 1928.

Entries Pile in For State Tourney

Entries from many cities are being received for the State amateur boxing tournament to be held in the Pitt Stadium Pavilion over a four nights' stretch beginning next Thursday.

Sam Crovatto, Joe Holda and Johnny Matthews are the latest entrants from the Pleasant Valley A. C., of New Salem.

Pete Boy and August Morini will compete from Ellwood City, Leonard Karabinos from Avella, Alex Lawn from Elport and Raymon Hayson from the Ulkrainian A. C. Entries close tomorrow night.

31 Cars Entered At Indianapolis

INDIANAPOLIS, May 1.—(AP.)—Thirty-one cars already have been entered in the 500-mile automobile race to be run here May 30, it was announced today by the Indianapolis Motor Speedway management.

Entries close at midnight tonight. T. E. Meyers, general manager of the track, estimated that at last 50 machines will be entered when the final checkup is completed.

One foreign entry—that of Juan Gaudino, of Buenos Aires—was included in the list made public today. Gaudino drove here a year ago, but did not finish. Roaul Riganti, a fellow countryman, has been entered as Guadino's driver this year.

Accident Costs U. S. C. Runner Leg

SANTA MONICA, Cal., May 1.—(AP.)—The right leg of Robert Norene, University of Southern California half-miler, crushed in a motor car accident at Las Flores canyon on the Roosevelt highway Saturday night, was amputated by surgeons here yesterday.

The runner also suffered a spinal injury.

BOBBY JONES' GOLF

By BOBBY JONES

Only Golfer Who Has Won U. S. and British Amateur and Open Championships in the Same Year.

Donald Miller, a youthful golfer of Baltimore, wants to know:

"What is the proper shot to be played from a distance of 20 feet or less from the pin. This may sound like a foolish question, but at the present time I am in doubt whenever I have the shot to play. I wonder whether to pitch five feet short of the pin with a niblic or to use a four iron and run the shot. As a result, I usually take a six iron and play a shot without confidence and without success."

Bobby Jones

I assume that Donald may be a little off in his estimate of distance, for one rarely plays a chip or pitch from as little as 20 feet from the hole. Like a great many others, I suppose, he is trying to find a way of slipping the little short shots up close to the hole, and is puzzled to know how to meet all the variations which are possible. It may comfort him to learn that his troubles are shared by many, many players of more age and experience than he.

SHORT APPROACH SHOTS

There is a greater variety in the short approach than in any other department of the game. To play these shots consistently well requires more experience and judgment than is called for anywhere else on a golf course. A drive is nearly always a drive, and a mashie shot just a mashie shot, but a chip may be anything, and it rarely is the same thing twice. Especially over keen greens a man must be a good judge of slopes and the speed of the putting surface, and he also must be keenly appreciative of the effect upon the roll of the ball to be had from the lie of the ball, the loft of the club, and the trajectory of its brief flight.

The two most important rules to observe are: First, to pitch over intervening fairway or rough onto the putting surface whenever possible, and, second, to play a straight-forward shot without backspin wherever possible. In other words, when sizing up the shot, let the player ask himself a few questions in this order.

"Is there room between the edge of the green and the flag for me to pitch to the green with a normal shot?

"If so, with what club?

"If not, can I pitch to the green with backspin and stop the ball quickly enough?

"If I can, will that shot be more risky than running the ball with a straight-faced club over the intervening ground?"

ALL FACTORS CONSIDERED

Of course, all of these questions are more easily put than answered correctly. Experience means everything, for every factor-ground, wind, slope, lie—everything must be accounted for and valued accurately.

If the first question is answered in the affirmative, the club selected should be the one to allow a pitch to the edge of the green. Always one should avoid attempting a quick-stopping shot except when it is absolutely necessary. Better results will be had by playing the shot in the simplest way possible. Backspin on such a short shot is very difficult to control. It almost always is better to pitch short of the putting surface or to run the ball across the intervening space, unless it be rough, than to attempt anything unusual or spectacular.

It also is best to keep the trajectory of the ball as flat and allow for as much run as possible under the conditions and in keeping with what I have said above. Often the turf, even on the putting surface, is not uniform, and a steeper shot is more likely to be affected by irregularities on the surface or by variations in firmness.

Unfortunately, it is not possible to be more specific. After all, these are only suggestions of what to look for. I cannot say "use this club or that," because so many circumstances are important. I urge practice here as much as in any other phase of the game, and practice of all kinds of shots. Playing the same one over and over will improve mechanical skill, but not judgment.

Stanford to Send Track Stars East

PALO ALTO, Cal., May 1.—(AP.)—Coach Templeton, of Stanford University, will take a representative track and field team to the Intercollegiate A. A. A. A. meet at Cambridge, May 26 and 27. The Stanford board of athletic control announced it had reversed a previous decision curtailing the squad.

THREE RACING TRACKS OPEN

BALTIMORE, May 1.—(AP.)—Backed by two centuries of Maryland race horse tradition, the Pimlico race track opens its sixty-third spring meet today and reaches a smashing climax in the history-filled Preakness, a test as old as the track.

Thoroughbreds, moving here with the closing Saturday of Havre de Grace, have filled all the stalls, promising a full program for the 15 days of racing.

The unemployed and destitute of Maryland will be remembered today and tomorrow with the receipts from the two "welfare day" programs being given for their relief.

The Preakness, Maryland's classic for three-year-olds, will be run Saturday, May 13, attracting the leading horses of the Kentucky Derby.

ILLINOIS MEETS ON

CHICAGO, May 1.—(AP.)—The barriers snap at Exhibition Park at Aurora and at Sportsmans Park, Chicago, today, inaugurating a six months' racing season in Illinois that will be the richest offered in America.

Moving through meetings at Aurora, Sportsmans Park, Washington Park, Arlington, Hawthorne and Lincoln Fields and then back again to Sportsmans and Aurora, the thoroughbreds will be racing in the Chicago metropolitan district daily, except Sunday, until the end of October.

There will be inaugural handicap events at both tracks, with each handicap attracting a band of fleet performers over the six-furlong route.

MID-ATLANTIC LEAGUE SET

The barrier raises Wednesday, sending off two Mid-Atlantic Baseball League clubs on their tenth annual race. The other six teams start Thursday.

President Elmer Daily, of Ebensburg, Pa., says he expects the season to be highly successful both financially and in the class of ball played.

He pointed out that 300,000 more persons are in the league territory than included last year, and that economies plus improved general conditions bolster his confidence.

Daily announced an umpire staff of George McNally, Gus Dietz and W. H. Walker. He said he will attend the opening game at Dayton Wednesday, between Springfield and Dayton, and would go next day to Wheeling to see the Stogies open their season.

For the first time, Daily is donating a "president's cup" this year to go to the city with the highest first day attendance.

In addition to Dayton, Springfield, Wheeling and Johnstown, other cities contesting this year include the Charleston Senators, Zanesville Braves, Huntington Boosters and Beckley Black Knights.

W. Va. Baseball Loop Organized

CLARKSBURG, W. Va., May 1.—(AP.) — C. P. Leatherwood, Clarksburg, is president of the newly organized West Virginia Baseball League, having been chosen with other officers at a meeting of the club representatives here yesterday afternoon.

Elkins Weston, Morgantown, Pennsboro, Fairmont and Clarksburg took franchises, making a six-club circuit. Games will be played every Saturday, Sunday and holiday.

The season will open Saturday, May 30, when Elkins will play at Weston, Clarksburg at Fairmont and Pennsboro at Morgantown. On the following Sunday Fairmont will appear at Clarksburg, Weston at Elkins and Morgantown at Pennsboro.

The season will be split, and will close Labor Day.

BUYER'S GUIDE AND BUSINESS REVIEW

BUENOS AIRES TO PAY PART ON BONDS

NEW YORK, May 1.—Holders of dollar bonds of the Province of Buenos Aires, Argentina, face the practical necessity of accepting the province's debt adjustment plan in order to obtain at least a part of their interest coupons in cash, the Institute of International Finance advises in an extended report on Argentine fiscal and economic conditions, issued here today.

The adjustment plan, says the report, provides that the province suspend sinking fund payments on all external and most of its internal debt for three years, but to continue to appropriate paper pesos for interest payments on dollar bonds and on certain European loans. Rates of exchange current at the time the plan was announced would enable bondholders to obtain 60 per cent of the interest in cash and the province would give 5 per cent scrip for the balance, the report declares.

Bondholders may sue the province in Argentina courts, as the Argentine law, unlike the American Constitution, permits an individual to sue a state. The institute believes, however, that the chances of obtaining better terms in the courts are not promising. The provincial loans outstanding include $69,500,000 in dollar bonds, 15,500,000 pounds in sterling bonds and 110,000,000 in francs.

The institute's report, while almost a condensed encyclopedia of the fiscal and economic affairs of the whole of the Argentine, gives detailed attention to the Argentine provinces and municipalities that have dollar bonds outstanding. Two of the five provinces that have made dollar loans are in default, Buenos Aires and Santa Fo, and three of four cities are in default; namely, Corboda, Santa Fo and Tucuman. The City of Buenos Aires, which has more dollar bonds outstanding than the three other cities combined, has made its payments promptly. The national government of the Argentine has also continued to meet its payments punctually. The Argentine provinces and municipalities have a total of $113,184,900 dollar bonds outstanding and of these $74,981,300 are in default, says the institute, which is conducted by the Investment Bankers Association of America, in co-operation with New York University.

STEEL DEMAND BROADENING

CLEVELAND, May 1.—(AP.)—Steel mills now operating at 29 per cent of capacity may cross 30 per cent this week, for the first time since November, 1931, the magazine Steel said today.

Operations during April were doubled, but "May can not be expected to supply another 100 per cent increase in the operating rate," the magazine continued, in its weekly review.

However, growing demands "for practically all iron and steel products, a decidedly stronger tone in prices, and the reinforcement that railroads and additional miscellaneous consumers are beginning to throw behind the automotive industry insure further substantial improvement," the magazine said.

Raw materials continue most active. Not only is the normal melt of pig iron broadening, but reluctance of scrap dealers to sell, in view of their sharply rising market, is also accelerating pig iron requirements. April shipments in the lakes district expanded more than 100 per cent.

Atchison Loadings Exceed Last Year

CHICAGO, May 1.—Revenue freight car loadings on the Atchison Railway during the week ended April 29 totaled 23,762 compared with 21,859 in the week preceding and 22,660 in the like 1932 period.

ST. LOUIS, May 1.—Freight car loadings on Missouri Pacific Railroad during the week ended April 29, will show an increase over the corresponding 1932 week, officials state.

State Soft Coal Production Gains

WASHINGTON, May 1.—(AP.)—The Bureau of Mines announced Pennsylvania bituminous coal production for the week ended April 15 was 1,295,000 tons, an increase of 3,000 tons over the previous week.

The total for the week compared with 1,733,000 tons the same week of 1932.

Stocks Duplicate High Level of Last September

Round the high levels reached on this morning's spectacular turnover, industrial stocks which have led this movement practically duplicated the high reached in September last year after the long summer advance. The standard statistics index showed this group at 71.7 at noon today against 72.3 on September 7 last year. Rails utilities, however, were still quite substantially removed from the high levels touched by those groups last September, so that the composite index of 90 stocks at midday stood at 67.6 or 6.3 points under the peak for 1932 touched in September.

That old adage "watch the pennies and the dollars will take care of themselves," was brought to mind today when the Standard Oil Company of New Jersey decided to switch from a quarterly to a semi-annual dividend basis, ordering a semi-annual payment of 50 cents a share. It was stated that the move was in the interest of economy, which is a corporation watchword these days. The company had some 143,202 shareholders a few months ago and the total now is probably closer to 150,000, so that it will be seen the saving in postage and likewise in the tax paid on checks will run to a nice penny.

Midnight will bring to an end the period of grace allowed "gold hoarders" to return the metal to the banks. Thereafter anyone possessing more than $100 gold or its equivalent in gold certificates will be subject to prosecution under the emergency gold ruling invoked by the President. The names of those possessing the metal, or at least of those who secured it in the last two years, are known to the Treasury Department. If the government proceeds to undertake punishment of those who have retained their holdings of the metal, there would appear to be some interesting events ahead, considering that at least one Senator has questioned constitutionality of the emergency ruling.

Conditions which brought the gold edict have changed materially since the time of its issuance. Gold holdings of the Federal Reserve now stand near $3,400,000,000, or the highest on record except at one time in 1931 when holdings were about $85,000,000 larger. The present figure is some $713,000,000 larger than on March 8, the year's low point. Meanwhile reserve notes in circulation have contracted to $3,424,000,000 from the peak of $4,292,000,000, and the ratio of reserves has risen from 45.6 per cent on March 8 to 62.7 per cent as of last Wednesday.

Recent advances in commodity prices, together with a general upturn in business, in the opinion of the National City Bank of New York, have not been due solely to inflationary developments, but partly due to sound technical and statistical factors. At the same time the bank, in its monthly review of economic and financial conditions, warns against the dangers of inflation, but feels that the administration "will exercise its inflationary powers with restraint and under careful control."

W. B. Storey, president of the Atchison, Topeka and Santa Fe Railway, said today he "would not be surprised" if the road had operated in the red last month. "Due to the recent rise in wheat prices, the movement of this commodity has recently shown some 'pick-up,'" Storey asserted. "However, it still continues under a year ago. One of the reasons for our poor operating showing in 1933 has been our rail-laying program, which, if not carried out according to schedule, would have considerably lightened our losses this year. Expenditures for this purpose in March totaled some $200,000. April was above this figure, and the current month will show another increase."

Cotton Exchange Seats Rise $1,000

NEW YORK, May 1.—A New York Cotton Exchange membership has changed hands at $16,000, an advance of $1,000 over the last previous transactions.

TIRE COMPANIES LIFT PRICES

NEW YORK, May 1.—Reflecting the boom in raw materials, the first general increase in tire prices in nearly eight years was made today. B. F. Goodrich Company, United States Rubber Company and Kelly-Springfield Tire Company initiated the advance, varying from 3½ to 7 per cent, and averaging 5 per cent. All sections of the tire industry are expected to follow.

CHICAGO, May 1.—Montgomery Ward and Company is giving its stores the privilege of making trade-in allowances on purchases of de luxe or first line tires, varying, but running around 50 cents a tire.

STEEL OFFICIAL PROMOTED

Flad is a graduate of Lafayette College and was a member of the engineering corps in the construction of the Panama Canal.

He started to work for the Carnegie Steel Company in 1909 at its Youngstown plant.

Soft Coal Output Lower Than Last Yr.

WASHINGTON, May 1.—Production of bituminous coal in the week ended April 22 was 4,634,000 tons, against 4,864,000 in the preceding week and 4,736,000 in the same week last year.

Anti-Trust Restrictions Raised for Some Industries

—By GEORGE H. SNYDER—

RESTRICTIONS OF anti-trust laws are to be raised to help out many of the nation's industries which are in critical positions. The railroads and the coal producers are among those which are to be given greater latitude in grouping activities and eliminating competition. In every case, however, the abrogation of anti-trust law provisions is to be accompanied by the imposition of regulatory bodies to protect the general public.

A bill has been drawn up to permit the railroads to abolish unnecessary duplication of service. In short the carriers would be allowed to pool operations between competitive points. Co-ordinators would be appointed to supervise these efforts so that service would not be curtailed to the disadvantage of shippers and travelers and to see that the railroads do not take undue advantage of their pooling privileges.

It is hoped that the new law would make it possible for the railroads to save enough money to go at least some ways towards improving their financial position. In addition to supervising the elimination of wasteful competition, the co-ordinators would assist in working out financial reorganizations of the carriers which would bring fixed charges into line with the probable income.

Coal Trade Also To Be Given Help

THE COAL TRADE has been given some increased latitude through the recent Supreme Court decision which held that Appalachian Coals, Inc., was a legal organization. The formation of this central sales body is being followed by plans for similar regional sales organizations in other districts.

The coordination of the sales efforts of a great number of competing mines producing coal of varying qualities provides many difficult problems. Not all the coal operators are convinced that Appalachian Coals and similar organizations will be entirely successful.

The administration, however, is understood to have an even more comprehensive plan under consideration. Its aim would be to create stable conditions in the chaotic coal industry through the medium of a highly organized federal regulatory body.

Minimum Prices Would Be Fixed

IT IS UNDERSTOOD that the administration is considering a plan to fix minimum prices and to allocate production quotas for each mine under co-operative regulation by the industry itself with supervision by a government agency.

The organization starts at the bottom with district coal conservation and protective associations. There are to be some 30 of these in the country. Above the district organizations would be a national coal operators' council to be composed of at least one representative of each of the 30 districts and also one representative for each 15,000,000 tons of annual output of the district. This would be the principal governing body of the coal industry. Above this council, however, would be a court of coal conservation in the Department of the Interior, consisting of five members.

This would be the agency which would supervise the entire plan in the interest of the public and would also serve as the court of appeal or last resort from local and council decisions. A point of law, however, might be appealed to the ordinary courts.

National Council To Make Survey

THE NATIONAL council would make a study of the probable demands for foreign and domestic coal. It would make these estimates public and allocate them the current output per mine on a pro rata basis. For any coal sold in excess of the quota, a tax of 60 cents a ton would be charged. These receipts would go into trust funds of the local associations for the national council.

I. T. T. Financing China Subsidiary

NEW YORK, May 1.—The Shanghai Telephone Company, Chinese operating subsidiary of International Telephone and Telegraph Corporation has sold an issue of 10,000,000 Shanghai dollar 6 per cent bonds to provide additional working capital and for expansion purposes. Shanghai dollar is quoted nominally at approximately 25 cents in American funds. A syndicate of bankers will offer 7,000,000 Shanghai dollars of the loan abroad at par while the balance of 3,000,000 Shanghai dollars will be taken by International Telephone and Telegraph Corporation.

W. C. White Heads Aluminum Utensil

NEW KENSINGTON, Pa., May 1.—W. C. White, general manager, has been made a directtor and elected president of the Aluminum Cooking Utensil Company, effective May 1.

Mr. White joined Aluminum Company of America as advertising manager in December, 1928, which position he retains.

BUYING POWER DROPS SAYS INSTITUTE

NEW YORK, May 1.—Basing its estimate on the reduction of the total income of the people of the United States from $85.2 billion in 1929 to $35 billion at the present time the Alexander Hamilton Institute calculates that the individual average income of those employed is now $640 as compared with $1,157 in 1929.

The total income of the people of the United States is now running at the annual rate of approximately $35 billion as compared with $37.2 billion last year and with $85.2 billion in 1929. Four factors have contributed to this reduction in income; unemployment, part-time work, [illegible] wage scales and reduced profits. Since approximately 60 per cent of the national income is in the form of wages and salaries, it may be estimated that employes' earnings are now running at the annual rate of $21 billion as compared with $51 billion in 1929.

WAGES CUT

Those who are now employed have had their yearly pay reduced either through reduced wage scales or part-time work for an average of $1,157 in 1929 to $640 at the present time. Available information indicates that about two-thirds of this reduction has been due to wage-cutting and one-third to part-time work. In other words, wages and salaries have been reduced, on the average, about 30 per cent, and working hours about 15 per cent.

The decline of 44.7 per cent in the compensation received by employes, however, does not represent a corresponding decline in purchasing power. A reduction of 27.9 per cent in the cost of living has partly offset the decrease in employes' compensation. On the basis of the present cost of living, average compensation per employe is now equivalent to $888 in 1929. Purchasing power has thus declined only 23.2 per cent, whereas actual pay has declined 44.7 per cent.

FEWER WORKING

When, however, the elimination of the purchasing power of those who have lost their positions since 1929 is taken into account, the reduction in the buying power of wages and salaries since 1929 has amounted to 43.1 per cent. This means that the compensation of employes at the present time is sufficient to buy only 56.9 per cent of the goods and services purchased in 1929. This helps to explain the fact that during the first quarter of 1933 factories were working, on the average, at only 51.3 per cent of the 1929 rate.

VOLUNTARY OIL CURB FAILS

AUSTIN, Tex., May 1.—The effort to bring about a voluntary curtailment of production in the East Texas oil field have failed temporarily at least, according to a report received by the Texas Railroad Commission, showing a legal output for the field of 734,236 barrels for 24 hours ended 7 a. m. Saturday, as compared with 200,000 barrels for the preceding 24 hours.

Complete returns for 24 hours ended Sunday have not yet been received, but it is indicated field's production for that period exceeded 750,000 barrels. It was stated that virtually all of the major companies are running their full allowable under the new proration order and that 50 per cent of the wells are producing their full allowables, ranging from 40 to 150 barrels per well daily.

JOHN A. BEATTIE

EXPERT TALKS ON INVESTMENT

John A. Beattie, head of the firm of J. A. Beattie & Co., investment counselors, served last week as special lecturer to the Pittsburgh School of Accountancy's credit analysis class.

Since the students in the group, representing the eighth semester of the course of study, have now begun their study of investment analysis, Beattie's practical talk on "The Work of the Investment Counselor" was regarded as particularly timely.

Eighty students attended the lecture.

Cotton Consumption Increased in March

NEW YORK, May 1.—The New York Cotton Exchange service today estimated world consumption of all kinds of cotton during March at 2,111,000 bales, compared with 2,002,000 in February and 2,040,000 in March, 1932. During the eight months of this season, from August through March, world spinners used 16,148,000 bales as against 15,671,000 bales in the corresponding period last season.

METAL MARKET MORE ACTIVE

NEW YORK, May 1.—Copper advanced last week on more active consumer buying extending into the third quarter. After the price had gained ¼ cent to 6½ cents for the week, some sellers refused to sell below 6¾ cents following announcement by one important domestic producer that it would reduce production by 50 per cent, which would put output down 10 per cent of rated capacity. The reaction of other large producers to this step was being awaited. Foreign buying was less active, with prices lagging under domestic quotations.

After tin had risen to a new high for the year on active consuming demand and strength of London, the market reacted in sympathy with mid-week declines in sterling, but later recovered most of its loss.

Lead was quiet but steady, following active buying of the preceding week.

Slight reactions in zinc quotations reflected the influence of the recent sharp advance in bringing out moderate resale offerings and decreased buying interest.

A moderate business for small lots of antimony developed after importers had marked up prices.

RENNER GETS BIG ORDERS

Receipt of orders at a rapid rate, and from widely-separated sections of the country, were reported today by Milton S. Englert, vice president of the Renner Brewing Company, Youngstown. He declared:

"Orders so far received would keep us bottling 24 hours per day for three months."

The fermenting tanks at the plant are being filled as rapidly as possible, but no distribution of the product will be made until after sufficient aging. It is expected to begin bottling about June 20.

STOCKS CLOSE STRONG, UP 1 TO 2

NEW YORK, May 1.—(AP.)—Another day of frantic trading sent a wide assortment of stocks and staples to new highs for 1933 in today's markets. But the breadth of the advance Saturday and today prompted profit-taking, and gains were only partially retained. Many shares closed 1 to more than 2 points higher, however, and the turnover of some 6,500,000 shares was the second largest of the year.

Leadership rotated from group to group in shares, as professionals struggled to keep the ball rolling. Industrials led an early advance. After a moderate setback, rails were brought forward, and utilities and aviation issues were taken in substantial volume in the later dealings. Wheat reacted in the later trading, in selling attributed to uncertainties over the effects of the farm relief measure.

A sharp drop in dollar exchange in the early dealings served to fan again the speculative fires in shares and staples. Short covering Saturday and today was reported in substantial volume in shares, by traders who had played for a sharp technical reaction last week. The latest impetus to the markets was evidently the Senate acceptance of the farm relief-inflation measure, with assertions by Congressional leaders that the bill should become law by the end of the week.

Usually well informed quarters in Wall street, however, felt that the administration would scarcely take any drastically inflationary steps for some time, if at all. Early open market operations by the Federal Reserve Bank were anticipated, but the authority to reduce the gold content of the dollar was believed here to be a power which would not be used, at least pending decisions at the world economic conference. Selling of the dollar was regarded as chiefly speculative, and foreign exchange experts said this might lead to a sharp rebound in it.

Business news still continued to provide much encouragement. Some conservative commission house quarters still called attention to the fact that current share prices had reached levels abnormally high in relation to earnings, but some said buyers seemed willing to discount expected improvement some six or eight months in advance. Steel production was expected to cross 30 per cent of capacity this week. Santa Fe reported 23,762 cars of freight handled last week, not only above the 21,859 hauled in the previous week, but topping the 22,660 in the same week of 1932. The price of copper advanced another ¼ of a cent a pound to 6¾ cents, the highest in many months.

DOLLAR SLUMPS AND RALLIES

NEW YORK, May 1.—(AP.)—The American dollar was again subjected to severe pressure in the foreign exchange market today, butr allied substantially in late trading.

The British pound sterling jumped more than 7 cents to a cable rate of $3.94 and then reacted to $3.89½. The French franc was in demand at 4.67½ cents and then slid back to 4.64. Canadian dollars moved up ¾ of a cent.

At today's levels United States currency was at a discount of about 15 per cent in relation to the gold parity of the French franc.

LONDON, May 1.—(INS.)—The American dollar closed slightly above the opening price on the London exchange today.

After opening at $3.89 to the pound, the dollar closed at $3.88 in British currency. The pound was quoted at $4.41 on Montreal.

PARIS, May 1.—(AP.)—The dollar closed at 21.30 francs, a loss in value of 1.15 francs since Saturday. In the last week the dollar has slipped more than 7 per cent and the pound has lost 5 per cent.

Wholesale Index Continues Upward

WASHINGTON, May 1.—For the fourth consecutive week, wholesale commodity price index of National Fertilizer Association showed a gain. During the week ended April 29 the index advanced 4 fractional points to 58.6 compared with 56.5 amonth ago and 61.9 a year ago.

UNION CARBIDE

William S. Gray, Jr., president of the Central Hanover Bank and Trust Company, New York, has been elected a director of Union Carbide and Carbon Corporation. Milton Ferguson and George L. Knapp have retired from the board.

MONSANTO CHEMICAL WORKS

Monsanto Chemical Works has acquired controlling equity majority of voting stock of Swann Corporation, of Birmingham. The Swann Corporation's gross assets total approximately $5,000,000.

LOCAL STOCKS IN STEADY DEMAND

Further upward movement in prices was recorded on the Pittsburgh Stock Exchange at the opening of the new week today. The local list, however, did not dash ahead at the opening as was the case on the "big board," where the first half hour's business was at the rate of 14,000,000 shares for a full day and prices reached new high ground for the year. Industrials continued active in the trading here, carrying through on the advance, which got under way at the end of last week.

Blaw Knox was in good demand and pointed toward its previous 1933 high. Pittsburgh Screw and Bolt topped its previous high for the year, and Follansbee preferred added substantially to last week's 3½-point gain. The fuels were steady to firm, with Lone Star Gas resuming its position as market leader in point of volume. Over 3,000 shares of the big fuel stock changed hands in the first hour.

RAILWAY BONDS BUOYANT

NEW YORK, May 1.—(INS.)—Continued buoyancy in speculative rail and domestic corporation lons, was the bright feature in late bond market trading today, with but passing attention given to the sluggish tone of United States governments and the better grade investment issues.

Advances in the carrier group ranged from 2 to more than 5 points, with buying motivated by the favorable turn of the latest car-loadings reports to come to hand.

Strong issues in the domestic list with gains of 2 to more than 4 points were Western Union 6½s, Warner Pictures 6s, Loew's 6s, Otis Steel 6s and Remington Rand 5½s.

United States governments maintained a fairly steady tone, but the top-notch utility bonds sagged from fractions to more than a point.

REAL BUSINESS GAIN SHOWN IN APRIL

By MERRYLE S. RUKEYSER
Universal Service.

NEW YORK, May 1.—The month which has just closed was characterized by a further pick-up in sentiment and by actual business improvement in many lines.

Mr. Rukeyser

There appears to be a growing sentiment in business quarters that politicians are undervaluing the capacity in business for self help.

The view has been put forth that the descending spiral has already been checked. Not wishing too much back seat driving from the government, one industrialist said:

"As of the middle of April industrial production and factory employment for a period of nine months had averaged higher than at the low points last summer. Prices of many important raw materials have also averaged for the past nine or ten months as high, and in some cases higher than last summer's lows. Some commodities have even been reasonably stabilized since the autumn of 1931.

PRICES STEADY

"Wholesale prices in general have declined only mildly since the middle of 1932, and during the first quarter of the present year have held reasonably steady. The prices of industrial stocks and of virtually all bonds for nine or 10 months have averaged very substantially above last summer's lows. Notwithstanding the closing of many banks, the banking situation in general, particularly in our great financial centers, has unquestionably been much improved as compared with a year ago. Our unemployment situation, while severe, has not been growing worse at the rate popularly asserted. Many of those reported as unemployed have long since found their way back to the land with relatives or on their own initiative, while the organization for unemployment relief has functioned infinitely better during the past year than in earlier periods. With the summer months ahead, the fundamental outlook has become much more favorable.

CONFIDENCE REVIED

"Further, adjustments between debtors anr creditors have been going on rapidly, and realities have been faced by businessmen with a view to reducing their costs to the minimum and going ahead from present levels. The farmers, also, have reduced their costs of production. Finally, drastic governmental economies, both national and local, are in process of being worked out, with consequent restoration of confidence in our public finances being revived.

"Economically speaking, for the first time in several years the country was very obviously getting ready to go ahead under its own steam."

Be that as it may, the recent enthusiasm for common stocks and commodities was based on the expectation that the dollar would be cheapened to some extent by inflationary devices.

LATE BUYING AIDS COTTON

NEW YORK, May 1.—An excited opening advance which sent July contracts up to 8.27 or $2 per bale above Saturday's close was followed by partial reactions in cotton today under realizing. The more urgent demand based on the prospects for inflation was supplied during the earlier trading, and volume business tapered off later. July reacted to 8.09 and was ruling around 8.14 at 2 o'clock, when the general list showed net gains of 26 to 30 points.

The market was firmer late in the day on increased trade buying and covering. Futures closed steady, 30-37 higher: May, 8.09; July, 8.20@8.22; October, 8.41@8.43; December, 8.57; January, 8.68@8.69; March, 8.82. Spot quiet, middling, 8.25.

LIVERPOOL, May 1.—Cotton, no receipts. Spot in better demand, improved business done; prices 18 points higher. Quotations in pence: American, strict good middling, 6.48; good middling, 6.18; strict middling, 5.88; middling, 5.73; strict low middling, 5.53; low middling, 5.38; strict good ordinary, 5.18; good ordinary, 4.88. Futures closed steady; May, 5.47; July, 5.45; October, 5.44; December 5.45; January, 5.45; March, 5.48.

Dry Goods Prices Up, Demand Active

NEW YORK, May 1.—(AP.)—Dry goods prices in all primary markets tended higher on a broader demand. Cotton goods are held at 4c for wide print cloths, percales are up ½c a yard and discounts have been further shortened on duck, sheets and pillow cases and other lines. Wool goods are now being held for advances in nearly all houses. Silk continued higher with silg goods advancing in the gray and finished divisions. Further rayon advances are pending. Burlaps continued strong.

WHEAT LOWER AT FINISH

CHICAGO, May 1.—New jumps in wheat values today took the market 7 cents a bushel higher than Friday's low point and well above Saturday's big rise, but heavy selling led to reactions. Near the close, prices averaged lower than Saturday.

Unabated interest was shown by grain trades as to inflation developments at Washington, where the House was to consider amendments to the administration farm bill. In some quarters a disposition was evident to take more notice of the farm bill itself with its various novel features, and doubt was expressed as to whether, aside from inflation, the bill would prove bullish or bearish.

Wheat closed nervous, ¼-⅞ under Saturday's finish, corn ½ off to ¼ up, oats ⅛-⅜ down, and provisions showing 5 to 10 cents decline.

Forbes

Dictators for Industry, Rails, Money, Farms

By B. C. FORBES

GOING UP, commodities, stocks, speculative bonds, industrial employment, trade, traffic, raw materials, power consumption—all exhibit betterment as April ends.

Mr. Forbes

Inflation, prospective rather than actual is the all-embracing explanation.

WHILE many thoughtful, experienced, well read citizens contemplate with acute alarm the rapid-fire multiplicity of revolutionary innovations being hatched and approved at Washington, actualities of the market places are widely accepted as warranting hope, even confidence, that the long-sustained, cruel downswing is over and that stagnation is giving way to animation.

May hundreds of millions of dollars have been added to the market value of farm products during the last two months. Security quotations have expanded literally billions of dollars.

Within the space of last week came authentic reports of an impressive rebound in steel production and appreciable improvement in prices; a substantial rise in copper; announcements of quickened demand for various raw materials, including notably, rubber, wool and hides; distinctly better news from retailers; facts and figures cheerful beyond all expectation from prominent motor manufacturers, including re-engagement of workers on a gratifying scale; gains in unfilled orders, not only by steel companies, but by electric companies and other manufacturers; a drop in business failures; better traffic returns from numbers of railroads; even intimations that the construction industry is showing signs of life.

SUCH AN ARRAY of realities naturally had more effect upon the minds of the majority than had criticisms within and without Congress of some of the administration's latest inflationary, dictatorial panaceas.

Authority has either already been gaily granted, or is accepted as impending, to subject to governmental dictation, to governmental dictatorship, the railroads, industry, agriculture, the three main pillars of our national economic structure.

In the not less vital realms of banking and currency, authority to institute almost untrammeled governmental power has been or is about to be sanctioned, even to the extent, first, of commanding the federal reserve banks to absorb three billion more government bonds although they are already loaded up beyond all precedent; second, of setting the printing presses in motion to manufacture three billions of greenbacks; third, of decreeing silver to be worth as money the William Jennings Bryan 16-to-1 or some other ratio; fourth, of investing the President with the right to debase the gold value of the dollar to the extent of 50 per cent.

On top of all this, every employer in the land may be forbidden to allow any wage earner to work more than 30 hours in any week.

THESE ARE breath-taking innovations.

The very natural qualms they have excited are sought to be quieted by assurances that President Roosevelt has no intention of exercising the czar-like powers he has requested.

Businessmen would have preferred that, in such case, less dumbfounding demands had been propounded.

THE ONE general deduction drawn is that inflation will be effected by one means or another.

Hence the desire manifested to exchange dollars of prospec- diminishing value for wheat, cotton, steel, automobiles, rubber, copper, wool, hides, sugar, coffee, silver common stocks, preferred stocks selling far below par, second grade bonds quoted at heavy discounts, and other possessions. Real estate should logically fall into line.

HE WOULD be more rash than prudent who would assume ability to predict what even the nearby outcome, to say nothing of the ultimate outcome will be.

Suffice to say that there is widespread expectation that the rise in most prices will go further.

(Copyright, 1933, B. C. Forbes.)

RISING PRICES SPUR TRADE ACTIVITY

NEW YORK, May 1.—(AP.)—The record clearly shows that business scored another robust gain during the past week.

With increasing optimism, trade leaders enjoyed the exhilerating experience of watching the barometers chart a substantial expansion in general industrial activity.

Whatever may be the ultimate result, there is, at the moment, ample evidence that the rise in commondity prices which has accompanied the fall of the dollar in the world markets has been a spur to enlarged sales totals.

Conspicuous in this respect last week were two key industries, steel and automobiles. In both cases substantial advances were chalked up, while electric power production also registered more than seasonal gain.

STEEL LEADS UPTURN

In the steel division, production last week rose to 29 per cent of capacity, comparing with 14 per cent at the beginning of April, according to Steel, which says production for the coming week is scheduled to show a further gain. This means that the rate of output during the month has practically doubled.

The upward movement in motor retail sales last week reached the highest levels of the year to date, according to Cram's report. Nine passenger car producers stepped up their schedules and the total output for April is now estimated at about 155,000 units or approximately the same as April, 1932.

Freight car loadings have held up well, although the latest report showed the advance had been checked. Loadings for the week ended April 22 amounted to 492,970 cars, a decrease of 1,245 from the preceding week. A notable item in the traffic report was the increase in miscellaneous freight of 1,775 cars during the week, generally regarded as an accurate yardstick of the volume of goods going into consumers' hands.

STORE SALES EXPAND

Electric power production offered striking evidence of an industrial pickup by revealing a decline of only 2.6 per cent from 1932, the smallest drop from a year previously since the downward curve started in August, 1931.

The retail buying movement, which has been gaining steadily since the banking holiday, was given a fresh boost during the past week by the inflationists. Mercantile reviews report that sales of staple goods were well above the recent volume. Higher prices have strengthened demand in many lines, particularly in the textile and shoe division.

CORPORATE EARNINGS

American Light and Traction Company had net income of $6,140,431 in the 12 months ended March 31, equal to $1.93 a common share, as against $8,442,607 or $2.76 a share in the year ended March 31, 1932. For the quarter ended March 31 net income was $1,269,906, equivalent to 38 cents a common share, as compared with $1,953,764 or 65 cents a share in the first quarter of 1932.

American Gas and Electric Company in the 12 months ended March 31 had net income of $10,523,363, equal to $1.98 a common share, against $15,205,792 or $3.24 a share in the 12 months ended March 31, 1932.

SILVER, COPPER SELL HIGHER

NEW YORK, May 1.—(AP.)—Silver was strong today in active trading. Bar metal was quoted at 36¼ cents an ounce, up half a cent. Futures on the National Metal Exchange advanced from one-half to a cent an ounce in a large turnover.

Sales of copper in the domestic market at 6¾ cents a pound, up ¼ cent from recent levels, were reported today. The market was described as firm at that quotation.

Substantial tonnages for nearer month delivery were said to have been sold by one producer at 6¾ cents, although consumers generally were represented as being unready to pay the higher price.

DOG, UNFED, DINES ON CASH

CHICAGO, May 1. — (AP.) — Maybe Judge Joseph Sabath doesn't like dog stories.

But whether he does or not Ted Arnold, a trap drummer, is prepared to tell him one and swear that it's the truth.

Arnold is going to tell what happened to the $20 in bills he laid on a table Saturday night preparatory to turning them over to his former wife, Mrs. Gladys McMann, to whom he was ordered by the court to pay the money for support of their 10-year son, Garrett.

By Sunday the money had disappeared. But under the table, where Kling, Arnold's police dog lay snoozing, were two or three bits of green paper. Kling's feeding had been overlooked and Kling made a meal of one $10 bill, one $5 and five ones.

OBITUARY

Rev. John Horrocks.

In Memoriam 1-B

In loving memory of my dear husband, John A. Knauss, who passed away one year ago today, May 1, 1932.

The stars are dimly shining
Upon one lonely grave,
Where sleeps, without awakening
One beloved we could not save.

Sadly missed by his wife, parents, sisters and brothers.

The Flapper's Daughter

By BEATRICE BURTON

CHAPTER XXXV.

It was 12 o'clock—just seven hours after Sharlie had climbed into Mr. Collins' car and started out for the "drive into the country" that he had been promising her all week. The drive into the country had resolved itself into dinner at a roadhouse, just as Sharlie had intended that it should.

She sat facing him now across a little corner table in the Riverview Inn, a roadhouse de luxe set high on a hill some two hours' drive from town.

Synopsis

Pretty Sharlie Dunn's husband is killed on their wedding day and she returns to live with her mother, Dodie. After a brief estrangement, Sharlie's parents are reconciled. Jim Barnum, neighbor, is in love with Sharlie and reprimands her for her flirtations. Edna Ballinger, a cousin, gets Sharlie a position where she works. Edna has secretly loved her employer, Mr. Collins, for years. Sharlie finds office work dull. Sharlie wants Collins to notice her more. During vacation time Sharlie works in Edna's place. Sharlie is thrilled when Collins says that he thinks of her sometimes. He takes her for a ride in his machine.

Now Go On

All around them were the lights, the music, the blue cigaret smoke, the movement and noise and color of a restaurant and dance place at midnight. Girls, little silly-looking girls with their hats off and their smooth hair shining under the lights, danced past the corner table in their partners' arms. The girls were all young, and even the plainest of them was attractive with the bright glamour of youth and high spirits.

The men were of all ages, Sharlie noticed, watching them from under her long lashes. Two or three looked young, not more than twenty-five or six.

WANTS LUXURY

Sharlie and Mr. Collins were tired of dancing. At least Mr. Collins had said, fully an hour before, that he was a bit "winded," and Sharlie had said, "Well, let's not dance any more then."

Mr. Collins looked very tired. He looked old, too, somehow. His collar had wilted and he had lost the fresh pink clean-shaven look that he always had at the office—particularly in the early morning when he first came in. His face looked lined and slightly puffy.

"He's much too old for me," thought Sharlie. Of course she had known all along that he was —and yet——

"Tired of all this rumpus, Sharlie? Ready to go?" he asked and she nodded.

"Yes, I'm ready to go, Mr. C[illegible]."

[illegible] was. Somehow or other, she [illegible] not been having such a ve[illegible] good time. It was funny, too, when she realized that she and Mr. Collins had certainly had all the "makings" of a good time. A high-powered car, a table in this luxurious room with its mirror-lined walls and gilt chairs, a smooth dance floor, a "hot" orchestra, and a chicken dinner that had started with frosted fruit cocktail and wound up with crepes suzette and black coffee. Mr. Collins had brought along a flask, too, and Sharlie had had several sips of the highballs he had mixed for himself.

Sharlie could look back on her short life and remember dozens of "zippier" evenings she had had. Evenings with her friends at high school. Evenings with Eddie. The one roadhouse evening she had spent with Mar[illegible]orie Milliken and her boy [illegible]iends.

Yes, there was no doubt that a girl had a better time with people her own age than with older men. But—only a man with plenty of money could provide the things that Sharlie wanted so passionately just then. The right kind of automobile, the right kind of home, luxury and leisure . . . The things that Mr. Collins could give the girl he married.

BUYS PERFUME

"And I can marry him if I want to," she went on talking to herself as she powdered her little white nose before one of the mirrors in the women's dressing roo[illegible] on her way out of the roadho[illegible]e. She felt more sure of th[illegible] tonight than ever before.

There was a perfume machine just inside the door and she stopped there for a moment to drop a dime into its slot and receive a tiny jet of perfume on one cheek. The machines in cheap roadhouses were filled with awful stuff that smelled like vanilla, she reflected, but in this Riverview Inn even the perfume was right. It was "Night in Tahiti" and it was frightfully expensive, as Sharlie knew. It always had made her think of big white flowers under a moon, when she sniffed it at toilet counters.

If you loved a man maybe you didn't mind having to use cheap perfume and ride in a cheap car and do your own washing and ironing and cooking—but, gosh, you'd have to love him a lot, wouldn't you?

"And I'm not really in love with anybody," Sharlie wound up her train of thought "and I do like Mr. Collins." Not as much as she had liked him that afternoon, though. Perhaps she was a little bored with him after so many hours, or perhaps she was a little disenchanted by the way he looked tonight. His breath had smelled of stale whisky when he danced with her a while ago . . .

She pulled on her gloves, straightened her little hat and went out to meet him.

PLEASANT VISIONS

He was standing at the door and outside under the porte cochere his car stood waiting. To Sharlie it looked as splendid as the magic coach must have looked to Cinderella. Think of owning a car like that! Of driving down the street in it, with Maude Hanaberry peeking out from behind her curtains to see it, and with the Barnums all coming to their front windows to have a look, too! . . . Think of never having to get up at the crack of dawn any more and going to the office to work all day! Think of getting away from the flat, from the Schultzes and the Doolittles and the poker games and the smell of home-brew and cheese sandwiches!

As soon as they were in the car she found one of her hands with one of his. He held it tightly for a moment and then let go of it.

"Aren't you going to take off your glove, Sharlie? I want to hold your hand, not your glove."

Obediently Sharlie stripped off her glove and put her hand back into his.

"This is a lovely night, isn't it?" She leaned back in the seat and took great breaths of the cool misty air that was like softly-moving water on her face as the car slid down the dark hill upon which the inn was perched like a feudal castle.

"I don't know, but this is a lovely girl," said Mr. Collins, pressing her fingers with his big ones. At the bottom of the hill where the shrubbery was thick and shadowy he put on the brakes and stopped his car.

MOMENT OF REGRET

"Lovely," she heard him say again in a thick whisper. In the darkness his hand found her face, turned it up to his and he kissed her. A long hard kiss that smelled of whiskey and bruised her lips.

Sharlie found herself remembering Caddy telling her that she was a "swell kid" and kissing her in the rumble seat of his little car. Kissing her lightly and cheerfully as if a kiss were part of an evening's fun and didn't mean anything.

Just what did this man's kiss mean? . . . A great deal, probably. He never had been the philandering sort of employer who makes love to his office help. Sharlie knew that through Edna's long experience in his office.

"He's going to ask me to marry him," she kept thinking, and for a second she had a wild feeling of regret that she had let him go so far. "He's too old for me. He's not the person I want—"

She wrenched herself away from him. "Don't! You're hurting my mouth, Mr. Collins!"

Funny to be calling him "Mr. Collins" when he was making love to her like this. Funny, too, to be thinking about Caddy and other people while she was in this man's arms. If you really cared for a man, you wouldn't be thinking of anyone but him when he had his arms around you.

ASKS SECRECY

"I'm sorry, Sharlie." his grip on her slackened a little. "Only I'm crazy about you."

Then the headlights of another automobile swept around the edge of the hill just above them, and he leaned forward and started his car once more.

It was almost two o'clock when he stopped his car at the corner of her street.

"Want to get out here, dear?" he asked when he had kissed her once more. "I'll wait until you get to your door."

Sharlie's big eyes widened in the darkness.

"Why, no. Why should I want to get out here, Mr. Collins?" There was genuine puzzlement in her voice.

Mr. Collins shrugged his shoulders. "I just thought you might not want your people to know you'd been out until this time—with me."

Sharlie shook her head slowly. "I have to explain to them just where I've been until this time. You don't mind my telling them, do you?"

"Well, I don't want Edna to know about it, Sharlie. Or at least I'd rather she didn't know about it. I don't want to be the center of office gossip, do you?" He opened the door of the car beside him and got out.

THE TAPPING OF THE BLAST FURNACE

In the blast furnace the iron ore is mixed with coke, limestone and some other chemicals (according to the composition of the ore used) and reduced to molten iron and slag (see issue of April 24). The molten iron is run off in ladles. The iron from the blast furnace contains about 3.5% carbon and considerable silicon, manganese, phosphorus and sulphur. It is too brittle to be used for finished products. By refining processes the cast iron, wrought iron and steel is obtained from the pig iron. (Chemistry.)

EXECUTION OF TORRIJOS AND HIS COMPANIONS (Liberalists) (1831)

Napoleonic wars had swept Spain, drove Ferdinand VII off the throne and introduced ideas of liberty. After Napoleon's fall, the Congress of Vienna restored Ferdinand and despotism was renewed. Liberals lived in exile, else they would have been shot. France, under Louis Philippe, and England encouraged these exiles toward a limited monarchy in Spain. But the jealousies caused the Liberals' break-up into small groups before they could invade Spain. Torrijos, Liberalist general, attacked with about 2,000 men, but suffered defeat. He escaped with few survivors, and with them was executed after treacherours capture at Malaga. (Hume: Modern Spain.) (World's History.)

POURING MOLTEN IRON

HOT WIRE INSTRUMENTS

The heat effect of the electric current can be used to measure the electromotive force (in volts) or the intensity (in amps.). The voltmeter shown is connected parallel to the electric line by terminals T1 and T2 of wire A. Another wire C fixed at B and connected to A at the middle is attached with a silk thread around a pulley to pointer D, kept in tension by spring E. When T1 and T2 are connected to the points of the line between which the electromotive force is to be measured, A will carry part of the current, becomes heated, elongates and sags; wire C will yield to spring E, which brings pointer O in a position showing the electromotive force of the current in volts on the dial. Hot wire ammeters are similar, except wire A is stronger and connected in series. (Edgecumbe: Industrial Electrical Measuring Instruments). (Science.)

Bugs Baer

A Home Brewer Retires

Once again the law seems to have itself all tangled up with its ultimate destination. It says that 3.2 beer is not intoxicating by volume and perfectly legal by weight.

Ponderous opinions have been handed down from the rumble seats of the mighty. Scientists have delivered academic treatises on the formented topic. Legislators have decreed, reformers have protested, corporations have appealed and independents have complained and protested. And, in spite of all the information on the subject, it still tastes pretty good.

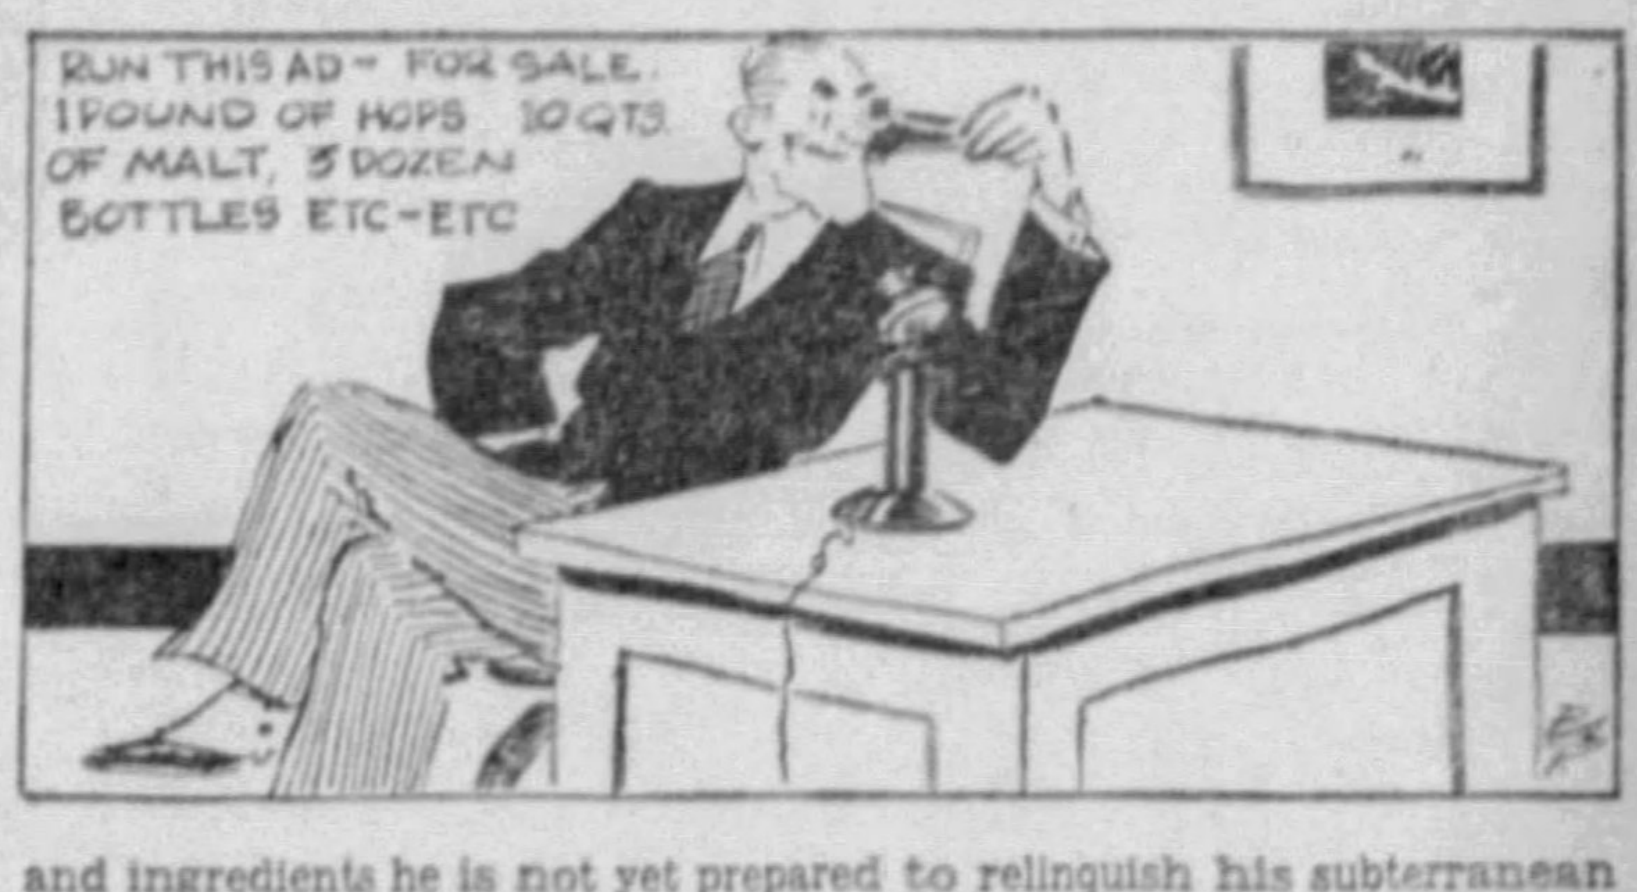
That's what we wanted to know. Would there be so many directions on the packing that the contents would be hampered by the instructions?

It ain't bad. It is not the oldtime stuff. It is reminiscent without being authoritative. It is a hint. But not concise information.

The very mathematical rating of 3.2 explains itself.

Figures without facts.

And that is why the home brewer has not abandoned his cellar empire. Having had 13 years of experience in stirring up contents and ingredients he is not yet prepared to relinquish his subterranean superiority. He is still monarch of the furnace room and all he surveys.



RUN THIS AD - FOR SALE. 1 POUND OF HOPS 10 QTS. OF MALT, 5 DOZEN BOTTLES ETC - ETC

Back of it all is the individual feeling of egotism. Every man thinks he is better than an expert. The writer once made a radio that cost him $200 for jiggers and gadgets. The most distance he ever got with it was when he dropped it 50 feet out of a window. But for years he serenely believed it was the best radio ever made. You couldn't pick up anything but static on it. Finally, the good wife went out in disgust and bought a real radio for $7 that catches Europe, bites Africa and snaps at Australia. It was made by a skilled workman.

Possibly, the brewmaster can do better than us oldtime cavern vintners. But they will have to make it a million dollars' better than we do before we concede them a dime.

In the meantime, we have a porcelain tub, a pound of hops, 10 quarts of malt, a bushel of powdered emery, three dozen bottles, a self capper and three packages of bi-carb on sale to the highest, the next highest or even the third highest bidder.

You might even get it if you're fourth. We've gone out of business.

Senatorial Rudeness

Refusal to Let the People Pass on the Old Age Pension Question Will Be Unpardonable.

Social workers assert it is better for the state to give poverty-stricken old people modest pensions and let them continue to live at home than to send them to the poorhouse. They say it is better for the state, and better for the old folk.

President Roosevelt is a staunch supporter of old age pensions.

Congress now has under consideration a bill providing for the payment by the federal government of one-third of the money required by the states for old age pensions.

The opponents of the proposal tried to bury it in committee. When the House Committee on Constitutional Amendments failed to act on the measure the members of the House [illegible] the committee from further consideration of the [illegible] passed it by a vote of 180 to 12.

[illegible] the Senate the bill was referred to a packed sub-committee of the Committee on Pensions and Gratuities, which proceeded to pigeonhole it.

An effort is to be made tonight to discharge this committee from further consideration of the measure.

But there is no courtesy in the refusal of the packed committee to let the Senate pass on the measure.

And since the plan must be ratified by the people, the Senate, if it refuses to let the question come before the people, will be guilty of senatorial rudeness.

In fact, it is no overstatement that if the Legislature declines to permit the voters of Pennsylvania to pass on this matter, which they are so desirous of passing upon, it will be virtually insulting the people by implying that they are incapable of passing upon the subject intelligently.

If the Legislature does not let the question appear on the ballot in the November election, it will be impossible to bring it before the people until six more years have elapsed.

It is to be hoped the Senate will not impose this long delay.

The Useful 'Y' Schools

A Service Has Been Done the Community by Providing Occupation for Unemployed Youths.

The Young Men's Christian Association answered the question by establishing schools, in which instruction in a variety of subjects was offered, free, by volunteer certified teachers, to jobless youths unable to attend schools requiring the payment of tuition fees.

Henry Russell Miller, chairman of the education committee at the Downtown headquarters of the "Y," reports that 617 young men availed themselves of this opportunity during the past winter, and that 48 competent teachers donated their service.

This is a fine record and will be productive of lifelong benefits to the youths who attended the "Y" schools instead of loafing.

Pittsburgh is indebted to the "Y" and to the teachers for this valuable service to the community.

Doctors and Religion

The Faith of Physicians Should Strengthen the Faith Of the Laity.

Commenting on a passage in Dr. Clarence E. Macartney's recent sermon in the First Presbyterian Church on the subject, "The Doctor," the editor of the Pittsburgh Medical Bulletin remarks in the current issue of that publication:

". . . we were reminded of the role filled by a colleague, who, as we stood by him the previous day, brought a smile of assurance to the countenance of a patient fatally stricken with Type III pneumonia, by reciting the hope-inspiring, tranquillizing words of the Twenty-third Psalm."

What a sorrowful world it would be if all faith in religion were to be lost!

There are scientists who teach—their doctrines are set forth in a textbook, "Modern Scientific Knowledge," used in the University of Pittsburgh—that everything can be explained in terms of physics and chemistry, that a human being is a machine, a mere form of matter—and nothing more.

How reassuring it is that there are doctors who retain faith in religion and see something else in human beings besides mortal bodies!

Marihuana Outlawed

The Legislature Has Acted Wisely in Extending the Drug Act to Include Hashish.

Although the Legislature has failed to enact satisfactory bills for the regulation of the public utilities, has bungled poor relief, and failed to act on other important matters, the session has not been wholly sterile.

A hasty survey of what has been accomplished shows the enactment of a number of measures which, while not of the [illegible]pt importance, are meritorious.

Among the bills passed is one extending the provisions of the drug act to include marihuana. It is gratifying that a curb has been placed on indulgence in this narcotic, for it is a dangerous drug and its use has been on the increase in Pennsylvania.

Marihuana, also known as "loco weed," is a form of hashish, and is much used by some of the foreigners in Homestead, McKeesport and that vicinity. While under its influence people sometimes commit crimes; hence there is ample justification for the state's interference.

Once Overs

By J. J. Mundy

Conditions have made it necessary for you to save your nickels.

Necessity for retrenchment has brought you in closer contact with your family.

It cannot be denied that despite the curtailment of expenses required there is a better family feeling in homes than there has been for many years.

There are more family councils, more combined planning and more hours spent at home than formerly.

During the jazz age you caught that spirit and gadded about far more than you should have done.

It required more to interest you and amuse you when every one was thoughtless and careless and irresponsible.

You wanted to be on the move in your leisure hours.

Home was a way station—you had money to spend and you spent it.

Family conferences were not needed or thought of because things seemed to be always coming your way.

Each member of the family had some special amusement and was able to follow his or her personal inclination.

Pleasure was the great goal, but now you are thinking, you know that mere pleasure, neither profitable nor possible, gets you nowhere worthwhile.

In a jerry-built joss house in Mott street a frail-voiced Chinese girl lectures for sightseers at 25 cents a head. She explains the process of prayer and some tenets of Confucius. After the talk she pilots customers to a rear exit—it is bad luck to leave through the same door of entrance—and they grope through a dark, tortuous alley. It's scary, or at least it was to me. Boo!

Anna May Wong, in an unguarded moment, promised to act as a Chinatown cicerone, but we never got around to it. I am told that on Miss Wong's occasional visits there business comes to a full stop in cafes, joss houses and fan tan parlors. News of her arrival spreads in that mysterious grape-vine fashion so peculiar to the quarter. Everywhere are peering eyes, even to white wives behind shuttered windows. She is their own who has captivated another world.

No figure in the Broadway hoop-la so successfully bowed out of the picture in the past few years as Texas Guinan. She went out like an electric light. No one knows why. Various stories circulate—night club business was bad, Texas feared prohibition reprisals, a gang chieftain thumbs-downed her enterprises or she thought a late season in Montreal and Chicago would re-charge her customers with fervor. Next to her, the late Wilson Mizner's evanishment from the White Way was the greatest puzzle. No one believed he could remain away more than a few weeks, but he was absent nine years with short visits growing increasingly apart. "I got punch goofy hanging around," he once told me.

LISTEN, WORLD

By Elsie Robinson

Do YOU want to stay young, active, eager and magnetic?

Want to keep your enthusiasms and your places in the Big Parade? Want to be as vital at 60 as you were at 16?

It can be done. It has been done. There's one way of doing it—and only one:

Make life hard for yourself!
Choose a job that hurts!

This, of course, isn't the sort of a job most of us are looking for. Anything but! We want a soft snap—easy hours, good pay, no interference or difficult demands. We are trained to desire that sport of a job when we're youngsters. Constantly we hear of "lucky people" who have jobs like that. If, eventually, we land such a job for ourselves, we think we're sitting pretty. But, as a matter of fact, we couldn't be sitting worse.

There's nothing that will put you out of the running quicker than a soft snap.

You can't keep physically fit without exercises, fresh air, cold water, coarse, wholesome food. You can't keep mentally fit without conflict, criticism, danger, disappointment, failure, humiliation and constant, everlasting pressure. Grit in your food keeps fat off your waistline; grief in your work keeps it off your brain. Make things easy for a man, protect him from all trouble—and he becomes just so much complacent beef-on-the-hoof.

If you want to keep young and fit, pick a program that hurts.

And this applies to marriage, to be successful, should be perfectly happy. But nothing could be worse for the average human than to find a mate who always adores and protects, and never criticizes performance. This is particularly bad for women who have little contact with the world, save through their husbands. Such women invariably become conceited, selfish, intolerant—and thoroughly miserable.

An easy life is never a happy nor a healthy one. It has no perspective, nothing to stimulate it, nothing to make it proud. The most petted and protected people are always the most peevish.

Keep hustling! That's the first law of life for every living thing. Don't let yourself be comfortable. Don't let yourself feel safe. Constantly set up more difficult and dangerous tasks for yourself. Never let yourself say, "Well, now I can take things easy." The minute you begin to take things easy, that minute you're cooked! WHEN YOU STOP DOING, YOU START DYING.

You may not know you're dying, stranger, but it's a cinch that everyone else will!

Isn't It So?

You Have Come Back

You have come back; the garden ways
Are bright as those in other days
When violet
And mignonette
And larkspur flowered to win your praise.

You have come back; the old house glows
Again as gracious as a rose,
Through every room
Like rare perfume
The magic of your presence flows.

You have come back, and O, my dear,
The wonder of your being here
Brings back anew
Old dreams we knew
And love we lost in yesteryear!

Export Trade Fallacies

Foreign Business Is of Slight Importance as Compared With the Future of the Home Market.

By SAMUEL CROWTHER

Excerpts from an article in the Saturday Evening Post of April 29, 1933. Reprinted by permission of the editor.

(Copyright, 1933, by Curtis Publishing Company.)

WE ARE told almost daily and with great authority that this country needs, above all else, to recover and expand its export trade, and that only as the trade between nations gets into its old stride will the world be able to go about the business of making a living.

We are told to lower our tariffs so that foreigners can sell us more goods and hence buy more from us, and especially are we exhorted to use the war debts to bargain in some fashion for trade concessions which will let us sell goods to countries which will not now buy them.

None of the advisers gets down to the exact facts. No one has given a list of American industries which are willing to step down and out in order to let in foreign goods. No one has given a list of foreign industries which are willing to step aside in order to let in American goods.

The truth is that some great and fundamental changes have come about in the commerce of the world, and the old volume of international commerce carried on in the old way has gone. . . . . . .

WE HAVE within our borders the wealthiest and most complete economic machine the world has ever known.

To the extent that we import and export, we expose that machine to outside control—a war in which we have no concern may throw millions of our people out of work, if their jobs depend either on foreign demand or supply. Instead of a war with arms, we may run into an economic war waged with cartels and prices that will equally damage our progress.

For a while we imagined that foreign commerce was always sweet. Now we know that it can be very bitter. We cannot take the sweet without the bitter.

Many of the industrialists of the country are already agreed that their possible foreign business is of slight consequence as compared with the future of the home market. They, keeping abreast of science, are realists, and so, reluctantly, but positively, they have come to realize that many of the changes which have come about in the world's commerce are basic. . . . .

IT IS futile to tell those who are unwilling to recognize the changed conditions that free trade never has existed in this world and that the conditions which would make it possible cannot exist.

It is futile to tell them that what Great Britain once called free trade was only a taking advantage of the circumstance that England, being the first to realize the importance of power and machinery, attained a supremacy which made it unnecessary to protect the home market from foreign competition and very necessary not to have barriers anywhere thrown up against British goods. . . . .

OUT OF experience came the British theory of free trade—as being the best arrangement for the British. Now, Britain, having learned through further experience that free trade is no longer workable in practice, has quit the practice and retained the theory.

The theory, it now appears, is applicable only to the United States. It is being preached to us with extraordinary vehemence from certain foreign sources and repreached to us with even more vehemence by American propagandists. . . . .

WITHIN THE borders of continental United States is annually done just about one-half of the entire business of the world. Ours is the market which the whole trading world is trying to penetrate and to exploit.

The foreigners are not to be blamed for this ambition. They are not to be blamed for pretending that throwing open our home market to them is free trade and the salvation of the world. But it is odd that they have succeeded in getting so many of our people to believe them. . . . .

IT HAS been asserted by many that, if only the leading nations could meet in a conference and settle upon an international money and agree to lower the artificial barriers to international trade, the world would resume its old trading habits and thereby a measure of world prosperity would be restored. This simply cannot happen.

Science has broken down the old division between manufacturing countries and raw-material countries, and science is further breaking down the list of raw materials for the supply of which we formerly had to depend on nature.

It is being realized in most countries that the importation of goods which could be made at home is an economic waste, and the import regulations which the economists read as certain evidences of economic lunacy are really struggles in the direction of national economic balance.

The real lunacy appears in the frantic efforts to export goods to markets that do not want them.

LIVES SAVED

One hundred and fifty years ago kings and beggars, rich men and poor men alike, paid tribute to the dread scourge of bacterial diseases. Society belles went into retirement, and death was often preferred to horrible disfigurement. Thousands upon thousands of infants died.

Then vaccination was discovered. After a number of years the majority of civilized people were persuaded to put aside their fetishes and accept its undoubted value as a preventive measure. Smallpox ceased its ravages. Court beauties no longer sustained repulsive scars. The death rate fell sharply, as vaccination opened the way for other methods of disease control.

OUNCE OF PREVENTION

The discovery of vaccination is an apt illustration of the ancient adage "An ounce of prevention is worth a pound of cure." The causes of most diseases have been shown to be germs of bacteria, conveyed through the air or contracted by contact.

Food has been shown to be a most important carrier of bacteria. Not only does it enter the system through the mouth, but its very properties as an environmont enable bacteria to thrive and multiply. Most of the bacteria present in foods are harmless, but noxious bacteria are often present in small quantities. Science knows that most human bodies can successfully resist attack by small numbers of toxic bacteria, but it has also found that these same bacteria can lay low the healthiest organism if they are permitted to increase without check. Thus science counsels keeping foods in a condition unfavorable to bacteria.

FOOD PRESERVATION

Through the centuries there have been no means of adequate preservation of food save salting and spicing. This method was not used for disease prevention so much as it was that decayed foods were offensive to the senses. Salt and spices are still used to a certain extent in food preservation, but we now know that fresh foods are best for health.

The answer to the problem of bacterial growth and proper preservation of food in its fresh state is refrigeration at a constant temperature of below 50 degrees Fahrenheit. A dependable and generally satisfactory domestic method of protection against disease and decay is electric refrigeration.

With electric refrigeration the baby's milk—the favorite feeding and breeding ground of bacteria—is kept safe and wholesome. Leftovers are kept fresh, and plenty of ice cubes are ready to hand for cool drinks on hot summer days.

Man for Ages Sought Method Of Making Cold

Long before legend gave way to history, man had learned crudely to control fire and obtain for himself the comforts and advantages of heat. But from the dawn of time until very recently, he has been at the mercy of the elements for cold.

The efforts of man to produce low temperatures at will, are as old as his attempts to fly. In the Elizabethan days, Lord Bacon wrote:

> "Heat we have in readiness in respect of fire, but for cold, we must stay till it comes, or seek it in deep caves or high mountains."

Bacon's scientific mind was intrigued by the preservative qualities of low temperatures. His interest cost him his life. He caught a fatal cold when he alighted from his carriage one wintry day to stuff a freshly killed chicken with snow, in an experimental effort to preserve it.

Alexander the Great, who was always looking for new worlds to conquer, had trenches dug and filled with snow to cool wine for his fighting phalanxes. Slaves brought snow from the mountains to cool Nero's wine. Saladin, leader of the Mohammedan armies, amazed the doughty crusader, Richard the Lion Hearted, by sending him a frozen sherbet.

The ancient Egyptians filled shallow trays of porous material with water and exposed them to night winds. In the morning they

INDUSTRY HAS GOOD OUTLOOK

The electric refrigeration industry, although youthful, is destined to be a big industry and an important one in the economic fabric of the nation. The reason for its ascendancy is due to the character of the service rendered by an electric refrigerator. Many users are acclaiming it to be the most important appliance in their home.

There are four principal reasons why every home should have electric refrigeration facilities: convenience, additional comfort, health and economy. Every housewife who possesses an electric refrigerator rejoices daily as often as she has occasion to compare her present convenience with the many annoyances of less modern methods of refrigeration.

PRESIDENT

I. W. DANFORTH

REFRIGERATION FUTURE BRIGHT

From present indications, one-third more refrigerators will be produced this year over 1932, according to I. W. Danforth, president of the Electric League of Pittsburgh and chairman of the committee sponsoring the Electric Refrigerator Show, which opened in the Gulf Building today. He said:

"During the entire depression, no other industry has held up so well as electrical refrigeration. Everyone wants an electric refrigerator, and with the first improvement in business, I look for a very large increase in sales.

"Already we have seen better buying in the last few weeks as people have noted the upturn in commodity prices. Electrical refrigerators are now priced at the lowest figures in their history, and are a third less than a year and a half ago.

"How long they will stay at these low levels no one knows, but we have reason to believe that prices will go up within 60 days. Already the cost of many of the materials going into the refrigerators has gone up.

"The total production of the refrigeration industry in 1932 was 750,000 units. With every indication of business improvement now apparent, I believe that 1,000,000 units will be produced this year.

"The public is given an excellent opportunity at the Refrigeration Show in the Gulf Building to see the best that the refrigeration industry has to refrigeration industry offers."

Better Homes Exhibit In Gulf Building to Be Permanent Affair

Money Saved With Electric Refrigeration

Electric refrigeration is no luxury. It saves money.

By purchasing in large quantities and storing foods in a good electric refrigerator, it is estimated that from $50 to $150 a year may be saved by the average family. The retail merchant was one of the first to realize and utilize the advantages offered by modern commercial refrigeration. For years he has been passing the word along to his customers.

A decade ago it was a rarity to see strawberries in northern markets in December. Now they are a common Christmas delicacy. Highly perishable foods, such as strawberries, if they are frozen rapidly, will maintain their flavor and delicacy of texture indefinitely.

The old process was one of freezing such commodities slowly. Fruits lost much of their flavor and appetizing appearance by the time they reached the consumer.

The rapid freezing process has been extensively applied to all perishable foods. With meats, it has been learned that the taste and texture is actually improved.

Keeping vegetables fresh and palatable has always been a problem with the housewife. With modern refrigeration it is now easy. Preservation at low temperatures means economy, health, protection and convenience.

Under the old methods of piecemeal buying, it is estimated that 20 per cent of the money spent for food was wasted.

AIRCONDITIONER GIVES COMFORT

Comfort throughout the year despite heat and humidity is made possible today by the use of compactly designed air conditioning equipment for homes, offices and business establishments.

When the pavements actually seem to melt under the extreme heat of a summer's day and residents of Pittsburgh swelter in the discomfort brought on by heat plus humidity, a fortunate few are able to turn on the cold and send old man summer running for shelter.

Part of the exhibit at the Electric Refrigerator Show, which opened today, is made up of the latest thing in air conditioning equipment that places control over indoor weather at the fingertips of owners."

'Street' Displays Latest Models, All Types.

TEN CONCERNS

The electric refrigeration show which opened at 10 a. m. today on the third floor of the Gulf building, Seventh avenue, inaugurates the permanent Better Homes and Buildings Exhibit, dedicated to the home-building art, to be open free to the public of the Greater Pittsburgh trading area daily, from 10 a. m. to 10 p. m.

Visitors will have the opportunity of inspecting a complete modern village of model homes and fine stores created inside of Pittsburgh's newest skyscraper, and viewing demonstrations of the latest models of standard makes of electric refrigerators for home use.

Although the electric refrigeration show will last only this week, the Better Homes and Buildings exhibit will continue to remain open to the public. Created as a permanent institution, it has been designed to present the latest trend in domestic architecture and to demonstrate the correct usage of building materials, furnishings and utilities.

ELECTRIC STREET

Electric refrigerators will be displayed on "Electric Street," a thoroughfare 100 feet long and 16 feet wide, designed to represent a business thoroughfare in a thriving community.

Ten local distributors of electric refrigerators, through the Electric League of Pittsburgh, will participate in the refrigeration show. They are: Suburban Electric Development Company: Frigidaire; Danforth Company: Westinghouse; C. R. Rogers Company; Kelvinator; Ochiltree Electric Company: General Electric; Ludwig Hommel & Company: Norge; Hamburg Brothers: Majestic; J. A. Williams Company: Leonard; Anchor Lite Appliance Company; Crosley; Brown Dorrance Electric Company: Grunow; Graybar Electric Company: Graybar.

AID HOME BUILDER

The opening of the Better Homes and Building Exhibit today marks the consummation of a plan conceived two years ago to construct a permanent exhibition of model dwellings to aid prospective home-builders among the 2,500,000 people in the Greater Pittsburgh trading area.

Although the homes and buildings are model in the sense that they represent the latest in architectural construction and use of building materials, the Better Homes and Buildings exhibit will present to the public dwellings done to actual full-scale measurements, and furnished and decorated as though for occupancy.

While demonstrations of new features of the various electric refrigerators are being made behind the store-fronts on "Electric

New Refrigerator Banishes Drudgery

The advantages of electric refrigeration do not confine themselves to financial economies alone.

The advent of this new service for the home has been a very important step in modern progress towards the elimination of druggery in the kitchen. It marks the emancipation of the housewife during the hot-weather months.

Mexican Markets Go 'American'

Electric refrigeration is saving lives in Mexico. A number of border towns are going "American" in the operation of their municipal markets. Better foods for Mexican babies and grown-ups has been the result. The old-time meat market without refrigeration facilities finds it hard to stay in business in Mexico anywhere near the American border.

For several years the border cities of Mexico have been outlets for American electrical refrigeration products. A number of individually owned markets and restaurants have installed electric refrigeration, setting a new standard of sanitation for the city-owned market buildings with their open-work sales booths, where meat and vegetables are displayed in the midst of dusty stalls of merchandise.

In the old days the Mexican did not seem to mind buying his meat from a dusty counter and receiving it through a little trapdoor in the screened enclosure. Now the new influence of cleanliness is being felt.

The coming of electric refrigerators in towns in the United States along the Mexican border brought changes in the operation of large stores across the line. In Nogales, Mex., some time ago, an enterprising merchant equipped his little store and meat market with up-to-date food preservation equipment, such as he had seen across the border in Nogales, Ariz. His sales increased. His customers noticed that food bought from electrically cooled show-cases was in better condition than that they had been buying under less sanitary conditions.

Modern Refrigerator No Longer Luxury

The electric refrigerator has ceased to be a luxury to a vast number of people. It has become a household necessity for hot weather comfort. Any one of the 2,000,000 owners of this supreme home service will testify to its necessity, its convenience, its economy, and its importance for health.

An electric refrigerator is an investment in home happiness.

REFRIGERATION DEVELOPMENT RAPID

COMPRESSION METHOD SOON FORGES TO FORE

Mechanical Genius and Chemical Research Meet Demands of Housewives.

It would be difficult to determine the most outstanding reason for the development of the household refrigerating unit. The increased attention given to hygiene, the servant problem, the prevalent practice of budget purchasing for household operation, the public tendency to improve domestic arrangements for the greater emancipation of women—all have had their effect.

COMPRESSION METHOD

While the so-called "absorption method" was first used, it was soon outstripped by the compression method, which persists today. This method consists of the expansion of a liquid under a comparatively high pressure into a vapor at a lower pressure. This reduction of pressure and consequent change from a liquid to a vapor greatly reduces the temperature of the vapor, resulting in absorption of heat in the environs.

The vapor is then returned to its original state to be available again for heat absorption. The liquid is carried through a small metal pipe or tubing to the point of pressure reduction, then passed through a very small opening into a larger container, where it expands into a vapor.

Heat is absorbed through the boiler surfaces by the lower temperature within. It is necessary to constantly withdraw this vapor for the continued activity of evaporation or vaporization.

To impel this conduction a gas or air pump, called a compressor, is used. There are two types in use today, the reciprocating piston and the rotary. The reciprocating piston type involves the introduction of gas into a stationary cylinder through a part alternately sealed and opened by automatic valve action, at a frequency which permits the filling of the cylinder at the same instant that a plunger or piston of the diameter of the cylinder is drawn from it.

GAS COMPRESSED

Upon the return stroke of the piston through the cylinder, the opening admitting the gas is closed, permitting the piston by its movement through the cylinder to compress the gas. This compression automatically opens a port, allowing the gas to leave the cylinder. Upon the return stroke of the piston the port is sealed by a valve.

The compressed gas is conducted through pipe or tubing to a container, where the heat originally absorbed in the expansion coil or boiler is removed, permitting the gas to return under this same pressure to liquid form. The heat transfer is performed by bringing the comparatively hot gas through the metallic walls of its pipe container into contact with cooler air or water in a condenser.

Streets," trained attendants will be available to the home exhibition section to explain the construction of the dwellings, the architectural types represented, and the use of materials to prospective home-builders or those interested in remodeling of their present residences.

The Better Homes and Building Exhibit is owned and sponsored by the Gulf Building Company. Eighty or more manufacturers of building products, specialties in home decorating and furnishing and local department stores, will display wares in the exhibition.

HOMES OF THREE TYPES

Designed by Schwab and Palmgreen, Pittsburgh architects, the Better Homes and Building Exhibit will present graphic representation of the three modern schools of architecture: French, English and Colonial. Pittsburghers who have toured Europe will find English homes and courts, as well as those native to France, constructed with fidelity to design and detail. They will also find Dutch Colonial farmsteads, familiar to inhabitants of western Pennsylvania, built to exact detail.

Before the project was begun two years ago, H. B. Kirkpatrick, vice president of the Koppers Building Company, made careful study of similar building exhibitions in Cleveland, Boston, New York and St. Louis. Pittsburgh's Better Homes and Buildings Exhibition, open for the first time today, represents a distinctive advance on the efforts in all other cities to create a permanent exhibition glorifying the home-building art, it is said.

took off the thin film of ice from the surface of the water.

Marco Polo, the great Italian traveler, is credited with bringing recipes for water and milk ices from Japan and China in the thirteenth century. Catherine de Medici is said to have introduced frozen creams and ices in France when she traveled there in the sixteenth century.

The transportation of snow and ice to warm climates met with authoritative resistance in later centuries. In 1823, it is related, a cargo of ice, the first even seen in New Orleans, was condemned by the Mayor, who had police throw the ice overboard. He contended the drinking of ice water caused tuberculosis.

As man's appetite for delectable cooling beverages grew, he became too impatient to wait for seasonal ice. He set about to make it himself. In 1834 Jacob Perkins invented an ice-making machine which employed the modern freezing method of alternately vaporizing and liquifying a fluid. It was not until the last decade, however, domestic electric refrigeration was developed as a universal convenience.

REFRIGERATOR COSTS SMALL

The mechanism of an electric refrigerator does not operate continuously. It is thermostatically controlled, so that the motor will run only when the temperature of the cabinet rises above 50 degrees.

This automatic adjustment is carefully arranged by every manufacturer and dealer. Non-continuous operation insures the owner of an electric refrigerator against paying more than a few cents a day for a service which actually saves a great deal more than in the family food budget alone.

Unwrap Fresh Meat; Cover Cooked Meat

Meat should never be stored in tightly wrapped paper in an electric refrigerator. It should be placed in a clean dish and covered with a piece of waxed paper, if desired. Cooked meats, on the contrary, dry quickly, and should be covered closely.

Must you walk

THE LEN-A-DOR SAVES STEPS

FORTY-SIX times a day, the average woman goes to her refrigerator . . . says a famous home economist. The equivalent of 48 miles a year or more! Extra steps, effort, fatigue! Now you can cut your kitchen mileage in half with the step-saving LEN-A-DOR, found only in the new Leonard Electric. Instead of taking one dish at a time, you "double up," with both hands full on each trip. A touch of the toe on the pedal; the door swings gently open.

Any good electric refrigerator will save food, but here's a refrigerator built to save you, too. The LEN-A-DOR is only one of many advanced features of the new Leonard Electric, growing out of Leonard's 52 years' experience . . . extra values in models that are beautiful, roomy, long lived.

No Other Electric Refrigerator Brings You ALL These Extra Features

The LEN-A-DOR—a touch of the toe and the door swings open—women call it the handiest thing in the home.

ARTIFICIAL COLD TRIED 200 YEARS AGO

SALT AND SNOW CREATED 'ZERO' OF FAHRENHEIT

Goss, in Detroit, First to Establish Thesis on Which Refrigeration Is Based.

The vague beginnings of any great idea usually originate in shadowy form in the mind of man. They are fraught with the fallibility of human limitations. Leonardo da Vinci dreamed of flying four centuries before the Wright brothers made that vision an actuality. Imagination, will, and patient energy are dynamic in the fertility of the first vague seeds of any thought.

It was in 1814 in a little brick building on Fort street, Detroit, that A. H. Goss paraphrased the findings of earlier scientists and tablished the thesis that was to develop electric refrigeration.

DATES BACK TO 1724

About the earliest reference to the creation of cold by artificial means dates back to 1724 when Fahrenheit made a mixture of salt and snow. Thinking he had reached the lowest degree of cold, he scratched zero on the glass.

It was not long before other scientists produced cold below this point, and in 1769 a Russian professor froze mercury itself in a mixture of snow and nitric acid.

A little more than 100 years ago Faraday, in the Royal Institute of London, condensed ammonia gas to a liquid by applying pressure and then cooling it. When the pressure was removed the liquid evaporated, boiled off as gas, and in so doing absorbed heat. This discovery led to the invention of the first machine to create ice artificially.

In 1858 Carre devised a machine that made ice by using a solution of ammonia and water. The first Carre machine to reach the United States had to run the Civil War blockade at New Orleans in 1863.

FIRST MACHINE IN 1775

The first machine that produced ice by purely mechanical means was invented in 1775 by Dr. William Cullen. Similar inventions by Vallance, in France in 1824, and by Jacob Perkins, an American, in England followed. Perkins' machine was patented in England in 1834 and was the predecessor of the modern compression type. Perkins used air as the refrigerating fluid.

Among the early workers in this field were Prof. A. C. Towning, of New Haven, and Dr. John Gorrie, of Apalachicola, Fla. Dr. Gorrie took out the first American patent for a practical ice-making process in 1850. The state of Florida honored Dr. Gorrie by placing his statue in the rotunda of the Capitol at Washington, along with those of the most distinguished citizens of each state.

From 1873 to 1875 the first successful ammonia compression machines were introduced by C. P. C. Linde, of Germany, and David Boyle, of the United States. Many new forms of apparatus were produced and various improvements made.

However, the use of ice-making equipment made no real progress until 1890, when the great shortage of natural ice made it expedient to perfect artificial ice-making methods. The first refrigerator cars in America were used between Chicago and New York in 1867.

15 YEARS OLD

Those first machines were crude and expensive. Only during the last six or eight years have dependable machines been placed on the market at reasonable prices. Authoritative estimates of small ice machine production indicate that previous to 1923 only 20,000 machine were sold.

In 1914 E. J. Copeland, pioneer of domestic electric refrigeration, was largely responsible for the formation of a company that became one of the first producers of domestic refrigeration equipment in America. In 1922 he experimented with a machine of his own and in 1925 organized another company.

Economical, Quality Frigidaire

COSTS ONLY
PLUS FREIGHT

ECONOMY

CONVENIENCE

And here are new conveniences—automatic defrosting—ice trays that slip out of the freezer at a touch of the finger—a wider door—spacious interior—extra room for tall containers—and a compartment for frozen storage.

1/4 MORE FOOD SPACE

BEAUTY

QUALITY

With its porcelain interior, its inbuilt dependability and long life—every detail of this new Frigidaire reflects that quality which has made Frigidaire the choice of a million more buyers than any other electric refrigerator.

PASTEUR DISCOVERY AIDED HEALTH

CHEMIST FIRST TO FIND HEAT KILLED GERMS

Combated Evil Effect Of Improperly Preserved Food; Big Strides Made.

There was a day, not so long ago, when good health was principally a matter of good luck—a time when people believed that a scientific approach to any problem was an evil closely associated with brimstone. Disease was caused by the devil, and it was hardly logical to suppose that science, another of his products, could cure it.

It took the potterings of a Dutch janitor in the latter part of the seventeenth century and the further experimentation of an Italian and a Frenchman to change all this. Leeuwenhoek, a crotchety Dutch janitor, had a stubborn desire to make better microscopes than anyone else. His success led him to the discovery of microbes, though he never fathomed their immense power for good or ill. It remained for Pasteur, practically a contemporary, to demonstrate the tremendous destructive power that lies concealed in the infinitesimal bodies of most bacteria.

HEAT GERM FOE

Many persons are unaware of the huge strides science has taken towards disease prevention since Pasteur's discovery. They are taken for granted, as are the equally revolutionary automobile, telephone and radio. That the battle with harmful bacteria is not yet completely won, however, is indicated by the occasional outbreak of epidemics even today.

Pasteur discovered, among other things., that intense and prolonged heat will kill most bacteria, that gentle heating below the boiling point will do away with many of them. This last process we now know as "pasteurization." Another important finding, amplified and improved upon by other scientists, was the preservative value of low temperatures which discourage the multiplication and often completely inhibit the growth of bacteria of all sorts, including those which cause decay and disease.

Every bottle of milk, every succulent steak, every crisp head of lettuce carries dormant bacteria which, if not kept in low temperature conditions, will make milk, meat and vegetables as unhealthy for us as exposure to cold makes them for the bacteria. The danger has been found to commence when foods are kept at a temperature of over 50 degrees. Laboratory technicians have found that the bacterial content of a sample of milk containing 4,296 bacteria per cubic centimeter, will increase scarcely at all if kept at 40 degrees for 48 hours. When an identical sample was held at 60 degrees for the same length of time, there were 35,011,111 bacteria present!

Concerning the experiment, Dr. Royal S. Copeland, United States Senator and noted health authority, who writes daily for the Pittsburgh Sun-Telegraph, remarked:

"You don't have to be a doctor to realize how dangerous this mess would be if placed in the human stomach."

PROPER TEMPERATURE

Government inspection protects milk until it reaches the door step, but what happens to it then? According to Dr. Copeland, only about half of the people in this country have household refrigeration facilities of any type, and a large percentage of these families fail to maintain temperatures low enough for adequate food preservation.

Bulletin No. 744 of the Department of Agriculture reads:

"Milk must be kept at a low temperature (50 degrees Fahrenheit or below) from the time it is produced until it is consumed, if its quality is to be maintained."

Dr. Copeland says:

Science Declares Proper Refrigeration Essential

The health value of refrigeration is comparatively new. Even during the years when natural ice was utilized as a refrigerant and the "spring house" was the coolest spot on many a farm, spoiled foods were not considered primarily in the light of a health menace.

Famous scientists have definitely proven through long years of experimentation that proper refrigeration is one of the essentials of civilized life. There are present in all food stuffs great numbers of the tiniest plants known to man—bacteria—as well as the spores of yeasts and moulds.

At temperatures of 60 or 70 degrees Fahrenheit these organisms multiply with incredible rapidity. While some are not harmful, most of them produce disease and are enemies of health. Milk is particularly susceptible to the growth of bacteria. The only way to limit or curtail the growth of these insidious organisms is to keep milk and other perishable foods at a temperature constantly below 50 degrees. The electric refrigerator is the modern, effortless, economical and convenient answer to this problem.

Refrigerator Cookies

Half cup butter, 1 cup sugar, 1 egg, 1¾ cups flour, ½ teaspoon vanilla, 2 teaspoons baking powder, ½ teaspoon salt.

Cream butter and sugar together. Add the beaten egg. Add flour, baking powder, salt and vanilla. Shape with the hands into a roll two inches in diameter, adding a little flour if necessary. Place in a covered dish and keep in the refrigerator, using as needed. When ready to bake, cut in thin slices and lay on a lightly greased pan, Bake in a quick oven (425 degrees F.) until a delicate brown (about 5 to 8 minutes). If desired, cookies may be decorated with chocolate shot, chopped or shredded nuts or raisins. Make about 4 dozen.

REFRIGERATOR AIDS BUDGET

Left-overs carefully preserved are money saved. Many a time food purchased for one meal is found to be sufficient for two, if the unused portion can be properly preserved. Weekends are no longer a problem. Whether the family stays in town or goes away, sufficient provisions can be bought on Friday and kept in the electric refrigerator until needed, with no thought of their deteriorating in quality or healthfulness.

Cold cups, enticing fruit cocktails, icts, sherbets, frozen fruits, parfaits and ice cream are all easily prepared in an electric refrigerator.

Quick Frozen Foods Gain in Popularity

Believe It or Not...

...these are some of the many conveniences, mechanical refinements and styling accomplishments of the new 1933 Electric Refrigerators.

... Interior lighting, which automatically turns on and off with the opening and closing of door.

... Sliding shelves that make the most remote sections of the storage space easily accessible.

... Narrow shelves in the door which hold the smaller items of foodstuffs and bottles upright and secure from spilling or breaking as when buried in the more remote regions.

... Slide baskets for fruit and other small articles, or built-in crisping pans and sliding dairy baskets.

... Interiors with rounded corners to facilitate easy cleaning.

... AND many, many other points of merit, but you will find the latest news of Electric Refrigeration progress contained in the individual advertisements of The Pittsburgh Electric Refrigeration Distributors and Retailers in the pages of this supplement.

There are eleven different models in the Westinghouse line of Dual-automatic Refrigerators . . . a model for every purse and purpose. But there is no difference in quality between the highest-priced and the lowest . . . it is merely a matter of size.

The Westinghouse name is never placed on any but a strictly quality product. Westinghouse experimenting is done in the laboratory, not by the purchasing public. There is no "skimping," no sacrifice in materials or workmanship. That's why your Westinghouse will be serving you . . . and saving money for you . . . long after your neighbor's so-called "bargain" refrigerator has been replaced.

Yet Westinghouse quality actually costs only fractionally more than the very cheapest, untried makes. In return, you get a HERMETICALLY-SEALED mechanism, protected from wear, rust, dirt and leakage, forced-draft cooled for greater efficiency. You get the extra safeguard of Dual-automatic control. And you get all-steel construction . . . better insulation . . . faster freezing . . . more conveniences throughout. Compare the Westinghouse with any other . . and you will know your only bargain is the BEST.

Come in . . . let us demonstrate. It may never again be so easy to own the world's finest, most complete and best-designed refrigerator . . . built by men who know electricity and backed by a name the entire world respects.

ELECTRIC REFRIGERATION BOON TO MENUS

Frozen Desserts Aid To Tired Appetites On Warm Days

The heat of a summer's day loses its power to steal away jaded appetites when a glance in the electric refrigerator reveals a delectable frozen dessert. The very sight of its frosty, glistening surface has an invigorating effect. The salivatory glands respond promptly to the promise of cooling fruits and cream in endless combinations.

Have you tried these refrigeration desserts? If you haven't, you must:

Frozen Desserts

VANILLA ICE CREAM—One cup milk, 1 cup cream, ¾ cup sugar, 2 tablespoons flour, 1 cup heavy cream, 1 teaspoon vanilla, pinch of salt.

Scald milk and cream in double boiler. Mix sugar and flour and add gradually to hot milk. Cool until thick, stirring constantly. Cool. Add vanilla and whipped cream. Mix thoroughly. Pour into refrigerator tray or pack in ice and salt to freeze.

CHOCOLATE FROZEN CREAM—Six tablespoons cocoa, 1 tablespoon flour, 1 cup sugar, 1 cup milk, 2 eggs, 1 teaspoon vanilla, ½ cup cream, 1 cup heavy cream.

Heat milk in top of double boiler. Combine sugar, flour, cocoa and beaten egg yolks and beat well. Add to milk and cook until thick. Cool, then fold in stiffly beaten egg whites. Chill, add cream, then fold in heavy cream which has been whipped. Pour into refrigerator trays or pack in ice and salt to freeze.

FROZEN CUSTARD—One pint milk, 4 egg yolks, ½ cup sugar, ⅛ teaspoon salt, 1 teaspoon vanilla, 1 pint whipping cream.

Scald milk. Mix beaten egg yolks, salt and sugar, pour hot milk over mixture. Return to double boiler and cook until it coats the spoon. Cool. Fold in stiffly beaten cream and freeze in tray of refrigerator for 3 hours, or pack in salt and ice.

FRUIT ICE CREAM—1 pint fruit, ½ to 1 cup sugar, 1 pint cream, 1 tablespoon lemon juice.

Crush fruit or press through a sieve, add sugar and lemon juice. Whip cream and fold into fruit mixture. Put in refrigerator tray and freeze for 3 hours.

FRUIT SHERBET—1 pint fruit, pulp or juice, 1 cup sugar, 1 egg white, 2 cups water, juice ½ lemon.

Cook together fruit, water and sugar, strain, add lemon juice and cool. Freeze to a mushy consistency in refrigerator tray. Fold in stiffly beaten egg white, return to refrigerator and freeze for 1½ to 2½ hours longer.

Pour hot syrup over well beaten eggs. Cook slowly in double boiler until mixture thickens; cool and add stiffly whipped cream. Pour into refrigerator tray and freeze 4 hours. Arrange lady fingers like a log cabin. Fill center with parfait. Bend lady fingers over top for roof of cabin.

Put brittle through food chopper. Whip cream, combine mixtures, pour into mold, seal and pack in equal parts of ice and salt for four hours. Or pour into refrigerator tray and freeze for four or five hours.

FROSTED FRUIT—20 marshmallows, ¼ cup pineapple juice, 1¼ cups orange juice, 1 tablespoon lemon juice, 2 tablespoons sugar, 2 egg whites.

Place the marshmallows in the double boiler with the pineapple juice and ¾ cup of the orange juice. Stir while the marshmallows are melting. When they are melted, remove from the fire and add the lemon juice and the remaining ½ cup of orange juice. Turn into a refrigerator tray, place in the freezing unit and chill until the mixture is partly jellied. Then remove and fold in thoroughly the egg whites which have been beaten with the sugar until stiff. Return to the freezing unit and freeze quickly.

ITALIAN PARFAIT—½ cup sugar, 1-3 cup water, 2 egg whites, ⅛ teaspoon salt, 1 cup heavy cream, 1 teaspoon vanilla.

Boil sugar and water until it spins a thread when tried in cold water. Beat egg whites to which salt has been added and add syrup slowly, beating constantly. Stir occasionally as it cools. When almost cold, add flavoring. Fold in whipped cream and pour into refrigerator or pack in ice and salt for four hours. One-fourth cup of fruit puree with lemon juice makes a very good combination with this dessert.

Lemon Sherbet Recipe

One teaspoon gelatin, ½ cup cold water, 1½ cups sugar, 1½ cups boiling water, grated rind 2 oranges, 2 eggs, 1 cup lemon juice, 1½ cups orange juice, 1 pint (2 cups) cream or evaporated milk, ½ cup powdered sugar, few grains salt.

Soak gelatin in cold water for 5 minutes. Dissolve gelatin and 1½ cups sugar in boiling water; add orange rind, lemon juice and orange juice. Place in tray in refrigerator and freeze to a mush. Beat cream (or evaporated milk) until stiff; add ½ cup sugar and salt. Separate yolks from whites of eggs. Beat yolks until thick and lemon colored, and whites until stiff; combine, and add to cream. Freeze, stirring twice during freezing process. Serves eight.

APPETIZERS

FROZEN CRABMEAT COCKTAIL—1 cup flaked crab meat or other seafood, 1 teaspoon gelatine, 2 tablespoons cold water, 4 tablespoons tomato catsup, 1 tablespoon lemon juice, 1 teaspoon Worcestershire sauce, 4 teaspoons French dressing, salt, paprika.

Soak gelatine in cold water and dissolve over hot water. Add catsup, lemon juice, other seasonings, and fish. Turn into freezing trays, or place in paper or silver individual freezing dishes in trays and freeze. Serves four to six.

SHRIMP COCKTAIL WITH ICE CUPS—1½ cups shrimps, ½ cup tomato catsup, ¼ cup lemon juice, ½ cup cooking sherry, ½ teaspoon chopped chives, 6 to 8 drops tobasco sauce.

Freeze ice cubes and when shell of ice has formed pour out remaining water and return to tray until serving time. Clean and prepare shrimp and chill. Blend ingredients for sauce and chill. Just before serving place shrimp in cocktail glasses, place ice cup in center of glass and fill cup with cocktail sauce. Serves four. (Sherry may be omitted.)

GRAPEFRUIT MARLOBET—20 marshmallows, ½ cup grapefruit juice, ¼ cup water, ¾ cup orange juice, 1 tablespoon lemon juice, 2 tablespoons sugar, 2 egg whites, a few grains of salt.

Put grapefruit juice, water and marshmallows over hot water, stirring frequently to dissolve marshmallows. Add the other fruit juices and one tablespoon of sugar. Cool by placing bowl in ice water until it has thickened slightly. Beat egg whites until stiff, add one tablespoon of sugar and a few grains of salt. Fold the egg into the fruit mixture and pour into freezing tray. Set Temperature Selector at "1." Freeze without stirring or freeze until solid for about one inch from the edge of the freezing tray (about one hour). Then beat thoroughly, freeze for about two hours more and serve or reset the Temperature Selector to "3" or "4."

Grape Lemonade

3 cups grape juice, sugar syrup, juice of 3 lemons.

Mix grape juice and lemon juice and add sugar syrup to taste. Chill and serve in tall glasses partially filled with crushed ice cubes.

Freshness Essential In Vegetable, Fruit Foods

Not long ago a young professor of chemistry at the University of Pittsburgh stepped from his laboratory, laid aside his smock and calmly announced:

"We have isolated and identified Vitamin C."

In less than three hours the news spread over the wires of the nation and through undersea cables to the newspapers of every civilized country on the face of the earth.

The quiet announcement came after five long years of patient and intensive experimentation by young Dr. C. C. King and his associates. They accomplished what scientists the world over had long been striving for.

Vitamin C, that hitherto elusive element in oranges, lemons, tomatoes, potatoes and many other fruits and vegetables which makes them nutritious and generally beneficial in warding off the development of scurvy and preventing dangerous reduction of vitality, had at last been definitely identified.

From the discovery of the young Pittsburgh scientist it is reasonable to expect, in the not too distant future, some surprising and even revolutionary developments in the field of dietetics. But for the time being, until the findings of science are reduced to terms of average human understanding, the identification of Vitamin C has its chief value, perhaps, in focusing attention upon the value of fresh fruits and vegetables in the daily diet.

Not only has it been known for some time that lack of fresh fruits and vegetables may, and often does, produce scurvy, but it has been definitely established that such lack is one of the chief causes of dental abnormalities, such as pyorrhea and tooth decay.

Crisp and fresh fruits and vegetables can, and should be included in every day's menu.

MEALS EASILY KEPT ALL DAY

It is a real source of comfort and consolation to the housewife who owns an electric refrigerator to be able to prepare an evening meal in the morning and know it will be safely kept in a fresh condition for dinner.

It is also a matter of increasing comfort to have a perpetual ice supply adequate to the needs of the home, to be able to prepare delectable and palatable desserts for unexpected guests. Electric refrigeration greatly enhances the ability of the hostess.

Frozen Plum Pudding

Two-thirds cup brown sugar, 3 tablespoons flour, 2-3 cup orange juice, 1½ cups plain raisins, Malage or Sultana raisins or currants, ½ rind orange, ½ rind lemon, 1½ teaspoons cinnamon, ½ teaspoon ground cloves, ¼ cup citron, cut very fine, ½ cup English walnuts, chopped fine, ⅓ cup maraschino cherries, quartered, 1 cup sherry wine flavoring, 2 cups plain cake crumbs, or ginger cake, spice cake or graham crackers, 1½ pints cream (half whipping cream preferred), ¾ teaspoon mace.

If desired, Malaga, Sultana raisins or currants may be substituted for plain raisins. Spice cake, ginger cake or graham cracker crumbs can be used in place of the plain sponge cake crumbs.

Mix sugar, flour and raisins, then add orange juice and cook in sauce pan directly over the fire, stirring all the while. The raisins should be soaked in boiling water one hour before using. When the mixture comes to the boiling point, add lemon and orange rind, and cook all together, approximating 15 minutes. Stir constantly to prevent scorching. Remove from fire and add mixed spices and heat again over the fire, just a minute. Remove from fire and add chopped citron, stir all together well and cool.

LUXURIES IN HOMES TODAY

The average home today enjoys greater luxuries of refrigeration than all the potentates of the past with all their slaves could command. Homes in tropical temperatures today enjoy the ice and cold of arctic regions.

Gone are the cooling methods of the caves and country spring houses, the wells with their old oaken buckets.

Gone, too, are the [illegible] of dripping ice-pans, the dread of their running over, the dirt tracked in by the ice-man. In summer the heat of the sun and in winter the heat of the furnace melted the ice with expensive rapidity. No holiday could be enjoyed for fear the ice-pan would run over.

The threat of spoilage alone was a constant menace to her housewifely happiness if the ice-man failed to see the card. Food had to be bought in small expensive quantities. Left-overs could not be depended upon to keep.

Today, at a touch of her finger, in any land or climate, constant low temperature for health and economy are available. Summer or winter, at a moment's notice, she can have delicious ices and frozen creams, fresh, crisp vegetables and salads, cold meats and iced drinks.

Cold luncheons or suppers may be prepared in early morning, ready to serve after an afternoon of bridge, shopping or a matinee. The family may go away for a day or a week, free of refrigeration worries, and return to find an abundant supply of cold drinks, food and refreshments awaiting their return.

The electric refrigerator works constantly, never failing, never resting, never sleeping day nor night, never taking a day nor an evening off, never taking a vacation, serving always silently and efficiently. Protector of the bank account, ally of the budget and quantity buying, reliever of drudgery, aid of the doctor in preserving health, the electric refrigerator is the family friend.

"It's Time America Knew 'What's Inside' An Electric Refrigerator"

W. C. Grunow

"You can't buy a better electric refrigerator than GRUNOW at any price."

THE GRUNOW REFRIGERATOR IS SAFE

Because It Is the Only Household Refrigerator to Use This Amazing Refrigerant

Carrene*

WHY? Because It's Safe

WHEN you buy an electric refrigerator you deserve to know what's inside of it—what freezes the ice, and what keeps the food chamber at a steady, cold temperature. You deserve to know what's inside of it for the protection of your family's health, and for safety.

May we suggest that when you look at electric refrigerators, you make this important test for your own satisfaction: Ask our salesman to let you see the refrigerant, smell it and hold it in your hand. He will gladly accede to your request, and will even open up the mechanism right before your eyes.

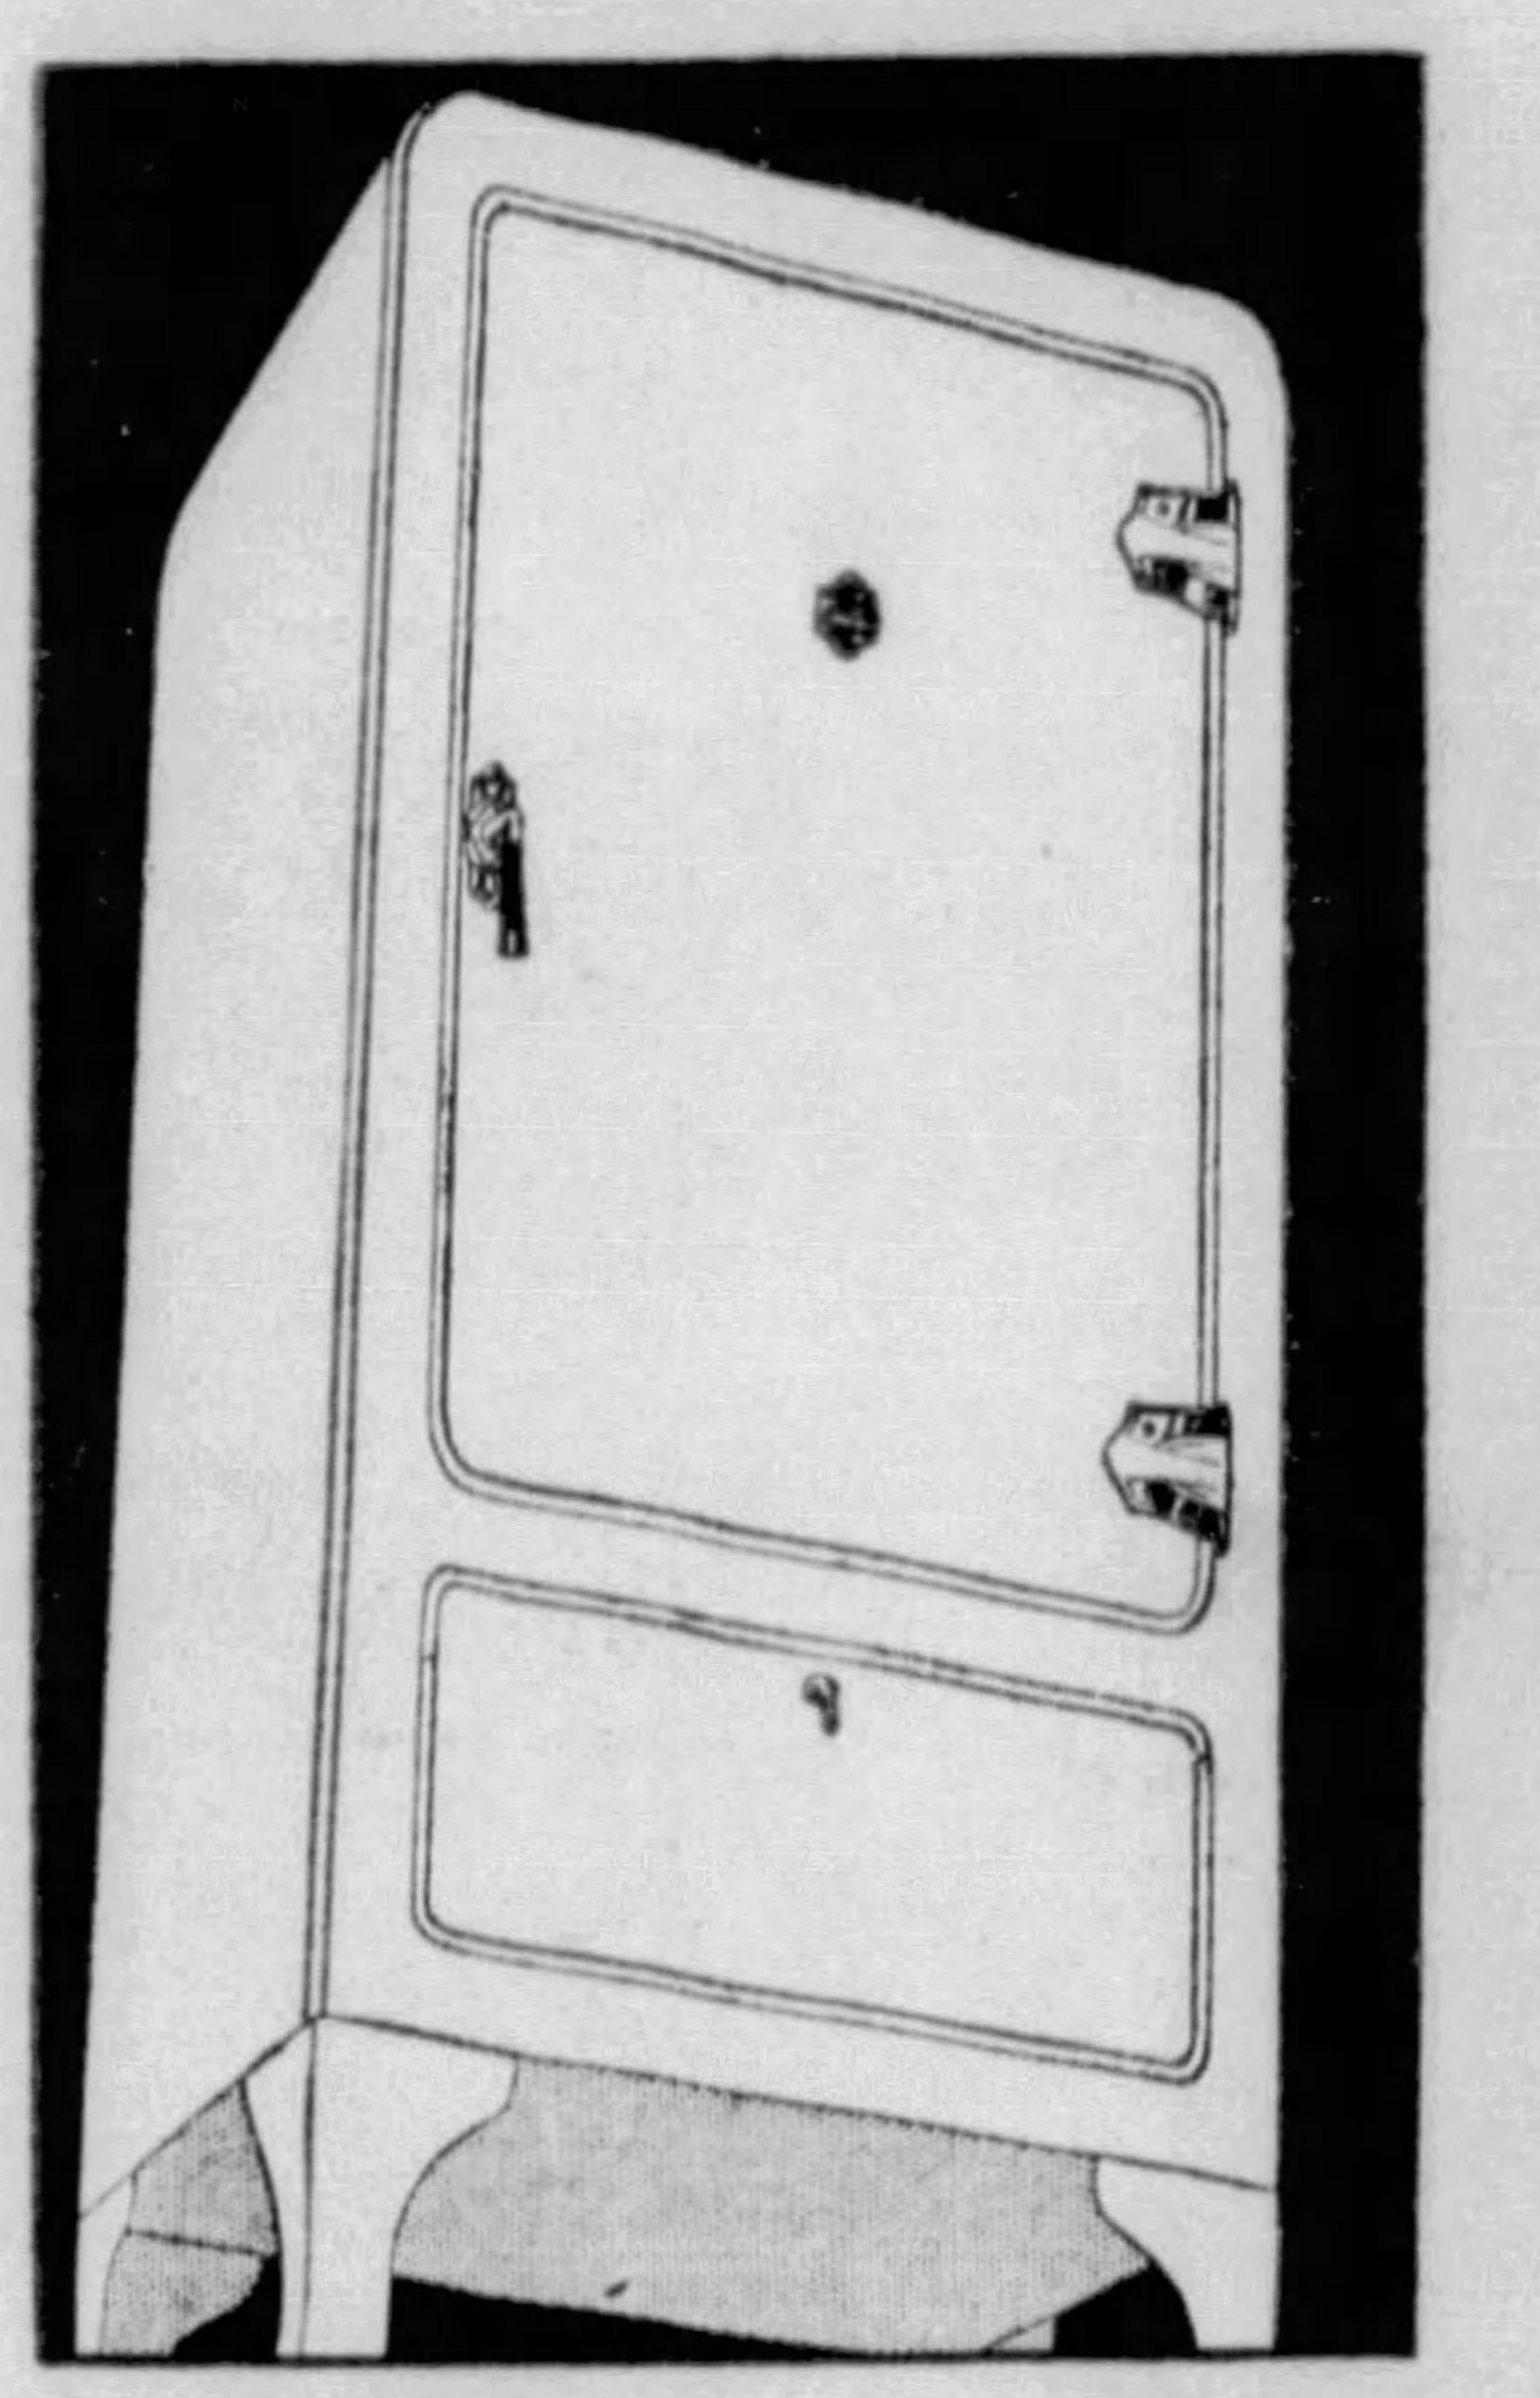
It is an absolute fact that the Grunow is so efficient that during the course of any twenty-four hour period it will not consume as much electric light current as the average light bulb burns in your home.

The Grunow is beautiful, too. Just one look and you realize immediately how different it is—with its flush door, its jewel-type hardware, its pure white Dulux finish, baked on just as fine automobile finishes are baked on under high temperatures.

Something to be proud of—yes! Yet the main thing to remember is the ultra safety of the Grunow. Its new vacuum principle and its refrigerant — Carrene — assure you the final word in safety and satisfaction.

Remember that Carrene, itself, is not new. It has proved its efficiency and safety over a period of ten years in such large commercial installations as the Chicago Stadium, U. S. Capitol at Washington, Paramount Theatre, Radio City, Rockefeller Center, New York; and on many fine passenger ships, where safety to human lives is a positive essential.

It remained for the genius of William C Grunow to adapt this amazing refrigerant to household use. Now, with this done, Grunow dealers offer you a super bargain in beauty, convenience, efficiency—and price as well. Grunow prices are really astonishingly low for such quality.



GLEAMING white one-piece steel—seamless, jointless, and free from dirt-catching ledges and corners inside and out—the new Grunow is made in 5, 6 and 7½ cubic foot sizes. Illustrated is the 7½ cubic foot size that freezes 112 ice cubes—fast. Note the abundant shelf space, concealed ice cube trays, and convenient 9-speed freezing control. 34 outstanding advantages make the new Grunow the most convenient as well as the safest refrigerator you can buy.

*CARRENE is a harmless, colorless liquid—non-explosive, non-poisonous, non-inflammable, non-corrosive — the only refrigerant that remains a liquid, even when exposed to open air in a warm room. Most important, too, Carrene operates at NO PRESSURE. This means safety, simplicity and continuous trouble-free performance.
